PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Mary Emma Pinney, only daughter of Eliza and Horace Aiden Pinney, was born September 11, 1847 at Cornwall, Vermont.

She was one of a family of four, having three brothers, Oscar, Almon and Edward, all of whom are deceased.

January 26, 1870 she was married to DatDer P. Bingham.

In 1872, in company with relatives and friends, the young couple moved to southwestern Minnesota and settled on a homestead fifteen miles west of Lu Verne and just across the state line from Valley Springs, S. D.

Being among the first settlers they braved the hardships and perils of a new country and contributed their share in spirit and work to the building of a new community where a host of friends will speak lovingly of them.

It was here that a son and daughter were born to them, here too they laid to rest her father, mother and two brothers.

Later they moved to Ottertail county, Minnesota, to gain another circle of friends.

In 1911 accompanied by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jenne, they moved to Ontario, Oregon, to join their son and family.

A year later Mr. Bingham passed from this life.

Mrs. Bingham was well known in Ontario, the neighboring towns and surrounding country, making friends everywhere as she carried on the work she refused to give up until overtaken by sickness.

After an illness of six weeks, Mary Emma Bingham died July 3rd, 1916, at the Holy Rosary hospital, Ontario, Oregon, leaving a son, Claude E. Bingham and a daughter, Mrs. Blanche E. Jenne both of that place, and was laid to rest July 5th by the side of her husband.

He said that the greatest enemy that American people confronted was the liquor traffic that doing more to undermine American freedom and make slaves of millions.
