MERCHANT INCENSED WHEN HE RECEIVES CAN OF BEEF

Harper, Oregon, October 4th, 1920.
To the Editor:

The writer is a merchant, doing business at Harper, Oregon. Harper is a town located in the center of the Head Quarter Ranch of Miller & Lux, the largest cattle outfit on the Coast, if not in the United States.

Last week, I ordered from Swift & Company, Boise, among other goods, a case of one pound cans of corned beef. Today they came, and this was what we read, "COMPANIE, SWIFT de LA PLATA, ARGENTINE."

ARGENTINE BEEF: in the heart of the biggest cow camp in Oregon. And I was going to vote for Chamberlain. But no more. I have never met Mr. Stanfield, and I have Mr. Chamberlain. I like him for his pleasant personality, and his hundred per cent American stand for our boys. He is welcome to my cakes and ale, but not my bread and butter.

Here are all my customers, loaded up with cattle they cannot sell. We put a million pounds of as good wool as was ever grown in Oregon, thru our warehouse, last spring, and cannot get a dollar on it, and our paternal administration is offering Cape and Australian wool for sale every day. Our warehouse is full of pelts and hides which the dealers will not even allow us to ship to them, because the pelts and hides are not worth the freight. And every ship is bringing in more Argentine stuff, to make conditions worse for us.

We talk of The League of Nations, and Wet and Dry: We are chasing the shadow, and ignoring the real issue, which is, for us, shall we have five cent wool, and two cent beef again, as we had in the good old Cleveland days?

Five thousand such Republicans as I was, could stay at home on November the 2nd, and not hurt the chance of Messrs Harding and Sinnott in the State or District. But the Senate, where we have a majority of two, and one of those, God save the mark: La Follette. That is where an Oregon republican is going to have the only chance to make his vote count in this election. And that can of beef showed me wherein my duty lay.

J. D. FAIRMAN.

Sugar Stocks are Enormous.
Boston.—The drop in sugar prices caused a shrinkage in value of at least $259,000,000, according to an estimate made to Attorney-General Allen by Edwin F. Atkins, an official of several of the largest sugar companies. Stocks of sugar in this country now are enormous, he said. He estimated them at 2,000,000 tons.

Thompson Against Lenroot in Race.
Madison, Wis.—James Thompson of Lacrosse, defeated by Senator Lenroot for the republican nomination for United States senator, re-entered the race, filing as an independent candidate. He will have the support of Senator La Follette, it is understood.

Idaho Given 431,826 by U. S. Census.
Washington.—The census bureau announced the 1920 population of the State of Idaho, 431,826; increase 106,232, or 32.6 per cent.
