Facts About the Cole's Hot Blast Heaters

The analysis of soft coals shows that they contain, on an average of 44 per cent gas. This large percentage of gas is the best half of the fuel and it is all utilized by Cole's Patented Top Hot Blast, thus producing twice the heat and a guaranteed saving of one-third in fuel over any underdraft stove or leaky imitation hot blast stove which allows this valuable gas to escape unsued up the chimney.

Since the intense heat of the bed of burning coals creates a partial vacuum in the stove, this vacuum sucks oxygen from the outside air down the top hot blast tube and into the stove.

It is the simple action that mixes the necessary oxygen with the coal gas to utilize the gas as heat. It can be easily seen by our customer that any slight leak in the lower part of the stove would ruin this vacuum and thus force the valuable gas up the chimney unburned. Cole's Hot Blast heaters and Air-Tight stoves are world famous for fuel economy and perfect control of heat.
