TOO MUCH MONEY

Sometimes we wonder if it is good for the American people to have so much money. Of course the natural instinct of a man is to accumulate as much money as possible, and money is a decided necessity these days. But it is possible to have too much of a good thing. The war has made America fabulously rich, the envy of all the nations. Men who in 1914 were well off. Others who had a modest sum six years ago are now rolling in wealth. The result? You see it every day.

In the cities it is more apparent than in the country towns. In the big cities no manufacturer will produce, no middle man will distribute, and no merchant will sell an article at a reasonable profit. All seem to want to get rich quick.

Employees demand prohibitive wages, work about as they please, and in many cases are becoming about as inefficient as could be imagined. Instead of the employer being the master of his own business, his hired help practically tell him where he gets off.

The war produced the profiteer, and for the sake of easy money he refuses to loosen his grip upon the country.

Buildings are thrown together in slipshod manner and inferior materials are used, all for the sake of cutting expenses and increasing profits to abnormal.

In the manufacturing world it is the same. Quality is sacrificed for profits, or where quality does prevail the price becomes almost prohibitive.

Of course there are some exceptions to this rule, but the exceptions are few and difficult to find.

The ease with which money has been accumulated during the past six years has produced this state of affairs. It is not conducive to the future welfare of our country.

But we have faith in America and in American people.

We are in the temporary grip of a hysterical mania for the rapid accumulation of wealth, but we believe that this mania will pass away in time and permit a return to the sane and rational methods which prevailed prior to the outbreak of the war. But it will require time and we must employ infinite patience in bringing it about.

Americans are too sensible to travel far on the road that leads to destruction. Even the lure of unlimited gold cannot deprive them entirely of their common sense.

MORE WORK THAN PAY

Congress should come to the relief of the postmasters and the postal employees of the country. The pay is so small and the cost of living is so high that experienced men are resigning at an alarming rate in this branch of public service. It is crippling the mails and retarding business to a serious extent, and creating a state of public uneasiness over the country.

Congress appoints committees to investigate and the committees consume much time in palavering, and that is about as far as they go. The postal employees continue to exist on small pay, or quit and the service becomes more crippled through the employment of new and inexperienced help.

We have no fault to find with the postal service itself. We believe it is doing all that it can do under seriously handicapping conditions. We do not believe that any business enterprise could long continue to exist under these same conditions.

The laborer is worthy of his hire the world over, and so long as employees in the marts of trade are receiving high wages to meet the advanced cost of living, the man who handles the mail of this great country should receive equal consideration.

Merchants do not make him a discount when he buys his food and clothing from them. Why should the government expect him to discount the value of his services?

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY REPUBLICANS

The Most Important Plank Is That Relating to League of Nations.

The most important plank in the platform adopted by the national republican convention at Chicago was the one relating to the League of Nations. As finally agreed upon in the resolutions committee and accepted by the convention, it harmonizes the views of the conflicting elements, some of which had threatened to bolt the party.

The important planks summarized are as follows:

Republican party reaffirms its unyielding devotion to the constitution of the United States.

Declares democratic administration unprepared for war and equally unprepared for peace, and the demonstrated incapacity of the democratic party has destroyed public confidence and weakened the authority of government.

Republican party will undertake to end executive autocracy and restore to the people their constitutional government.

The farmer is recognized as the backbone of the nation and party believes that his condition can be improved by adequate farm representation in the appointment of government officials.

Declares the federal farm loan law should be so administered as to facilitate the acquisition of farm land.

Recognizes the justice of collective bargaining as a means of establishing more harmony.

The right to strike against the government denied, but the rights and interests of all government employees must be safeguarded by impartial laws.

Compulsory arbitration in private industry not advocated, but facilities for voluntary mediation favored.

Condemns the republican congress on the enactment of a law providing for an executive budget, and condemns the veto of the president.

President Wilson's Mexican policy condemned. We should not recognize any Mexican government unless it be a responsible government willing and able to give sufficient guarantees that the lives and rights of American citizens are respected and protected.

Favors liberal appropriations in co-operation with the states for the construction of highways.

Opposed to government ownership and operation or employe operation of the railroads.

Holds in imperishable remembrance the valor and the patriotism of the soldiers and sailors of America who fought in the great war and pledges to discharge to the fullest the obligations of a grateful nation.

Republican party pledges itself to earnest and consistent attack on living costs by rigorous avoidance of further inflation of currency and promotion of production.

Party reaffirms its belief in protective principle and pledges itself to revision of the tariff as soon as conditions make it necessary.

Existing policy of United States for practical exclusion of Asiatic immigrants is sound and should be maintained.

Right of free speech, free press and free assembly must be maintained, but advocacy of overthrow of government must not be permitted.

Immediate resumption of trade relations with nations with which United States is at peace demanded.

Republicans welcome women into full participation in activities of party and of government.

Equal pay for equal service should rule in all branches of government in which women are employed.

Republican party will oppose now and hereafter the acceptance of a mandate for any country in Europe or Asia.

The plank on the league of nations says:

"(A) League of Nations—Foreign policy of administration has been founded upon no principle and directed by no definite conceptions of our nation's rights and obligations. It has been humiliating to America and irritating to other nations, with the result that, after a period of unexampled sacrifice, our motives are suspected, our moral influence impaired and our government stands discredited and friendless among the nations of the world.

"We favor a liberal and generous foreign policy, founded upon definite moral and political principles, characterized by a clear understanding of and firm adherence upon our own rights and unfailing respect for the rights of others. We should afford full and adequate protection in the life, liberty and property and all international rights of every American citizen and should require a proper respect for the American flag, but we should be equally careful to manifest a just regard for the rights of other nations. A scrupulous observance of our international engagements when lawfully assumed is essential to our own honor and self-respect and the respect of other nations. Subject to a new regard for our international obligations, we should leave our country free to develop its civilization along the lines most conducive to the happiness and welfare of the people, and to cast its influence on the side of justice and right should occasion require.

"The republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon international justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war. We believe that all of this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States in advance of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair, when the occasion arises and without involving them as participants and not as penmen in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge."

3 Million Dollars but--- It bought MUSIC

No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas A. Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph,—an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."

Mr. Edison's experiments exhausted the entire field of research in sound reproduction. He built and rebuilt until his final perfected model cost him Three Million Dollars.

And the result?

Ask some one who attended the Marie Morissey recital Friday evening, May 14. There was the public proof. Miss Morissey sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living voice from its RE-CREATION.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph With A Soul"

If you love music, you will agree with Friday, May 14th enthusiastic audience:—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent.

The soul of music is cheap at any price. Yet it is now brought within reach of your pocketbook. The instrument used in Friday, May 14th conclusive test is a duplicate of Mr. Edison's Three Million Dollar Model. It sells for $295 [in Canada $431.]
