BOOKS BRING AID TO SOLDIER SICK

American Library Association Serves Ten Thousand Men in Nation's Hospitals.

EFFORTS BRING RESULTS.

Works on Vocational Training Circulated Among Men Who Must Take Up New Callings Because of Their Injuries.

Hospital library service maintained by the American Library Association during the war was credited with great value in aiding in the recovery of many sick and disabled men.

There are still in our hospitals more than 10,000 former service men. Of these nearly 8,000 are in Public Health Service hospitals, the remainder in civilian hospitals. Books, magazines and newspapers are sent to these men from the American Library Association. In the larger hospitals, containing over 200 patients, special librarians are placed. To the smaller hospitals, through the co-operation of many public libraries, library visitors are sent to visit the wards once or twice a week and learn the book needs of the patients.

A special effort is made to supply to ex-service men in hospitals the books in demand as a result of the training given by the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

More Books for Blind.

The A. L. A., in co-operation with other agencies already interested in work for the blind, is printing books in the new Braille type. Because of the newness of the revised Braille adopted for teaching to the American war blind, literature printed in it is limited to fewer than 200 books. Though the total number of blinded soldiers is small, their need of books is great, and the "magic of print" can do much to restore hope and usefulness to them.

Not only for former service men who are sick or disabled is the association working. The value of books proved so great to men in camps that efforts are still being made to connect discharged soldiers and sailors with libraries wherever they may be. Hundreds of letters have reached A. L. A. headquarters from former service men telling of the lack of library facilities in particular localities to which those men have returned.

Direct Service Provided.

In many cases there is a state library commission or a nearby library to which a man can be referred for the books he needs, but if there is no such organization through which he can be served, books for almost any serious purpose may be borrowed directly from the A. L. A. War Service, 24 West Thirty-ninth street, New York city. The only expense in connection with these loans is prepayment of return postage on books borrowed.

The A. L. A. has published lists of books to help ex-service men, who are studying to advance themselves in their work. "Five Hundred Business Books," "One Thousand Technical Books" and reading courses on practical subjects are now in preparation.

Other Work Being Done.

Other branches of work which the A. L. A. War Service is carrying on include service to the Merchant Marine, Coast Guard and lighthouses, service to industrial communities which are resultant from the war, service to United States forces overseas. This work is carried on with money received from the United War Work funds, the use of which is limited by the conditions of the gift to these specific purposes.

The service of the Merchant Marine department provides free library service to seamen on American merchant ships in the form of "crews' libraries," bookcase boxes, each containing about 50 books. These libraries are exchangeable at principal ports. Books and magazines are sent also to men in coast guard stations, in lighthouses and on lightships.

WHY IS CHIROPRACTIC THE SAFEST METHOD FOR THE PATIENT

(From Physical Culture for May 1920)

Chiropractic is safest because it is Chiropractor knows exactly what he is doing and why he is doing it and cannot injure the patient. The correctness of the principle of Chiropractic safeguards the patient.

Again, there is nothing inherently dangerous in a Chiropractic adjustment. The news columns are full of accounts of death resulting from mistaking the label on a bottle, or taking an overdose of a dangerous drug. Chiropractors use no drugs and such mistakes could not occur. Many a man, through quite a pardonable error in diagnosis (no infallible diagnostician ever lived) has had the wrong organ removed by an operation. No Chiropractor ever removes an organ under any circumstances.

Stimulation of an over-stimulated organ is dangerous. The Chiropractor is safeguarded against this by the fact that an adjustment is always followed by the normal function of the nerves. Nature never makes a mistake.

Finally and most important of all

Chiropractic is safest for the patient whose disease is dangerous because it offers the surest chance of recovery. To select the wrong method and waste precious time in finding out the mistake has sometimes permitted disease to make such inroads on health that the case passes beyond hope of recovery before the necessary spinal adjustment has been made.

Since Chiropractic is the safe way, why not use "Safety First?"
