I. B. Haseltine, deputy game warden for Baker, Malheur and Grant counties, was here Wednesday getting the game men lined up.

Conductor Cayou has moved his family to Vale. The doctors advised Paul to get his family where they would be absolutely quiet.

Roy Morse, of Gooding, is now the yard man with the Payette Lumber company here. He was employed by them in their yards at Buhl.

Joseph Braun, a stockman of the Roxburg section, was here this week the guest of Mr. Creem. They were former friends in the old country.

There was a special here Tuesday with the railroad officials. They went up on the branch to inspect conditions and look over the new line.

Charles Haines, the Narrows merchant, was here Tuesday badly crippled up with the rheumatism. He went on to Hot Lake to get boiled out.

Eugene McCoy was a delegate to the state meeting of the Knights of Columbus at Portland and they liked his looks so well they elected him state treasurer.

The bridge gang came in Sunday and were taken to the bridge over the Malheur, near Mallett, where they will be for several months building the big steel bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kohout and daughter have returned home to Jordan Valley. Mr. Kohout served on the jury and Mrs. Kohout visited with her sister, Miss Smith.

The Cash Grain company loaded a car of wool last week for Boston, with 167 bags in it. It was coarse wool and valued at about $12,000. It was from the Van Sicklin bands at Brogan.

Mr. Becker, of the bug section of the U. S. department of agriculture, is here to study the bugs and squirrels of this section. The current number of the Popular Mechanics has a series of pictures which he took in Brazil.

Bob Stanfield has been buying more sheep and has several lots in this county. He says the lower ranges are getting dry and the cold weather is holding the snow in the higher hills so that sheep are not doing as they should.

Fred Fisk, of Parma, who is a candidate for the position of state treasurer of Idaho, was here for a short time Wednesday. Fred is going to land the office because the people know him and have every confidence in his ability and integrity.

Jerry Rusk, who is a candidate for the position of the public service commission, was here Tuesday looking over the field. Jerry says it is hard to form any idea of who is going to get the nomination as five of them seem to be in the running.

Ray Rambo is in the hospital with spotted fever.

A pocketbook was lost by Harry Jones between his place and Ontario containing nothing of value to any one else. Its return to this office will be appreciated.

If you don't vote for J. W. McCulloch for public service commissioner you will not vote for your own interest. It is to your interest as a resident of Malheur county to elect McCulloch to the commission.

Henry Wakerlig, of Westfall, was here today after supplies. Mr. Wakerlig was formerly in the sheep business, but when the price went up he sold out and has been waiting for the price to go down before getting back into the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wheeler and Miss Painter, a sister of Mrs. Wheeler, are here from Weiser and have moved into the Sanford house. Mr. Wheeler is the new printer in charge at the Argus office and incidentally we might add he is the best printer ever employed in the city.

There was a freeze here Wednesday morning and a great deal of damage done to the fruit crop. Apparently all the fruit is gone, maybe a few apples escaped. In Mr. Lee's yard in town the potato vines a foot high, were killed, while beans and corn were not injured. It is probable that the same spotted condition will be found elsewhere. The report from the Fruitland bench is that the prunes are hit the worst while the apples suffered also.

Mrs. M. B. Stanton, nee Mrs. Ora Campbell, returned a few days ago from a trip to China, where her husband was employed in the oil fields by the Standard Oil Co.
