

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan E. Arnold and Mr. Arnold's mother, Mrs. H. E. Stout, who have lived in Idaho Falls for some time past, arrived in Ontario last week for a short visit, while enroute to the Willamette Valley, where they expect to make their home.

Dave Powers made the trip across the burning sands of the Shrine at Burley.

Mrs. C. M. Lawrence of Oakland, California, accompanied by her two children, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Taylor this week. Mrs. Lawrence is an old friend of Mr. Taylor, having lived near them in Idaho Falls, to which city she is enroute on this trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Platt of Parma came to Ontario Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. T. T. Kobout.

SALVATION ARMY TO HAVE ADVISORS HERE

Malheur County to Be Represented by Activities of Well Known Organization—Needs of Individuals to Be Investigated

To what extent and in what manner the Salvation Army may most effectively exert its constructive social efforts in Malheur county will be determined by the county advisory board of the Army, organized Saturday night, February 21st, at a meeting held in the Commercial Club rooms of this city. The board, which is composed of some of the representative citizens, will be increased later by adding members from other sections of the county, thoroughly discussed the advantages of the step before organizing and came to the conclusion that the 1920 "Home Service Program" of the Salvation Army, as explained to them by Mr. Beaumont, an Army field representative, offers a valuable opportunity for Malheur county to avail itself of the social service facilities of the great Salvation Army organization.

Hereafter the advisory board, which is headed by J. W. McCulloch, will constitute the directing force governing the Army's work in this county. Its members in addition to Mr. McCulloch, the chairman are Mrs. E. M. Greig, secretary; Dr. H. H. Whitney, R. W. Jones, Harry B. Cockrum, F. L. Body, Judge E. J. Test and Geo. K. Alken.

The board members will first make a study of social conditions in the county, paying special attention to certain phases with which the Salvation Army is particularly well equipped to deal. These include poverty, with particular reference to the old and infirm, the unemployed, with reference especially to dependent cases, juvenile delinquency and its contributory causes and illegitimacy, including the number of illegitimate births and the disposition of mother and child. The result will be embodied in a confidential report to the state headquarters of the Army, to be used solely by them in appraising the conditions here and determining how the Army should move to remedy it or whether any action is advisable.

Similar boards are to be formed in every county in Oregon, and will similarly review their fields and report, thus giving the state officials of the Army a comprehensive view of the entire Oregon situation. They will thus be in a position to locate accurately the state "sore spots" and concentrate their efforts, if necessary, at a particular point or points. In addition the board will keep in touch with the situation here and opportunities for the Army can be brought to its attention or it can offer help whenever an emergency arises. The Army's numerous institutions in this and adjoining states, such as rescue homes, industrial homes, girls' boarding houses, employment bureaus and orphanages, can be placed directly at the service of the people of this county, or experienced Army workers may be sent here or even a new Army Corps established here.

There is no suspicion that conditions in Malheur county will be found worse than in any other county of similar population or location, but it is expected that the study will reveal the manner and places in which the Salvation Army may make its work more efficient. Mr. Beaumont emphasized the point that care was to be taken to see that the Army did not duplicate any work now being done by similar agencies, but he declared his belief that it has always covered a field not reached by any other organization.

Formation of a strong board here, it was felt, would give double assurance against any duplication of effort.
