JUNTURA PASTOR RESIGNS CHARGE AFTER FOUR YEARS

Dramatic Club to Present Play Followed by Dance and Supper—Under Auspices of Altar Society—Juntura News Notes.

(Special to The Argus)

JUNTURA, ORE, March 8—The Rev. Sherman L. Clark, pastor of the Juntura Presbyterian Church preached his farewell sermon on Sunday, March 7. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have been with us four and a half years in charge of this field which also includes Drewsey and surroundings, and they leave many warm friends to miss them. Mr. and Mrs. Clark leave Tuesday for Portland, expecting to make the trip overland in their car. They will remain in Portland for a time before going to a new home where they will be followed by the good wishes of the whole community.

Mr. Clark's successor has not been chosen as yet, which leaves this field without a pastor, though the Juntura Sunday School will continue under the direction of Mr. David Graham.

On Friday the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. David Graham in farewell session in honor of Mrs. Clark. A number of Mrs. Clark's friends outside the membership of this organization were also present, so the gathering was purely social with music as the chief feature of the entertainment. Just before the guests were seated at the table, the guest of honor was presented with two beautiful pieces of cut glass as tokens of esteem from her co-workers and friends. Among those present were Mrs. S. L. Clark, Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. Fred Curry, Mrs. Roy Curry, Mrs. Joe Carter, Mrs. Carl Kuhne, Mrs. H. W. Welcome, Mrs. L. P. Delsale, Mrs. Daniel Gallagher, Miss Josephine Kauphusman, Mrs.

Gus Friesz, Mrs. Verner Hopkins, Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. C. H. Wetterstrom, Mrs. W. E. Hedges, and Mrs. David Graham.

On March 17, a play, "Adventures of a College Bride" will be given by the Juntura Dramatic Club under the auspices of the Ladies' Altar Society of St. Patrick's church. Home talent plays have always been popular here and this one promises to be as amusing and as successful as any play that has been given. Among the numbers introduced between acts will be a piano duet by Josephine Kauphusman and Harry Churchill, vocal solos by Mrs. David Graham, Mrs. Gus Friesz, Theodore Breck, Jr., Fred Kauphusman and chorus numbers.

Following the play will be a dance the music to be furnished by the Juntura Jazz Orchestra, with supper served at midnight. The cast and synopsis are as follows:

Roderick York, a jealous husband, Theodore Breck, Jr.; Bartholomew Jeremiah Farebrother, a detective, Harry Churchill; Fred Hall, cousin to Mrs. Roderick York, Fred Kauphusman; Mrs. Roderick York, the college bride, Josephine Kauphusman; Ethel Winn, a college chum of the bride, Lila Wetterstrom; Madame York, mother of Roderick, Mrs. John McGetrick; Peace York, elderly sister of Roderick, Marjory Khune; Miss Delaney Jones, a deaf friend of the family, Helen Gallagher; Tiddie McComick, ward of Miss Delaney Jones, Crissie Graham.

RANCHERS ARE LUCKY SAYS SAGE OF HARNEY

William Hanley, Back From "Everywhere," Voices Philosophic Observations—Other Folks Have Their Troubles—Says Wilson Won't Run.

William Hanley, or Bill Hanley, the sage of Harney county, is on his way back to Burns "from everywhere." He stopped off in Ontario Monday and visited with a number of local friends and gave vent to a number of characteristic observations.

"Yes, I am going in," said Mr. Hanley to The Argus. "I have been everywhere, back in New York, Washington and other places where they just talk.

"That is what we are having now—a talking season. There is a lot more of it due, too, but it is just talk.

"You don't know what trouble is 'till you get away from home. Say, the troubles that the folks have back East with the high cost of living and all, makes life out here look mighty good.

"Our Western ranchers can kiss themselves and congratulate themselves they are a lot better off than most folks back there. The best way a western rancher can get rid of his idea of his own troubles is to get out and see the troubles that the other fellow has. That helps a lot, to see things in a different light."

"What about politics," asked one of the company to which Mr. Hanley was talking.

"Well, Wilson won't run again, that is certain. He is thru physically. I don't know about the other candidates, but Wilson won't be one of them.

"What about Oregon's United States senatorship?" asked another.

"Well, now," said Mr. Hanley, "I don't want to talk about little politics—but, by the way, men," he added, "we have got to have the league of nations in some form. We have to help those starving people in Europe, for we need them to take care of the excess crops we grow here, that is all there is to it. We need them, and they need us."

With a smile and a greeting to other friends who hailed him, Mr. Hanley turned to other subjects.
