Julia Heinrich

Soprano of the Metropolitan, the find of the year in opera, singing in direct comparison with Edison's Re-Creation of her voice, to illustrate that one is identical with the other.

Miss Heinrich is but one of the many great artists who have thus proven that Edison has accomplished his ambition to re-create music so perfectly that his Re-Creations cannot be distinguished from the original.

Hear Edison's Re-Creation of Julia Heinrich's sympathetic voice. Hear Miss Heinrich herself at the Metropolitan, in New York, or when she is on concert tour.

The NEW EDISON

This new instrument embodies a new art, the culmination of Edison's research work in chemistry and acoustics and the expenditure by him of more than two million dollars in experiments alone. The Laboratory formulae and methods are known only to Edison and a few of his trusted assistants. No single assistant knows all of the formulae and methods by which Edison actually

Re-creates all forms of music

CRIMINAL COURT DOCKET IS LIGHT

Only Three Indictments Returned by the Malheur County Grand Jury

The criminal docket at this term of circuit court at Vale is the lightest in several years. The grand jury returned only three indictments and had only 14 witnesses before it, as compared with 33 indictments by the grand jury for the last term of court in January, when there were 75 witnesses called before it. For the last several years the usual number of witnesses summoned to appear before the grand jury here was from 50 to 75. It is thus seen that the expense to the taxpayers of the county for witness fees and jury trials for those charged with crime, will be much less for this term of court than for any one term for several years past.

The improved moral tone is thought to be due in fact to prohibition, which went into effect the first of January. The opinion was expressed that the crooks and others who do criminal acts as a result of imbibing too freely in intoxicants, moved out of the county and state when Oregon went "dry."

The three indictments returned by the grand jury were against Earl G. Love, charged with rape; William Hill, charged with attempt to extort money, Pat Williams, charged with sheep stealing. Love and Hill plead guilty. It is understood that the penalty for the crime committed by Love is 3 to 20 years in state's prison at Salem, and the penalty for Hill is not less than six months nor more than two years in state's prison.

Love plead guilty to having enticed Lillian King of Arcadia, aged about 14 years, from her home Feb. 8, 1916, and took her to Pendleton where they were arrested April 12, 1916, the charge being rape.

William Hill plead guilty to having attempted to extort $300 from George Vanderhoof, a prominent rancher west of Vale.

Pat Williams, the third party indicted by the grand jury, is charged with the larceny of ten sheep belonging to Rambo & Billingsly of Ontario.

The trial of Morris Powell, who is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with attempt to kill Elmer G Moudy, was tried at the January term of court. The jury disagreed. Powell shot Moudy twice, Dec 9, 1915. One bullet entered the left shoulder, the second shot took effect in Moudy's neck. The shooting took place on Powell's ranch in Cow valley near Bonita. Moudy is reported to have fully recovered from the two bullet wounds.

H. Y. Blackwell has brought suit against the Oregon Short Line for $2750 damages. It seems that Blackwell had 10 carloads of cattle in the Juntura stock yards for shipment, and the charge is made that the train crew failed to load the cattle the day they were ready for shipment, but shipped the cattle the next day, 24 hours late. Blackwell charges he was damaged $2750 as a result of the cattle being left in the stock yards 24 hours without food or water.

How About It, Ontario and Payette?

The Huntington News announces with considerable gusto that J. P. O'Brien, general manager of the O. W. R. & N. was in that burg a few days ago completing arrangements for the installation of a new twelve-stall brick round house, a fuel tank to start fires in locomotives and five miles of additional side tracks. The News also asserts that Mr. O'Brien says Huntington will always be a terminal.—Weiser Signal.

The News man has been quite sick for several weeks so his fancies should not be taken seriously.

There are many pleasant truths, but few people manage to connect up with them.

Why Hurley?
Julien A. Hurley, Malheur county's candidate for state senator, is entitled to the solid support of the republicans of this county.

He will not favor any part of the county as against the interests of the rest of the county, and he has the ability and energy to give this county a strong representation in the legislature.

Malheur county has as many voters as Grant and Harney counties combined, and as we have never had a state senator, we are entitled to the office at this time.

Mr. Hurley is in favor of a system of rural credits that will permit the farmers to borrow money from the state, at six per cent interest, on first mortgage security. He also favors state aid for irrigation and drainage, and as he has made a success of the practice of law and has a large acquaintance over the state, there is every reason to believe that he will be able to secure some good legislation for this part of the state.

His slogan is, "Economy in appropriations; fewer and better laws; square deal for Eastern Oregon."

The biggest critic is himself the most logical subject of criticism. Don't be a crit.

The man who skims only the headlines of the war news may yet read every word in the classified advertising, which comes closer to his daily interests.

Just note the fact that we haven't a word about that cuss of a Villa this week.

How Farmers Get Rich

- Implements—That increase the output.
- Implements—That reduce the expense.
- Implements—That make labor light.
- Implements—That swell bank accounts.

There you have it—the secret of how so many farmers amass comfortable fortunes while still comparatively young men. It is by the application of common sense and progressive methods in the working and improving of the farm, in the prompt adoption of every known device for increasing the profits and cutting down the expense. And in no way can this be done so quickly and effectively as by the use of new and improved farm machinery and implements.

The four classes of implement and machinery listed above will produce prompt results. They will pay for themselves many times over, will earn big dividends for the farmer, and will lighten his labor to an amazing extent. This is the experience and verdict of every farmer who uses them.

We sell them at attractive prices.
