Experiment Station Report—Scientific farm practice as developed and recommended by the Oregon Experiment Station should be kept years in advance of general farm practice, in order that the new methods, crops and varieties may be fully tested before offered to the farmer, says James T. Jardine, director, in his report for 1918-20 just off the college press. Much information that has added to the profits of farming, and even more facts under investigation with promise of eventual solution, are explained in the report. Copies free on request.
