That Girl in France

What do you know about that French girl that your soldier-boy, back victorious from the war, is going to tell you about? Are her clothes startling? Do the skirts show her hose? Is she the "Frenchy" sort of person you imagine her to be? D. W. Griffith's newest motion picture introduces you Lillian Gish portrays the girl. Her two love affairs don't go quite smoothly. Garlic fumes bathe one of her idols and the other is scarred with a sneer for all mankind. But a war well-won makes a tremendous difference! There are worse things than garlic, and cads can change. Meet that girl your boy knows in France.
