MANY GENERALS ARE GIVEN LOWER RANK

Washington.—Under a war department order, twenty-three officers holding the emergency rank of major general are reduced to brigadiers or colonels and sixteen officers now brigadier general are reduced to ranks ranking from major to colonel.

Prominent in the list of major generalia reduced are Clarence H. Edwards, who commanded the New England national guard division overseas, and who is now commander of the Northeastern department at Boston, and Henry T. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany, who revert to their rank of brigadiers.

Others reduced to brigadiers are Major General Omar Bundy, who commanded a fighting division in France, and who is now in charge of Camp Lee, Va.; Charles T. Monohr, director of the air service; William S. Graves, who commanded the American forces in Siberia; William M. Wright, acting chief of staff in the absence of General March in Europe, and Samuel D. Sturgis, commanding at Camp Sherman, O.

HOME ECONOMY IS URGED

More Labor-Saving Devices for Women Advocated.

Washington.—Modernization of farm homes and general usage of labor-saving devices as a means to prevent wastage of woman power are urged in a report made public by the department of agriculture, agents of which recently conducted a survey of farm homes.

A reasonable amount of planning and well-directed investment in modern farm home equipment, the report asserts, would prevent a large part of the present wastage of energy on the part of the nation's rural home makers.

Londonderry Streets Swept by Bullets

London.—Civil war conditions prevail in Londonderry and the authorities are powerless, it is declared in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Londonderry. Several additional persons were killed in Monday morning's rioting there, according to this message. The firing is being maintained with desperate intensity. Business is suspended and the postmen are declining to deliver mail. When the troops stop the fighting in one zone, the dispatch adds, firing breaks out in another.

New Leader of Marines.

Washington.—Appointment of Major General John A. Lejeune as major general commandant of the marine corps, to succeed Major General George Barnett, was announced by Secretary Daniels. General Lejeune commanded the famous second division when it broke the German line in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Oregon Restores Capital Punishment.

Salem.—Capital punishment was restored in Oregon by official proclamation by Governor Olcott, immediately upon completion of the official canvass by Secretary of State Koser of the vote cast in the special election of May 21.

Alleged Profiteers Arrested.

New York.—Frederick Gimbel, first vice-president; C. D. Slawter, merchandise manager, and J. J. Dowdell, buyer of Gimbel Brothers, were arrested by agents of the department of justice on a warrant charging them with profiteering in violation of the Lever act. Department of justice agents declare they have 185 counts for profiteering against the firm. The warrant charged that Gimbel Bros. offered for sale a suit of clothes for $20 which cost them $5.50, and another suit for $75 for which they paid $32.

Victory Medals to be Sent Out.

Washington.—Distribution of 4,765,000 Victory medals to members of the army, navy and marine corps who were in service between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918 will begin Monday.

There's a world of contrast in some families. The old man laboriously works himself from the bottom to the top through years of toil, and his sons start at the top and toboggan to the bottom with a whoop.

Hiding their lights under a bushel is a favorite occupation with some people. But it's rough on the bushel.

There are times, however, when the more we learn the less we desire to know.

No, do not bring us a spud on subscription. It might strain our bank account to make change.
