County Judge E. H. Test presented to the meeting the report of the comittee which had undertaken to secure the right-of-way and showed that nearly, if not more than $15,000 of the $50,000 available for the road would be required for deeds and fencing, in fact that the total would perhaps go to $20,000 if no relief could be secured. He read the list of men thru whose land the road will run and the prices they asked. Every man concerned, if resent, was asked to state the reason for the price he placed on his property. Most
