

TWO GOOD SHOWS GIVEN SCANT CROWDS

Majestic Amusement Companies Attempt to put Ontario on Map for Regular Big Town Bookings Given Rebuff—May be Blacklisted.

Do Ontario folks desire that the city be graduated from the small town class into one of the few towns in the Inland Empire to receive the regular road show bookings of the Majestic Amusement company? If they do feel thus some effort should be made to demonstrate that fact.

On Sunday evening and again on Tuesday evening legitimate offerings were presented at the Majestic "Business Before Pleasure", an adaptation of Montague Glass, Potash and Forlmuter was the attraction. It was funny. The small crowd enjoyed it, for it was well staged and the acting, while not in the John Barrymore class, was so much more superior to that generally offered in towns of this size, was really enjoyable.

"Would You" Better Received

On Tuesday night, Henry B. Walt-hall in "Would You" was better received. This star who featured in the Birth of a Nation proved satia-factory to his friends of the silent drama and the play was the best ever shown in a local theatre. It was one of those comedy dramas in which tears chase laughter through the action and love has a prominent part.

In justice to Ontarians it must be admitted that the present road show prices are not what they have been used to. But in justice to the promoters of better shows for Ontario it should likewise be noted that the prices are just what is being charged everywhere, or less. And further these charges are occasioned by the big increase in travel prices on the roads.

MAN LONG SOUGHT FOR IS LOCATED IN KANSAS CITY

W. F. Driggers who two years ago was charged with having appropriated to his own use a check for $3800 signed by Rector Arwine, well-known stockman of the interior, has been located in Kansas City according to advices received here. Driggers was indicted by a grand jury nearly two years ago, and a warrant for his arrest issued. He is fighting extradition from Missouri and District Attorney R. W. Swagler will leave tomorrow on No. 4 for Kansas City to fight the case for the State of Oregon.

Delwin, the infant son of Mr and Mrs. Pearl Jacobs, age one year, five months and five days, died at the hospital Saturday morning after a brief illness. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the Baptist church, Rev. C. H. Blom conducting the services. Entombment was made in the Ontario cemetery.

ing wrong with the cattle in production ability or health. That this representative goes after the stock and returns with a good bunch of cattle. The men who formed the pool want them and have put up the money in order to get them. They may not be able to duplicate the buy.

But in order to make satisfactory adjustment and distribution of the cattle, it will probably be necessary to conduct a friendly auction sale. Will outside bidders be allowed to bid. Well, how else can it be done? Competition is surely necessary in order to bring out the true value of the cows, particularly at the close of the sale. But is it fair to the men who have put up the money to get the cows they want, to have others who have not taken any responsibility come into the sale? If the cows go below cost, the men who put up the money would have to pay the cost price anyway, so why are they not entitled to any profit made because the prices bid indicate that their purchase was a good one, if others bid the cows they want for their own use away from them?

Suppose then, that an auction sale is held where each man in the pool is entitled to bid in as many cows as he has advanced money for, at cost on the basis of prorated amounts determined as illustrated below. Outsiders will be entitled to bid at the sale, taking their purchases at the bid price. A member of the pool bidding in more than his allotted number of cows to pay bid price on purchase after having brought the number for which he had advanced money. Then when the sale is over, the bidders would settle for their cows as illustrated, members of the pool paying in proportion as their total bid is related to the total sales. Then a final adjustment of the receipts would be made in which members of the pool would share in any profit made from outside bidders in the ratio their advances bear to the total amount advanced for the purchase.

Mrs. Carl Keithley, nee Miss Lena Neece of Midvale, Idaho, a bride of a few days died suddenly of heart failure Sunday evening at Welser while on her wedding trip. The remains were taken to her home at Midvale Tuesday morning where the funeral was held. The deceased was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Neece, formerly of Ontario, but now residing near Midvale, and was born and raised in Ontario. Her elder sister, Mrs. Norris Reavis, nee Grace Neece, died at Midvale last winter a year ago with the influenza leaving an infant daughter only six weeks old.

GAME LAWS MEAN BUT LITTLE TO ONTARIANS

District Deputy Game Warden Investigating Complaints of Ranchers That Ontarians Violate Laws Finds Complaints Justified—Will Act

District Deputy Game Warden I. B. Hazeltine of Baker City was in Ontario Tuesday and Wednesday investigating numerous complaints that have been sent to the state warden relative to the violations of the hunting laws by Ontario citizens, some of whom he declared are numbered among the prominent citizens of the city.

Until further investigations are made the names of the violators of the statutes will not be published, but unless there is a radical change of attitude on the part of men, who should be leaders in the game protection movement, instead of flagrant violators of the statutes, prosecutions will be resorted to, said Mr. Hazeltine.

There is a Legal Way

One of the principal complaints filed with the department is that of men shooting out of season, and before and after hours during the season.

"I find that some of the men questioned, while practically admitting their guilt endeavor to plead extenuating circumstances in this manner. They claim they have been invited by ranchers to kill pheasants that are damaging fields. This is undoubtedly true, but that is not legal, as every hunter should know, and every rancher, too.

"The thing for the rancher to do if the pheasants are a nuisance is to inform the department of that fact and secure a permit to shoot them. Then they may invite their friends out to hunt and be within the law. The department does not want to foist any game on the rancher that is working an injury to him and will be glad to co-operate with the rancher and the sportsman who stays within the law.

"In the past there has been a splendid spirit of co-operation manifested by the men of Malheur county and the department has trusted their honor in this manner, so that it is with a feeling of reluctance that any change in our attitude will be made. But unless a return to observation of the law is manifested other means will of necessity be employed."

BANKERS COME TO TOWN

Among the passengers in today from the interior, were David Graham of Juntura, cashier of the Juntura State Bank and E. L. Wallace, cashier of the Crane State Bank. Mr. Graham says they have more snow around Juntura than here and that little of the hay of that region has been sold.

HOLY ROSARY HOSPITAL ENTIRELY RENOVATED

Training School Accredited by State Registration Board—Co-operative Plan Arranged for Students—New Maternity Ward

From the basement to the topmost attic the Holy Rosary hospital has been renovated. All that paint and a thorough cleaning can accomplish has been accomplished until the hospital with its many new features is indeed in excellent condition.

Many of the changes and betterments have been made possible by the fact that with the transfer of the novitiates to the Kenosha Wisconsin institution, there is a great deal more room.

Mother Mary Josephine the new head of the institution, who was one of the original group of Sisters to come to Ontario has had all her workers busily engaged in putting the improvements into service. A great portion of time and money has been spent of late to put the institution on a par with any such in the West.

Among the betterments installed is that long sought for by the Sisters, a maternity ward, thoroughly equipped and located at the end of the building where quiet prevails. A baby room has also been provided and across the hall from it is found the new diet kitchen which is a model of neatness and conveniences.

Across from the major surgery operating room has been equipped a room for minor surgery with all the necessary equipment including one of the very latest anesthetic machines equipped with oxygen and other gases.

Thruout the building electrical equipment has been added and the efficiency of the institution thus greatly enhanced.

Nurses May Register Now

One of the handicaps the hospital has been under for years has been lifted thru the action of the Oregon Nurse's Registration board certifying the institution as accredited by the board. By this action graduates of the training school are immediately registered and can practice their profession anywhere in the state and secure exchange registration in any other state as well. Arrangements have also been made by the hospital authorities whereby students taking the course here may transfer for six months special training under specialists in the Portland hospitals and return here for the completion of their work. This is not only a distinct advantage to the students but to the local community in that it keeps the institution in touch with the work being done in outside cities.

St. Joseph's home has been renovated and is now the nurse's dormitory having been specially prepared for this purpose. Since the students have gone on the eight hour basis this gives them adequate quarters, rest rooms parlors, etc. All in all the changes at the institution during the past few months are such as to surprise the visitor who has not been there for some time, and combine to make the hospital one in which the entire community may take full measure of pride.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Vocational Agriculture Boys left at eleven o'clock Wednesday morning for Payette where they attended a sale.

The Sigma Club met at the home of Misses Evadine and Hope Cochran, Friday evening. Games and a royal good time was enjoyed by all. A business meeting was held after which refreshments were served.

The second period gym class enjoyed a snappy forty-five minute walk Wednesday morning, when they tramped to the hill above the hospital. The snow and novelty of the treat added to the fun of it a great deal.

The lunches served by the Domestic Science girls are both dainty and nourishing. We are astonished at the bounteous and good lunches served for so small a price.

The Nut Club dance given at the Grange Hall Friday night was attended by a large number of boys and girls who had a delightful evening.

Helen Wells, who has been ill the past week is able to attend school.

TEACHER AND PUPILS HAVE COMBINED BIRTHDAY PARTY

Oregon Slope Folks Enjoy Pleasant Evening's Program—And Goose Dinner Too—Jersey Cows Coming—First Pool Formed.

Mrs. Roy Burrell gave a very delightful birthday dinner at her home Sunday evening, the Teacher, Mr. Lindsay and the Burrell children all celebrating their birthdays together. The birthday cakes filled with the proper number of candles formed lovely centerpieces for the tables where the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Simpson, and family, Mrs. Alice Simpson, Chas. Staples and Fred Lindsay helped the Burrell family enjoy a fine goose dinner. Violin, saxophone and trombone music was enjoyed by all thru the evening.

Lloyd Culbertson is looking after business at Durkee, Oregon this week.

Mrs. Susan Weaver came from Boise Saturday for an extended visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Coats.

Mrs. Jonna Brown has been ill with tonsillitis the past week.

Lee Brown, I. I. Culbertson, G. W. Lattig and S. J. Simpson were in Vale last Wednesday taking up road matters with the County Court.

Work has been started on a well on the Ed Lauer place which it is expected will be followed by a set of buildings.

Mrs. J. E. Holloway has been suffering from asthma during this damp weather.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clough were very much surprised last Saturday evening when several called to remind them that their third wedding anniversary was not forgotten. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Lauer and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Welcher were dinner guests at the Wm. Vincent home Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Frost was ill a few days the past week.

Much interest was shown by the farmers of the Slope at a meeting held last Thursday at which they signed up for a carload of Jersey cows which will be brought in soon from Western Oregon.

HONEY PRODUCERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING THIS WEEK

Ontario was the hive of bee industry of Idaho and Oregon this week when the annual meeting of the Idaho-Oregon Beekeepers association was in session at the City Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday. Aside from the regular routine of business the bee men considered the problems of producing and distribution of their product, just as all the business men and ranchers are doing these days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bills, nee Rena Adam, who since their marriage last June have lived in Hebo, Oregon, moved recently to Portland where they are to spend the winter at 605 East Salmon street.
