GET READY FOR COWBOYS' RELAY

Local Committee Preparing For Big Feature Event During the Week of the Fair.

A. McWilliams of the committee in charge of the "inside features" at the fair with his associates on the committee is preparing for a special event that should prove one of the hits of the week. It is the Cowboys' Relay.

This race will take place on three of four days, definite announcement to be made later and a special prize, one that will prove worthy of the effort will be hung up for the winners.

The members of the committee are anxious to make this a stellar attraction and have secured the cooperation of interested men all ready, Cowboys who want to take down one of the richest prizes of the week should start getting their horses in shape now, for the field will undoubtedly be fast and the winner will certainly be the "class of all this section."

For complete details of the race inquire of A. McWilliams, Walter Glenn or John Brosnan.

VICTIM OF EXPLOSION GRADUALLY RECOVERING

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rutherford received a letter this week from Mrs. Alice Brown, formerly of this city telling of the condition of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Wymore, who was one of the victims of the dastardly explosion in San Francisco during the preparedness parade.

The many friends of the victim will be glad to know that the surgeons in charge of the case report that she is getting better and that despite the terrible injuries to her leg she will again be able to walk. In her letter Mrs. Brown told gruesome details of the tragedy which had not a few touching features. One of the remarkable things about it was that while Mrs. Wymore had her son in her arms when the explosion took place, he was not hurt in the least. Mrs. Bernard, of Los Angeles, California is here visiting her mother and sisters, Mrs. Hull and daughters. County Surveyor Farmer and Mrs. Farmer were down from Vale on Wednesday.

THIS is the age of preparedness and mobilization—and we are prepared with the best fresh fruits and vegetables that can be secured—and ane our delivery department is mobilized to full war strength and 100 per cent efficiency by the addition of a new motor truck, enabling our customers to receive their orders without the least delay.
