

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Briefly Sketched for Information of Our Readers.

In the state bar examinations that were held at Salem under the direction of the supreme court, only 11 applicants for certificates made their appearance.

Two draft calls for 412 class 1 men to be sent to Fort Stevens, Ore., and Fort McArthur, Cal., have been issued. Extraneous men both calls are to be affected in the five-day period starting October 21.

Apples have begun to roll from Hood River to eastern points in large quantities. Average shipments now are 14 cars per day. The total crop will approach 1200 carloads. To date 160 cars have been sent out.

Not since the Ematilla project was established ten years ago has the interest in alfalfa lands been so great as at the present time. During the last 30 days cash sales have been numerous and prices have been good.

To place plainly before the housewives of Oregon once more the what and why of present food conservation regulations, the state food administration is preparing to conduct a big pledge drive October 23 to November 1.

Clay Ulan, owner of a 40-acre prime orchard near Canyonville, has harvested the record crop of fruit from his plants this year. He secured 16 tons of dried prunes and sold the output at 9 cents a pound, securing $17,500 for his crop.

Oregon's banks deserve the credit for putting the state first in the purchase of treasury certificates. Every bank in the state took some of the certificates of the issue of October 1, and this record was not duplicated in any other commonwealth.

A total of 559 industrial accidents, of which three were fatal, were reported to the state industrial accident commission during the past week. The fatal accidents were: Walter Harvey and O. L. Waters, Portland, shipbuilding; John Coaker, St. Helens, lumbering.

In response to an inquiry from Klamath Falls as to whether persons signing petitions for independent nominations must be electors who are registered without party affiliation, Assistant Attorney-General Van Winkle has advised that this is not required by law.

The salmon fishing season on the Steiaw and Umpqua rivers and on Coos bay is now at its height and many carloads of the fish are shipped from these sections over the Coos bay branch of the Southern Pacific to outside points, most of them being billed to New York.

Carl Crawford, representing the department of commerce, is in Salem to gather state financial statistics which are to be sent to Washington for compilation. Mr. Crawford expects to be there about two weeks, working most of the time in the office of Secretary of State Glavin.

Thomas C. Taylor, a past grand commander of the Knights Templar, dropped dead in the Masonic temple at Bend just prior to the opening of a session of the grand commandery of the state. Mr. Taylor was one of eastern Oregon's best-known men, having lived at Pendleton a number of years.

Twenty-four hundred common laborers are needed immediately by shipyards in and about Portland if machinery are to be allowed to go ahead and the production of ships in this district is not to be seriously crippled, according to an announcement made by the United States employment bureau.

As a forerunner of extensive developments on the Klamath Indian reservation, the United States government Indian irrigation service has applied to State Engineer Lewis for a permit to appropriate sufficient water from Williamson river and its tributaries to irrigate 72,635 acres on the Klamath swamp.

Notwithstanding the embargo on the movement of grain to congested terminals in the northwest market centers, there is a considerable total of demurrage paid to the railroads daily for cars held beyond the allotted time for unloading. At Astoria there are about 300 cars on track waiting to be unloaded.

Public Service Commissioner H. H. Corey has returned from eastern Oregon where he effected an agreement between the East Oregon Logging company and farmers of Wallawa county by which the ranchers will be allowed to transport their wheat to market over the logging road of the former.

The cost will be about 9 cents a hundred pounds. Heretofore, it has been necessary for the farmers to haul their grain by team for distances of from 20 to 40 miles, the cost in many cases amounting to more than 30 cents a hundred. The road extends from Knappton to Flora. There is in the neighborhood of 150,000 bushels of wheat to be taken to market.

BIG HIT SCORED BY CAL STEWART CO.

One of the best if not the best high class Lyceum acts that has ever appeared at the Union Grand Theatre was seen at that popular amusement resort last night, when Cal Stewart and Company opened for a two-night engagement.

To take these artists in their order of appearance last. We doubt if there was anybody in the house last night who would not have recognized Cal Stewart, the "Uncle Jack of the Phonograph" the moment he started his first sentence. Undoubtedly he is without a peer in his creation of country humorist, with a large fund of native wit. He kept his audience grinning every minute of the time when they were not doubling over with uncontrollable laughter. His records have made millions laugh but after hearing his very own self how much more will those same records be enjoyed. His trip to New York and scenes from Pampkin Center were indelible and the memory of them will cause a smile for a long time to come.

It would be difficult to do Gypsy Rosini and her violin justice in cold print. Her violin playing is startling in its originality and her music the catchiest that ever was heard here from a fiddle. And then the wild charm she imparts to her music by her indescribable, unique and entrancing manner makes her stand alone in her own peculiar style of playing. She opened with the "Pact and Passion" overture and her tempo and ad libitum effects in this well known selection were a positive revelation. She followed this with some old-time fiddle music to which she kept time with her whole graceful body in a manner that would have swept the platter of all prizes at the Old Fiddlers' Contest. She responded to the grand applause which followed with the most beautiful legato playing, especially in "The Rosary." Her difficult accompaniments were played by Miss Marjory Stewart, in a manner which proved her to be an accomplished pianist.

Cal Stewart and his company will be at the Dramaland Wednesday Oct. 23. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at the Ontario Pharmacy.
