PROPERLY PROUD OF HOTEL

Citizens of Alexandria, La., Have Right to Boast of Their Magnificent Caravansary.

Alexandria, La., is known throughout the South as the little town with the big hotel. Strangers always remark the incongruity of the metropolitan edifice apparently fallen by accident into this quiet little place.

It seems that in Alexandria's ante-hotel days, a wealthy man and his small dog were stopping at the town inn. One day the innkeeper and guest had a lively argument over the dog. Its owner replied that he and his dog would not be among those present at the inn in the future and departed proudly, intimating darkly that the innkeeper would be sorry. He then made good his threat by building a hotel such as Alexandria had never dreamed of seeing, and here dog and master took up their residence and gathered to themselves all the transient trade of the town.

Alexandria wears its hotel proudly, a trifle self-consciously. It is the show place of the town and its assertive stone grandeur commands respect and deference. A town that boasts a hotel inclosing marble halls ending in a grand staircase and a Spanish patio adorned with a fountain as an extra attraction must assume an air of dignity in keeping with its importance.

Alexandria's other claim to notice is the fact that only a few years ago the Louisiana legislature conducted a series of spirited arguments as to the removal of the state capital from Baton Rouge to Alexandria. In the end Alexandria lost out and was forced to console itself with the fame it acquired from its big hotel.

EXPLAINS CAUSE OF MYOPIA

Physician Asserts It is Caused by Obstruction of Outflow of Lymph, Due to Muscular Effort.

The assumption that close application is the cause of myopia or nearsightedness is not regarded as a satisfactory explanation. In a recent number of the Lancet the theory is advanced by Dr. Ethridge Green that the primary and essential cause is an obstruction of the outflow of the lymph. The obstruction may be produced by severe muscular effort, such as lifting heavy weights, when a feeling of tension is always experienced in the eyes, which appear, in extreme cases, to be starting from the head. This is more especially the cause of progressive myopia among warehouse men, porters and others whose work involves excessive effort, while with those engaged in sedentary occupations the form of exercise taken may be responsible, as, wrestling, rowing, digging and also coughing. Thus when signs of commencing myopia appear anything likely to increase the intraocular tension should be avoided. There is no need to avoid reading.

Commercial Club News

Now that the Fair is over we can again get down to business and work like trojans for a bigger and better Ontario. During the past few weeks Ontario has received lots of publicity and the general expression of opinion by visitors was of a very gratifying nature. With the Fair out of hand your Commercial club can again take the front and carry to completion some of its objects and ambitions.

Within the next thirty days an effort will be put forth to fix up the club rooms to resemble an up-to-date club. The best is none too good for Ontario, and I take this opportunity of expressing my own and the thanks of the Board of Fair Directors for the hearty support and co-operation accorded the Board by club members and the women of Ontario.

During the past week enquiries relative to our city and district have been received from California, Montana and Wyoming.

A descriptive booklet is in course of preparation setting forth some of our many advantages as a place to locate; if you wish some of these mailed to your friends get in touch with the office immediately.

I again urge that it is very important to have a permanent list of rooms for rent on file. Our city is crowded and I am daily receiving enquiries as to where lodging can be obtained.

MANY PEACH ORCHARDS NEED ATTENTION NOW

Blight and Die-Back Fungus Have Started to Grow—Use of Spray Important.

Summer drouth and early rains are factors which have brought about a critical condition in many peach orchards of the state, points out Prof. H. P. Bams, plant pathologist at the Oregon Agricultural College. In orchards where trees were devitalized by the drouth the blight fungus and the die-back fungus have started to grow.

Orchardists are urged to spray with Bordeaux mixture 4-4-50 just as soon as the crop is off, but every twig and bud must be covered or the protection is not complete. Adding a pound or two of soap, preferably whale oil or fish oil, for every 50 gallons of the spray will make the spray go farther and cover better. Such a spray will be effective for two months. If it gets even as much as half an hour to dry down. Then early in November a spray winter strength—6-6-50—will protect through the winter.

In western Oregon peach orchards degenerate more rapidly than any other kind of orchard if not properly sprayed but if thoroughly sprayed at the right intervals, health, vigor and productiveness are easily maintained where soil and culture are reasonably good.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorders should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.
