GREAT ATTRACTIONS PLEASE AUDIENCES AT DREAMLAND

The S. L. O. sign, had there been one at Dreamland on Tuesday could have been used for the crowd which came to see the great eleven reel feature "Civilization" was one of the largest ever seen in Ontario. Many of the audience came from Payette while a host came from Fruitland.

Space prohibits a detailed description of the story told by the master reels. Sufficient it is to say that not one who saw the reel will ever long for a sight of a modern battle. The pictures gave a most graphic idea of the awfulness of the destruction of life and property by the agencies of a feindish science and depicted the terrible depths into which human nature can sink when the was lust is loose.

So many requests have been received from persons outside the city who failed to see the first production that a second performance will be given later. An idea of the impression which the picture created may be judged from the fact that a number of organizations postponed their regular meetings so that their members could attend.

Mt. Vernon Players Saturday.
On Saturday the Mt. Vernon players will present the second number of the lyceum course. These players make up one of the best musical attractions on the lyceum circuit and their appearance in all the cities has brought forth unstinted praise. The program presented by the Mt. Vernon company is a well balanced arrangement of popular and classical numbers aimed to please the most fastidious audience.

Preceding the appearance of the Mt. Vernon company the regular program of pictures including Blanche Sweet in the "Ragamuffin" will be presented.

Lionel Barrymore Sunday.
Sunday's performance will include the presentation of the great Metro production, "The Quilter" in which Lionel Barrymore, one of that great family of actors has the leading role. He is assisted by the magnetic young actress, Marguerite Selvin. The Metro pictures which Manager Durman has recently added to the repertoire of Dreamland have won a place in the hearts of the patrons.

The story of "The Quilters" sets forth how the miners of Paradise Gulch decide that someone must marry to relieve the monotony of the camp, so they make Happy Jack the victim, and make him advertise for a wife, who must be a blonde. Among the many answer one beautiful face glows like a star among the ugly ones—Glad Mason, whose life is being burdened by the obnoxious attentions of her employer, a mining promoter.

Glad goes to Paradise Gulch, but Happy Jack, making over to her his mine and all his belongings, leaves in haste, the boys having told him an old hag has sent the picture.

How "The Quilter" and the girl meet in spite of all handicaps, how his fortunes, completely depleted, are restored in surprising fashion by Glad is told in a story which for atmosphere and swiftness of movement has seldom been matched.

"The Quilter" has a smile and a tear for all.

Two Triangles Monday.
Two Triangle plays with Fatty Arbuckle and Mabel Norman as the stars in "Fatty and Mabel Adrift" and George Wawcutt and Willard Mack in "The Corner" will please the crowd, while on Wednesday Pauline Frederick will appear in "The Spider" in which she plays two distinct and diversely opposite parts.

The Danish Ole Bull
Ex-governor Davidson of Wisconsin gave a reception in honor of Skovgaard who will be at Dreamland next Wednesday evening after his company had entertained over three thousand of Madison's people at two public concerts. The reception at the executive mansion proved to be one of the social events of the season. The governor's house was the home of the great Violinist, Ole Bull, and is consequently one of the "historical houses" of Madison. Much of the interesting history of Ole Bull is connected with this house. At the governor's reception which was attended by about one hundred prominent Wisconsin people, Skovgaard was asked to play on his Stradivarius. Selecting the very spot on which Ole Bull had stood and captivated hundreds of his friends with his wonderful playing, Skovgaard played Ole Bull's masterpiece, Sueterjentens The Chafet Girl's Sunday. It seemed as though the spirit of the old master was present—it was like being back again in the days of Ole Bull. The same house—the same room—and the same melody—the same magic touch—the same exquisite tone—the same imposing personality. But it was Skovgaard, the Danish Ole Bull.

THEFT OF SPURS GETS TAKER A JAIL SENTENCE

Judge G. L. King "threw the book" at Burr Wilson when he appeared before him charged with the theft of a pair of spurs and a bridle belonging to Robert Erickson of Dead Ox flat. Wilson alleged that the spurs and bridle were his that he had purchased a harness at a sale held by Erickson and found the other articles in the sack when he reached his home. He appeared as his own counsel but failed to convince the court so drew a fine of $50 and costs which he is meeting while boarding with Sheriff Ben Brown at Vale. District Attorney W. H. Brooke prosecuted the case.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS AND ADVERTISERS.

During the current year the price of the paper on which the Argus is printed each week has increased over 200 per cent. The price of ink used has increased over 50 per cent, and many of the other materials such as press rollers have shown proportionate rises. There is therefore but one thing for the management of the Argus to do; namely, to increase the price of the paper to the subscriber and the cost of advertising space to the advertiser.

In taking this step the Argus realizes that like nearly every merchant in this field it must absorb a portion of the enhanced cost and therefore the rises given below will be less than the proportionate rise in the cost of producing this paper each week.

LAKES WITH NO OUTLETS.

And Fantastic Mirages That Greet the Desert Traveler.

A playa is a shallow, flat floored depression, characteristic of valleys having no regular drainage to the sea, in which storm waters collect and evaporate. It may be a shallow lake or a salt incrustated mud flat. In his description of the ancient Lake Lahontan, in Nevada, L. C. Russell writes:

"The scenery on the larger playas is peculiar and is usually desolate in the extreme, but is not without its charm. In crossing these wastes the traveler may ride for miles over a perfectly level floor, with an unbroken sky line before him and not an object in sight to cast a shadow on the ocean-like expanse.

"Mirages, which may be seen almost every day on these heated deserts, give strange fanciful forms to the mountains and sometimes transfigure them beyond recognition. A pack train crossing the desert a few miles distant may appear like some strange caravan of grotesque beasts fording a shallow lake, the shores of which advance as one rides away. The monotony of mid-day on the desert is thus broken by elusive forms that are ever changing and suggest a thousand fancies, which divert the attention from the fatigues of the journey.
