AN EXTRA TRADERS' DAY FOR MARCH 17

Extra Long Period between Sales and Growing Quantity of Goods Offered Necessitates Additional Offering.

Saturday March 17 will not only be St. Patrick's Day but it will also be an extra special session of the Ontario Traders' Day. Ontario will celebrate the birth of the patron Saint of Ireland by selling goods.

In announcing the special sale, Messrs. Carter & Clement also announce a revision of the rules which in the experience thus far gained are deemed necessary to the success of the institution. These are the revised rules:

When goods or machinery are listed with a reserve price, an entry fee of twenty five cents will be charged and will be deducted from commission when sold.

An entry fee of fifty cents per head will be charged on all stock and deducted from commission when sold.

Private sales are charged for at same rates as if sold at auction.

All goods sold will be settled for on the first business day following sales day.

"FAIR AND WARMER" COMING TO WEISER

Selwyn & Company will present their newest success, "Fair and Warmer," whose fame has spread all over the country on the strength of its year-long run of unprecedented prosperity at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, at the Wheaton Theatre, Weiser on Wednesday, March 7.

Avery Hopwood, author of this farce classic, is also of "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," and started the "long-run-farce" on the career it has never since abandoned. So Mr. Hopwood is fairly entitled to his rank as America's first master of farce-writing.

Selwyn & Company, "Fair and Warmer's" producers, have established their reputation as pickers of winners, by "Within the Law," "Twin Beds," Margaret Hinton in "The Lie," etc. When they followed this array of success with "Fair and Warmer," the wisecracks said "Trust the Selwyns."

In "Fair and Warmer" Avery Hopwood uses just the idea he knows best how to put through its paces—a satiric and racy humorous complication arising from the fact that two most respectable young persons try to be wicked without knowing how, and end by covering themselves with ignominy, while the pair at whom they aimed their wickedness, as retaliation, went joyously scot free.

"Fair and Warmer" begins in the early evening, stays up all night, and comes to a festive conclusion at noon of the following day, after having disrupted two households, devastated one "game robin," reassorted four people who then repudiate the reassortment, and finally halted blessings and benedictions upon righteous and uprighteous with an impartial hand.

a few feet apart across portions of fields where observations made at night show the rabbits to be feeding. Stock should be excluded.

After snow falls poisoned alfalfa should be distributed ONLY about stock yards or previously baited poison-corrals from which stock are excluded. These corrals should be baited with a small quantity of clean alfalfa hay a few nights previous to poisoning to get the rabbits accustomed to feeding there.

When using the corral method under winter weather conditions the quantity of alfalfa leaves in the above formula may be increased to 14 pounds. In localities where alfalfa is not raised, rye or emmer heads may be substituted.

Poisoned Oats.

Mix one tablespoonful of starch in one half cup of cold water and stir into 1 pint of boiling water to make a thin clear paste. Mix 1 ounce of powdered strychnine with 1 ounce of powdered bicarbonate of soda (baking soda), and stir with the starch to a smooth, creamy mass. Stir in 1 teacup of table salt. Apply to 12 quarts of good clean oats and mix thoroughly to coat each kernel.

Distribute as in directions for use of poisoned alfalfa leaves, using a
