OVER RIPENESS OF CROPS WORST HAYMAKING FAULT

Corvallis, Ore., May 21.—The prevailing difficulty with hay makers in most parts of Oregon is the over ripeness of the crop, says Prof. G. R. Hynlop of the O. A. C. Experiment Station.

To make the most of alfalfa it should be cut when the first new shoots bud out from the crown or when it is about one-tenth in bloom. Permitting it to ripen more reduces the number of crops, even tho it increases the volume of the first crop by making it woody and consequently bulky.

Grain hay is best cut in the early dough stage. In some parts of the grain districts it is permitted to reach the hard dough or nearly ripe stage, when it tends to make a combination of grain and straw rather than the palatable and nutritious hay that it makes when cut in the right stage.

The vetch and oats, clover or grain hay crops of Western Oregon are frequently permitted to get over ripe. Clover is ready for hay when one-third of the blooms begin to turn brown, but is frequently nearly ready for seed at the time of cutting for hay. This results in a serious leaf loss and a large amount of coarse, hard unpalatable hay.

Vetch should be cut when the lower pods are half formed. When allowed to mature part of its seed, loss of peaves and more valuable portion of fine parts is caused, and a considerable amount of hard, rather bitter, and unpalatable seed is left in the hay. Some stockmen have experienced serious injury to dairy cattle by feeding vetch hay with a large amount of seed in it. The practice of allowing it to get over ripe is followed because it is then cured somewhat more readily, but with more attention to curing methods earlier cutting will give as big a tonnage and a better quality of Altho th numerous Emmett people expressed regret at the results of the entertainment yet this feeling is far from being felt in Ontario, for in Emmett the play was given in a theater seating four times as many people as attended the show Thursday evening. The total sum realized after all expenses were paid was $174.

A Mean Look

There are people right in this vicinity who seem to always have a mean look and a crabbed, fault-finding disposition. This may be due to a disordered stomach, constipation or a headache resulting from these disorders. When such is the case a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will soon make them cheerful and happy. These tablets have met with much success in the treatment of those ailments.

LOU-TELLEGEN COMING IN THE LONG TRAIL

Lou-Tellegen has the unique distinction of having acted in the dual capacity of director and leading man for Sarah Bernhardt at different times. In fact, Mr. Tellegen's first appearance in this country was on the legitimate stage in support of that famous star, while her first appearance on the American screen occurred when he directed her in the Famous Players production "Queen Elizabeth." After his production of the "Long Trail" Lou-Tellegen will return to directing for the Jesse L. Lasky Play company. The name of his first production has not yet been announced, but his hosts of admirers are looking forward with interest to the event. In the meantime "The Long Trail" is one of the finest Lou-Tellegen has ever done for the Paramount Program, and will be the attraction at the Dreamland theatre this week.

COUNSIN OF ONTARIO WOMAN KILLED IN FRANCE

Word was received this week by Mrs. Ray Wilson of the death of her cousin, Calvin Cronk, who was an aviator with the American forces in France. The letter came from his mother, who lives at Spooner, Wis., and said that he was making a trial flight at a height of 750 feet, when an accident occurred disabling the aeroplane and sending both driver and machine to the ground. The young man was only 19 years old at the time of his death.

NEW BEVO PLANT WORLD'S LARGEST BEVERAGE FACTORY

Conceived and Erected by Anheuser-Busch to Aid in Promotion of Sound Temperance Policy, Based on Education and Moral Development.

The completion of the new $8,000,000 Bevo plant in St. Louis is a notable war-time industrial achievement. The construction of this plant, the largest and most perfectly equipped of its kind in the world, was made necessary by the extraordinary demand for the highly meritorious non-alcoholic beverage perfected under the personal supervision of August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, who succeeded his father, the late Adolphus Busch, as head of the many great Anheuser-Busch industrial institutions.

After years of scientific experiments and original research, Bevo was created for two purposes: as an aid to the promotion of Mr. Busch's plans for a real, sane temperance program in America, based upon education and intelligent moral development; and to supply the public with the highest quality of non-alcoholic beverage that science and skill could produce. Bevo has been a positive aid to the Government in carrying out its military temperance program, for it has become the favorite beverage of the army and navy, and is used extensively on battleships and in cantonments with the approval of the heads of the navy and war departments.

The Busch-Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Co. of St. Louis, of which Mr. Busch is the principal owner and president, has been engaged continuously and exclusively since America entered the war in building engines of the finest and most perfect type for American submarines, airplanes and the United States navy. Mr. Busch takes the position that it is the patriotic duty of American manufacturers to operate their plants for the benefit of the Government during the war, and that private profits should be entirely or largely eliminated.

The historic Grant's Farm, upon which General Grant lived and labored before the outbreak of the Civil War, and where all his children but one were born, is now Mr. Busch's country estate, and is maintained in the highest state of cultivation, not only as a memorial to General Grant, but also for the raising of fine livestock and experimental scientific farming.

Besides being president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, the largest industry of its kind in the world, Mr. Busch is interested in many enterprises, including farming, stockraising, banking, manufacturing and railroading. He is also a member of the executive committee of the St. Louis branch of the National Security League, which is actively engaged in work in connection with the prosecution of the war.

RED CROSS NOTES

From a letter received a few days ago by Mrs. E. M. Greig there is a great demand for dish towels and dish cloths in the cantonments at the present time. The letter follows:

"We have a call for dish towels and dish cloths for use in the cantonments. The allotment for the Ontario Chapter is 260 dish towels and 79 dish cloths.

"For dish towels we use sugar sacks of the 100 lb. size, or flour sacks of the 50 lb. size or larger. These should be hemmed and all holes darned. Dish cloths may be made of sacks of smaller size—containers of ten to fifty pounds. These should be ripped open and not finished in any way.

"All material should be washed clean. No material should be purchased for this allotment and no chapter funds should be used. Please ask the people to bring in their empty sacks for this purpose.

"This call is urgent and must be in before June 15, 1918."

This week is "clearing-up" week in the Red Cross work rooms. All the various left-overs are being finished and packed together in a miscellaneous box and will be sent away the last of the week. After this time the work in the rooms will be limited to the allotment given for that period.

The allotment for the hospital garments consists of only four things; the helpless case bedshirts, the bed-jackets, the pajamas and bed socks. The allotment for the coming month has not been changed, as it still consists of the absorbent irrigation pads.

The auxiliary chapter at Big Bend has sent in for this month, 29 bedshirts, 2 pair knitted socks, 9 pair bed socks, and 10 pair pajamas.

P. J. Gallagher gave a patriotic talk at the Big Bend schoolhouse Sunday night to a very appreciative audience. Mrs. Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Greig accompanied him to the meeting.

Mrs. Ray Wilson and Mrs. E. M. Greig are going to Big Bend Thursday where they will give a short address to the Red Cross workers there.

The Pioneer Auxiliary at Dead Ox has sent in 5 pair of bedsocks, 3 pair knitted socks, 1 sweater, and 11 pair of pajamas on their month's allotment. Fifty pair of pajamas have been received from the Nyssa branch with its Owyhee Auxiliary.

The proceeds from the Grange at Kingman Colony netted $31.75 which will make a neat little addition to their Red Cross treasury.

When it comes to "doing things" Nyssa is certainly among the first, as shown by their Red Cross auction this week.

"On this 21 day of May, 1918, received from the W. C. T. U. of Ontario, Oregon, and made from material furnished and paid for exclusively by the W. C. T. U., the following articles for use of the soldiers and sailors in the present war: 70 handkerchiefs, 48 dish towels, 1 bundle cotton cloths, one bundle linen cloths, 24 arm slings, 27 bed socks.

(Signed) Mrs. E. M. Greig, Secretary of Red Cross Chapter, Ontario, Oregon.

The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. P. Shaw at the Hotel Wilson. The time was spent in finishing up the various pieces of work of former afternoons as a call has been issued from headquarters that all such pieces were to be sent in before more work could be started. Among these were the three cornered bandages which were finished and sent to the Red Cross rooms. Next Tuesday instead of the regular meeting the time will be spent in Red Cross work at the rooms.

Don Platt came down from the interior last week to visit relatives before leaving to join the national army, he being one of the 40 Malheur boys to leave between May 29 and June 2.
