World's Debt to Lafayette.
It is the spirit of Lafayette that has made strong and lasting the friendship of France and America. And it was the spirit of Lafayette that inspired the American fighters who on the soil of France risked all and gave all to make certain the freedom of the world. In victory it is well to remember Lafayette's natal day and to give a thought to the debt which all the world owes to this man whose brain knew no unworthy thought and whose life recorded no unrightly deed.

WHAT WE DO NOW MAKES OREGON OF TOMORROW

Commerce in a position to organize Oregon for progress. It is to be enlarged and strengthened, increased in man power and money power.

More than 200 Oregon bankers, industrial heads, merchants and other leaders have examined the proposed plans and approved them.

Working Together, our minds and money can do anything in reason for Oregon; Working individually—what?

Program of Activities
The Board of Directors of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce submits the following tentative program of activities for the next three years, to be covered by a budget of $450,000. ($150,000 a year.)

Agriculture and Horticulture: Marketing; Land Settlement; Farm Labor; Rural Relations; Immigration and Colonization.

Roads: Market Roads; National Forest Roads; National Post Roads; Roosevelt Highway, State and County Highways; Government Appropriation

Reclamation: Concerted effort to obtain from Government $6,500,000 morally due to Oregon; Co-operation with irrigation and drainage districts

Railroad Extension
Advertising and Publicity: National advertising of agricultural opportunities and scenic resources; News Letters; Circulation; Exhibits.

Industrial expansion: To develop industries we now have; To utilize raw materials and natural resources; Co-operate with local communities to induce new industries to locate in Oregon

Lumber: Co-operation with lumber industry in all matters
Co-operation with educational authorities: Inspire in youth of Oregon love for state and an appreciation of its opportunities

Legislation: Aggressively work for legislation fostering agriculture, industry and development of natural resources; oppose legislation detrimental to best interests of Oregon

Foreign Trade
Consideration of cut-over problems
Water power
Oregon harbors. Work for Government appropriation equal to tax that would be paid if owned privately

Tourist Travel: Foster tourist hotels construction; Improvement of highways leading to Crater Lake, Josephine Caves and other scenic wonders; Attract tourists

Co-operation with local chambers of commerce and county organizations

Gathering and disseminating accurate information about Oregon
Organization of western states for mutual benefit field Representatives: To keep in touch with local needs and assist in carrying out this program

Administration: Salaries; Equipment; Supplies; Printing and Postage; Rent, Light, Heat and Janitor; Travel; Telephone and Telegraph.

What Other States Spend
The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce needs $150,000 annually for three years to carry out the diverse program of activities printed elsewhere in this Scale of Civic Pride. Is this amount excessive considering the state-wide work to be done? Let us compare it with budgets raised elsewhere for only one item of the State Chamber's program—publicity:

San Francisco raised $250,000 a year for publicity. It did this because it was the deliberate judgment of its citizens that such an investment would pay big dividends. In 1919 San Francisco had 150,000 visitors who left $11,600,000 of new money in the city. Experience pointed to the new and very much larger budget of a quarter of a million dollars annually to advertise the city.

Florida spends vast sums annually to get tourists. Does it pay? Let's see what W. A. McRea, State Commissioner of Agriculture, says about it. "The aggregate amount spent by all tourists in Florida will reach $300,000,000 per season," he says.

Across the continent—in Maine—250,000 tourists left $50,000,000 of new money in the state last year.

Denver spends $40,000 a year on publicity. It received $20,000,000 in return from tourists last year.

These examples are typical of what forward-looking cities and states are doing. Oregon can do the same, or more, for it has more to advertise.

In its other activities it is reasonable to presume that returns will be correspondingly great."

Letter From State President
The Following Letter accompanied the folders:
"Fellow Citizen: You and the rest of the citizens of this state can make Oregon as great and as busy as you really want it to be. United we can do anything with reason for our state.

The program of the State Chamber merits the support of everyone interested in the welfare of Oregon. It

INTERESTING FARM NEWS
(Oregon Agricultural College)

34 Brands Made in Oregon
The list of 57 commercial fertilizers that may legally be sold in Oregon this year shows that 34 of them are made in Oregon by three Portland firms—Pacific Products Co., Portland Seed Co., and Swift & Co. The list as published by the O. A. C. Experiment station gives the fertility content of each brand as guaranteed on the container and as found by analyses of samples bought by the station in the open market. Farmers who aim to make intelligent use of commercial fertilizers get the station bulletin containing the list free of cost.

Dress Pattern Use Explained
Commercial clothing patterns should be tested by comparing measures of pattern with measures of person, says Miss Jessie Biles, of the O. A. C. extension service. Such corrections as are necessary may then be made on the paper pattern. How the pattern may be altered to suit the individual figure is explained by description and illustration in bulletin 314, copies of which are free, write the college, Corvallis.

Last Lewis Bulletin Out
"Fertilizers for Oregon Orchards" is the last O. A. C. Experiment station bulletin written by Prof. C. I. Lewis, former head of horticulture. It gives a digest of the vast bulk of orchard lore gathered by Professor Lewis and his assistants, two of whom joined in preparing the bulletin subject matter. It gives, of course, his natured judgment on the principles of tree nutrition and how it can be best supplied for different fruits on various soil types. Copies are free.

Good Hay Cured, Not Dried
Sun burned hay is not good hay. Well cured hay is cured either in windrows or in shocks, put out the farm crops specialists at O. A. C. It is allowed to lie in the swath only long enough to wilt, not to dry out. Sun drying wastes the juices, curing saves them.

Covering Spray Needed
"Apple worm moths are busy depositing eggs now. The cool rainy weather following the earlier oviposition delayed the main brood until the present time," says A. L. Lovett, entomologist of the O. A. C. Experiment station.
"Growers who applied the '30-day' spray previous to the rains should apply a protecting spray now.

"All indications point to a rather light infestation of worms at this time. Careful spraying will check their increase and be of decided value in preventing a heavy late brood of worms."
Westover Resigns Position
E. L. Westover, well known dairy specialist of the O. A. C. extension service and the federal dairy division, has resigned to become field representative of the American Guernsey cattle club. "Mr. Westover has been a strong man and we regret losing him from our staff," says Paul V. Maris, director of extension. "He is, however, entering a field of particular interest to him, and we were unable to meet the inducements offered." Mr. Westover will have charge of the work in the 11 western states, with headquarters at Portland. His resignation takes effect August 1.

If it's printing, we can do it.

"You Can't Do Better"

Build a B. P. Round Roof Barn

When you put up a new barn you want to do away with all unnecessary supports and cross braces so that you will have a big storage capacity without increasing the size of your floor space.

That is just what the Round Roof barn accomplishes. Its construction is strong and economical. The arched roof means a big storage room. The light timber construction makes this barn easy to build.

Any Size

For your particular purpose a small barn may be all that is required. However, the plan of the Round Roof barn can be carried out on any desired scale. We will gladly supply you with complete drawings and specifications.
