RED CROWN GASOLINE
The Gasoline of Quality
A good sign for Motorists

You know it. It is the "Red Crown" sign on garages and service stations. It is the sign of quality in gasoline—the sign of an all-refinery gasoline with a continuous chain of boiling points—insuring ready starting, rapid acceleration and maximum power.

Before you fill—look for the "Red Crown" sign.

"You Save Money"

says the Good Judge

And get more genuine chewing satisfaction, when you use this class of tobacco.

This is because the full, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long, you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often.

And a small chew gives more real satisfaction than a big chew of the ordinary kind ever did.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

WE ALL TAKE OFF OUR HATS TO THE DAIRY COW
She's Needed Here in Oregon

The Dairy Cow offers the solution to a condition that is retarding the prosperity of Oregon. Alfalfa hay, the greatest of all dairy feeds is now a drug on the market in this state. Even at $7.00 a ton there is practically no market for it. Through the medium of the dairy cow our hay can be transformed into dairy products which find ready sale and thus market the crops of the farm at their real value.

The importation of dairy cows should have the consideration of all thinking men who have the interest of the state at heart. Herbert Hoover said, "No greater catastrophe can happen to a people than the loss of its dairy herds, for the total loss of dairy produce means the ultimate extinction of a people." To provide supplies we must build reserves. The first reserve in dairy products is the maintenance of our herds.

Dairying is the backbone of agriculture. It adds to the fertility and productiveness of the soil and yields a crop that does not fail. Dairy products are the equivalent of ready money and there is yet to be found a dairy community that is not prosperous. The influence of active dairying is felt in all lines of local trade.

There is no question about it. The dairy cow is recognized throughout the land as the forerunner of prosperity and the people of Oregon will do well to foster the dairy industry and encourage the importation of dairy cows.

The trend of farming today is away from the one crop plan and toward mixed farming, and mixed farming, to bring the best returns, must include the keeping of a fair size dairy herd.

The best insurance against crop failure is the dairy cow. Corn may fail; wheat may fail; wool may fail; but the farmer with a small herd of dairy cows is assured of a steady income all the year round, year in and year out.

The State of Nevada, like Idaho and Malheur County Oregon has a superabundance of alfalfa hay for which they find no market. They will market it, however, in its most valuable form, dairy products, and dairy cows are today being imported into Nevada in large numbers.

Milk and milk products to the total of $10,000,000 was the enormous sum realized by the owners of dairy cattle in the little county of Stanislaus in California during the year 1920 according to the annual report of their County Horticultural Commissioner.

The productive alfalfa growing sections of Idaho offer the same opportunities. The silo, alfalfa, cows and pigs are the four sure corner stones of farm profits and soil fertility. There is nothing to be compared to Oregon offer the same opportunity. The number of cows on each of her farms and literally add millions to her income and soil fertility.

All hail the dairy cow—bring more of her kind into Oregon.

"DEEP WATERS", NEW TOURNEUR PICTURE, STORY OF THE SEA

Maurice Tourneur's latest production, "Deep Waters," will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Wednesday February 23. The story was adapted from F. Hopkinson Smith's popular novel, "Caleb West, Master Diver," and the scenes are laid on the New England coast.

Caleb West, a man past his prime, and his girl-wife, Betty, are the central figures in the story. Betty becomes attracted to a youth named Bill Lacey, and, tho she does not love him, they run away together. Later, the ship upon which Lacey is traveling is wrecked and Caleb West brings the body of the young man to the surface. In a dramatic scene the loyalty of Betty to her husband asserts itself and a touching reconciliation takes place between the two.

"Deep Waters" introduces in the leading feminine role Mr. Tourneur's latest "find" Barbara Bedford. Broerken Christians plays the male lead, and others in the cast include Jack Gilbert, Lydia Yeamans Titus, and George Nichols. The picture is a Paramount.

It is with pleasure that we learn of Lester McMullen's reappointment on the road work on this side of the mountain. Everyone is glad to hear that Lester is on the "job" again.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jordan left last week for Sweet, Idaho after several weeks visit with friends and relatives here.

WILLIAM S. HART A BANDIT CHIEFTAIN IN "THE TOLL GATE"

William S. Hart, who comes to the Majestic theatre next Sunday and Monday in "The Toll Gate", is said to have the most powerful dramatic role of his career as Black Deering, the bandit chieftain in the story which was written by Lambert Hillier and himself. Lambert Hillier is the director.

This is a typical tale of the west or southwest in the days before the fences came; and the days of bold bandit bands, of promiscuous train holdups, of masked desperadoes, wild riders and Indians. It portrays with startling fidelity the characteristics of a picturesque page in the history of the border.

Black Deering, leader of the bandits, decides to disband and quit. A rival refuses and leads the band into a trap, selling them out for "thirty pieces of silver." All are killed or captured. Deering escapes. He sets out to revenge himself. He meets the woman who has been deserted by the traitor and his better manhood keeps him from wreaking his revenge upon her in lieu of the real culprit. The latter meets his just deserts. Deering goes South and out of the hands of the law into, it is hoped, a better life, his eyes opened at last to the realization that there are good men and women in the world after all.

Anna Q. Nilsson and a fine cast of players are seen in the support. Mr. Hart's famous Pinto pony is also present. Joe August A. S. C., made the photographic rendition.

BULLY CREEK NEWS

Lealand Highley, property of Nampa, has entered the school here and is in the eighth grade.

R. Calloway returned February 4, from Newdale, Idaho, where he has been staying for the past six weeks.

The school had a Valentine social Monday at which Vera Struthers was elected to preside as postmaster, and Lealand Highley as assistant postmaster.

Will Harris is moving his family from Vale to his ranch above the Hot Springs.

Last week enough snow fell to make it really look like winter, but now, due to extremely warm weather, the ground has more the appearance of wet, muddy spring.
