at least before much of a showing can be seen.

Filipino teachers have been brought in from Manila to teach the girls lace making and embroidery and the boys basket weaving, rug making, etc.

A native militia has been formed which is drilled by the marines and to which every boy from 16 to 23 is compelled to belong. They really do quite well and people say that already a change can be seen. Then all the youngsters from five to 16 have to take the regulation setting-up exercises, also under the direction of the marines.

Sanitary inspection is made of all the homes regularly and they are compelled to keep them clean, and now they are going to be forced to enlarge their quarters according to the size of the family, for they are very superstitious and close up their houses at sundown to keep out the ghosts. As the average house is not more than 16 by 12 and the number of occupants varies from two to 20 you can imagine the result.

There are three classes of natives—the "shoe gang," the "dipper gang," and the "barefoot gang." They speak for themselves. Outside of this the women wear a great trailing skirt, very good as street cleaners' an under blouse and a net waist affair. The men wear a pair of trousers and a shirt, the tail more often than not outside.

The houses are most primitive—a flooring elevated on low poles and covered with a palm thatched roof does most of them. A sleeping mat and some large stones for cooking complete the necessary furnishing.

pled articles to the point of need, the policy of almost unlimited production might be justified. But there is a limit, and a very definite limit to resources, both of material and transportation, and so it is not wise but necessary that we put the entire production as rapidly as possible on the basis of our best estimates of the most urgent needs, so that while we care for Red Cross requirements adequately we may at the same time be conserving the country's resources of material and its transportation facilities now so sorely tried.

The Situation Today.
Surgical Dressings—The rate at which surgical dressings have been produced has been constantly increasing and is now at a point higher than our estimates indicate as necessary for some months to come. This rapidly increasing production has strained the capacity of the manufacturers of raw materials to such an extent that there has been serious difficulty in securing sufficient gauze and other materials used in making dressings.

Our department of supplies in working in close co-operation with the government to see that regular quantities of these materials are secured for Red Cross work. All necessary orders have been placed with the manufacturers with every help that can be given the situation by government priorities.

If Chapter will take steps to limit their production of dressings to the exact kind and quantities specifically called for by the division, they may feel assured that the situation is being well cared for. This does not mean, however, that any woman who are willing to work need be idle because of lack of opportunity. There is urgent need for other kinds of Red Cross work, as will be seen by the statement which follows:

Hospital Garments, Refugee Garments, Comfort Kits, Knitted Goods. —For months past, careful studies have been in progress, not only by our commissions abroad but by our departments in this country, working in close cooperation with the Army and Navy to determine the need for these articles. As a result, definite estimates of their requirements between now and autumn are in hand and have served as the basis for the allotments for the work to be done by the chapters. To make the things called for by this estimate will mean that more women than ever before will be required to devote their time to this work. Some of these articles are for our own soldiers and for those who will soon be called to the colors, others are for the hospitals of our allies abroad, both civil and military, while still others are for the unfortunate population in the actual war zone of our allies, where they will serve to alleviate so far as possible the sufferings of old men, of women and of children and at the same time serve as a reminder of this country's interest and sympathy at a time when such evidences of sympathy mean so much to the morale of these sorely stricken countries. This is a war not of the soldier and sailor alone, but of the whole people, and the morale of civilians behind the lines is quickly reflected at the front. If the people falter, the soldiers will not fight so effectively. You will see therefore that what we are doing for the civilians of France, Italy and Belgium is just as truly for the fighting man as if it were done for himself.

The same disciplined efforts which has met the needs of the past year will answer the new demands. The women of the country must expect to respond to sudden change in orders and to accept irregularity in supplies as these are a necessary outcome of war demands and war conditions. It is precisely this ability to respond to the situation, be it what it may, no matter how confusing to previous plans and ideas, that makes the Red Cross a dependable and efficient force for winning the war.

Other Red Cross Activities.
Your Chapter will be asked by this office to produce definite quantities of certain articles. These allotments will be changed from time to time as we receive further estimates of requirements from national headquarters, and you are urged on all accounts to confine your production to these definite allotments and to secure materials through our division supply warehouse.

We are confident that every loyal member of the Red Cross will do the utmost to promote the efficiency of the organization so that we may continue to be the greatest relief agency operating in the war.

Sincerely yours,
C. D. STIMSON,
Division Manager.
