ARMISTICE DAY TO BE NATIONALLY OBSERVED

American Legion Plans Celebration on First Anniversary of Peace—Organization Urges National Improvements to Furnish Labor for Unemployed.

November 11, the first anniversary

ry of the signing of the armistice, will be a day of national observance by the American Legion, the national organization of the American veterans of the great war. According to plans announced at national headquarters of the Legion, state organizations and local posts throughout the country will observe this day as American Legion Day in their own communities by meetings, parades and patriotic demonstrations.

At the same time these local celebrations are held, delegates from state organizations and local posts will meet in the first National Convention of the American Legion at Minneapolis, to effect the permanent organization. The convention meets on November 10, 11, 12. By that time, it is expected that all the men now in the American Expeditionary Forces will have returned to this country so that all ex-service men and women of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will have an opportunity to participate in the activities planned for American Legion Day, either in their own communities or at the national convention.

This will be the first opportunity for a general celebration nationally and locally by the American Legion. Efforts will be made to have at least one million men and women who have worn the uniform of the United States during the war, enrolled as members of the American Legion prior to the November demonstration. A plan will be proposed to the National Convention to set aside November 11th in the future as American Legion Day to commemorate the sacrifice of the American Army and Navy in the Great War.

Urged Public Works

In order to provide employment for discharged service men who are searching for work especially in congested centers of population, Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the Secretary of War, asks the American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the war, to co-operate with his group of officers from the Public Works Section to urge the immediate undertaking of $3,000,000,000 worth of public works pending in this country.

Through Dr. Richard Derby, head of the national re-employment bureau of the Legion, instructions will be issued to state branches and Local Posts throughout the country to communicate at once with Colonel Woods' traveling officers, to make arrangements to canvas public works projects in their sections and to impress upon state and municipal authorities the necessity for undertaking immediately as large a part of these projects as possible.
