

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Judge Dalton Biggs so far recovered from his attack of grip as to be able to go to Vale for work in the Court on Monday.

Mrs. H. H. Tunny, her sister, Miss McGovern, and little Miss Katherine Tunny were victims of the prevailing grip during the week. Mr. Tunny, who was down with the trouble last week recovered in time to care for the rest of the family on Sunday.

P. J. Connelly, of Drewsey, Ore., registered at the Moore Tuesday night. Mr. Connelly is one of the largest sheep owners in Eastern Oregon and frequently comes to Ontario, spending a few days looking after business affairs connected with his big ranch.

Mrs. C. E. Trow left last Thursday evening for Long Beach, California, to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Dunbar, who are spending the winter there.

To relate all the victims of the flu in Ontario this week would require almost as much space as the census roll would take. In this much at least that most of the families would be named with one or more members. Fortunately the epidemic is not virulent and few of the cases report complications, and border more on the character of had colds than the regular flu.

Several members of Judge Dalton Biggs family have suffered from the flu this week.

During such spells of illness it is that Ontario folks get to know just how friendly a town Ontario really is. Members of families who have illness in their homes have been made to realize and appreciate the thoughtfulness of neighbors and friends in a manner that they will never forget. It certainly is well to live in such a town, and to have such friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Staples were flu victims during the week.

H. L. Peterson forgot about the furniture business during the first of the week while he battled with a bad cold. He was able to be up town again today.

Fred Dawson of the Independent Market was not on deck when the new store opened. He was not interested in business while fighting the grip.

Principal S. M. Boucher of the High School could not appear at classes this week. He underwent treatment at the hands of his pal, Professor M. D. Thomas, for the prevailing illness. He is better now.

OREGON CLUB MOTHERS HONORED.

The annual Mothers' night program of the Oregon club will be held tomorrow night and it will be usual be one of the big nights of the club's season.

RURAL HOME DECLARED BASIC SOCIAL FACTOR

Community Life Conference Adopts Resolutions Looking to More Congenial Rural Centers.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 27.—Community life interest is the supreme rural interest, recites the resolutions adopted by the community life conference which met at Farmers' week, O. A. C. Sociability, health, education and moral and religious welfare are named as these interests.

"The rural home with its family life is the basic social institution of the country," says the report. Whatever makes the farm home a more congenial social center—modern conveniences, indoor art, outdoor plantings, music, reading recreations—contributes to the worth of community life.

School church, women's clubs and all social and civil organizations are advised to cooperate in safeguarding the interests of the country child.

Competent medical supervision, a community hospital and a visiting nurse should be the goal of every rural community.

The rural school course should provide for the country child as complete preparation for life, both in subject matter and duration of schooling, as the city school provides for the city child.

"The local newspaper, the farm periodical and the agricultural magazine—pioneers in service to rural community life—should be part of the equipment of every farm home, school and community center, and should be fully enlisted in the campaign for country betterment."

The farm bureau already existing in most rural communities with its agricultural agents, home demonstration agents and juvenile club leaders, can usually be depended on to put improvement plans into effect. Where more than one rural organization is active in this work they should co-operate through a council composed of representatives of all such associations.

Jas. Colley for years a resident of Ontario died Sunday after a long illness. Funeral services were held on Tuesday from McDowell's chapel.

BRIDE AND GROOM HOME

After a honeymoon trip thru California, which took them as far south as Tia Juana, Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Boyer arrived in Ontario Monday. They are staying at the Boyer home for the present.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Herbert Paul, the O.-W. R. & N. yard master, succumbed to an attack of the grip Tuesday.

F. W. Haw returned this week from an extended trip thru the Middle West, during which he visited Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other business centers. While away he visited a brother whom he had not seen in more than 34 years.

W. H. Huff of Cascade, was a visitor Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Troxell. While he was away from Cascade that town was without its plumber, contractor and general utility man.

WORK ON JOHN DAY HIGHWAY BEING RENEWED

on the unit between Fossil and Condon and this summer will see its completion. The appropriation of $13,000,000 for road building by the Oregon legislature at the extra session the fore part of this month, places the state next to California in good road movement in the entire Pacific Northwest. Just when the vast network of projects will be completed is a matter of conjecture, but the opinion seems to prevail that the Columbia Highway will be finished first, the Pacific Highway next and the John Day third. And it should be borne in mind that at Ontario that portion of the Columbia Highway, known as the "Old Oregon Trail," from Pendleton to this point, the John Day Highway and the Central Oregon Highway meet.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEN HEAR MANY SPEAKERS

per cent efficient. Mr. Cook also said that part of his mission to Ontario at this time is to interest the citizens in the purchase of the preferred stock of the Idaho Power company.

Before the evening was over the men present were given interesting figures on the fighting problem by Mr. Deo and on the general economic condition of the country by Mr. Cook. Mr. Cook made particular reference to the absence of thrift on the part of the people of the United States and urged that the business men lend their influence to the stopping of fake stock sales which annually take a heavy toll among the people.
