REBUILDING NOME TO FILM "THE SPOILERS"

When Wm. N. Selig, of the Selig Polyscope company, concluded to visualize Rex Beach's great realistic romance of Alaska, he determined to leave nothing undone for giving the greatest impress and fidelity in detail. When the production was begun, the main street in the city of Nome, Alaska, had been ruined by a tidal wave and then eliminated photographs of the old water front and the main street; so the original buildings were completely rebuilt, and the conditions of early Nome that existed along the water of Norton sound were reproduced as a background and a foreground for the exact period in which the play is cast.

The new Spoilers will be shown at the Dreamland Tuesday, May 29.

THE UNIVERSAL INSTRUMENT

Thirty years ago the telephone was a luxury. Today, through personal initiative and private enterprise, it has become a necessity within the reach of everybody. Where once a business had but one telephone with a limited talking range, today that business has service with a range three-quarters of a continent broad, and every branch of every business is linked to every other by an intercommunicating telephone system.

The telephone has earned its responsible place and there are now 8,000,000 Bell telephones in this country, over which go 26,000,000 talks daily.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station.
