

FRUITLAND BENCH

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heckes returned Saturday night from Rochester, Minnesota where Mr. Heckes had gone to consult the Mayo Brothers. Mr. Mayo operated upon Mr. Heckes for stomach trouble and he is very much relieved. He will go to Boise this week for further treatment. While at Rochester, Mr. Heckes' sister, Mrs. Bert McCullough, of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, whom he had not seen for 26 years visited him, and upon their return they stopped at Fremont, Nebraska, for a visit with his brother, John Heckes whom he had not seen for 23 years.

Rev. Oliver, of Boise, preached both morning and evening Sunday in the M. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Browning are moving this week to Payette.

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, recently operated upon for appendicitis, is improving splendidly. The trained nurse from Boise is with her. Her daughter, who has been at the P. D. Hosen home, has returned home.

Miss Dora Tackett has been in Payette several days this week.

Mrs. Strawn is slowly improving from her very serious illness.

Mr. Howe is building a modern chicken house on the ranch recently purchased from E. L. Davis.

Miss Mabel Peacock was ill and away from school last week.

Miss Laura Hazeltine is suffering from an attack of tonsillitis.

A large number of the Fruitland people went to Ontario Wednesday evening to see Robin Hood.

The roads are a little improved since the sunny days of last week but the storm on Sunday made them soft Monday. It is a pity that the control of the roads in a way is out of the hands of our own Highway District Commissioners and all work is in charge of state engineers. Some of the level roads in this community have been surveyed from six to eight times by engineers receiving princely salaries. The roads were never worse than this winter. It is true this has been an unusually wet winter but the roads torn up and left without gravel all over the district has made travel impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. Puchert entertained with a delightful party Friday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hill and family who moved this week to New Plymouth. Eighteen of their neighbors and friends were present to enjoy the games and music and the oyster supper which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, Jack Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Walker attended a Rook party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kuteh.

Miss Bernice Hill and Mrs. E. A. Linck and daughter Miss Helen were in Payette Saturday and Sunday the week end guests of the Blomstrom family. Arthur Linck went down Sunday to bring them home.

Thursday afternoon of this week a silver tea was held at the homes of Messrs. Joel Bayer and Gentry Walker by the Friendship W. C. T. U.

A Washington program was held Tuesday afternoon in the school of Fruitland. The best numbers in each room met in the High School Assembly room Friday afternoon of this week at one to give a program. The Fruitland Amusement Club will give this Friday evening a box social to which a number have been invited.

Mrs. D. L. Ingard left early Tuesday for New York City to be gone a month. On her return she will stop at Cleveland, Ohio to visit her daughter.

When bids were opened last Saturday for Idaho Cannery Company property, Ira Dalzell bid it in at $7000. He expects to run the cannery and is in correspondence with competent men to operate it.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church meets with Mrs. H. G. Gordon Thursday, March 3rd.

Last Saturday night was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Ira Dalzell and her cousin Vernie Rich. The neighbors took supper with them and surprised them.

END BENNETT'S NEW PICTURE, "HAIRPINS" LESSON TO HUSBANDS

Husbands who blame their wives for remaining old-fashioned and disinterested in the hilarity of life are taught a lesson by "Hairpins," the latest Thomas H. Ince Paramount Aircraft picture starring End Bennett, which will be shown at the Majestic theatre Wednesday, March 2.

Rex Rossmore had a wife who cared more about getting a reduction on the purchase of a dozen smoked hams than she did about the Faust opera and insofar as permanent waving of her hair was concerned, she never thought of it. But Rex didn't like her domesticity and that's why his stenographer appealed to him so strongly.

But when Rex's wife discovered the true state of affairs, she got busy and it wasn't long before she was considered the most up-to-date woman in New York. In fact, she was so much up-to-date that Rex was made to realize how wonderful she really was. That's why he begged her to return to her former ways of living and found real happiness in domesticity.

Miss Bennett never had a more fitting role than that which she portrays in "Hairpins." Matt Moore is seen in the role of her husband. The picture was directed by Fred Niblo under the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince. The supporting company is excellent.

FITZMAURICE FILM WAS ADAPTED FROM A FRENCH ORIGINAL

"The Right to Love" Second Offering of Producer—Has Prominent Cast

The photoplay attraction at the Majestic theatre next Sunday and Monday will be "The Right to Love," produced by George Fitzmaurice and featuring Mae Murray and David Powell.

Miss Murray has the role of an American girl, who leads a wretched life with her husband, Sir Archibald Falkland, English director of the Ottoman Debt at Constantinople. In an effort to compromise his wife so he may marry another woman, Sir Archibald installs a Prince Stanislaus in his home. A Colonel Richard Loring, played by David Powell, arrives in time to rescue her from the Prince, though in the resulting mix-up, Loring shoots Falkland dead. He is acquitted in the trial that follows, and he and Lady Falkland seek happiness together.

MAY ALLISON HAS REAL THRILL AS LADY GODIVA

Certain residents of Hollywood might have viewed a startling realistic reproduction of Lady Godiva's famed ride while attired in her flowing hair had they peeped from their windows during the small hours of a certain morning.

It all happened at 3 o'clock in the morning while Miss Allison's newest starring production, "The Marriage of William Ashe," was being filmed. The script of the screen version of the story calls for the appearance of the star in tableaux in the role of Lady Godiva.

The horse, a spritely one, was unaccustomed to the ways of camera men, electricians and others. It took one terrified glance at the scene, then made for and arch that led to the street.

Through the gate went horse and a flying glimpse of an all but unclothed star. For three blocks it raced on the street while Mal Allison, holding the reins in one hand and her wig in the other, clung to her position upon its back.

"The Marriage of William Ashe" was dramatized by Margaret Mayo from the celebrated novel by Mrs. Humphrey Ward. Ruth Ann Baldwin adapted it to the screen and will be seen at Dreamland Friday and Saturday.

Hens fed for egg production should get feed containing the food elements found in the egg. An analysis of the egg shows that it is composed of ash 12.2 per cent; water 65.7 per cent; protein 11.4 per cent; and fat 8.9 per cent. The hen cannot counterfeit her product, so must be supplied with the necessary raw materials or she cannot manufacture the finished product. O. A. C. Experiment Station.

Now is a good time to overhaul spray outfits, and to see that necessary spray material is on hand or available for spray applications which should be made during March—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

OIL SPRAYS SHOULD NOT DISPLACE LIME-SULPHUR

Emulsions Have Value but Standard Practice Is Better Understood and More Dependence

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb.—Lime-sulphur sprays as a dormant or delayed dormant control of scale, red spiders, pear leaf blister mite, twig miner and moss, should not be discarded for oil emulsion sprays replies A. L. Lovett, college station entomologist, to scores of growers who write to ask him about the oil sprays.

"The right type of oil sprays will effectively handle those same insect troubles," says Professor Lovett, "but the oils vary greatly and our knowledge of them and their action is by no means complete."

Lime-sulphur, on the other hand, is definitely known as to materials, method and time of application, and results. It combines fungicidal and insecticidal value, and has justly won universal favor as a general clean-up spray.

The plan recommended to growers is that they use the lime-sulphur on the bulk of their orchards, and leave small trial plots of representative trees for oil sprays. Then watch results and check up.

The station is likewise investigating the various kinds and uses of oil emulsions and will give its findings to the growers.

Oil sprays suffer even more from rain wash than lime-sulphur which is affected but little if it has a chance to dry before the rain.

For various reasons California results with oil cannot now be taken definitely as applicable to Oregon conditions. Lime-sulphur has passed the experimental stage in Oregon. Oils have not.

FARM POINTERS

By planting three or four varieties of cabbage, vegetable gardeners will have cabbage available for the market and home use during the different seasons of the year. Early Jersey Wakefield and Copenhagen for early varieties, Glory of Enkhuizen for late summer and fall and Danish Ballhead for late fall and winter are recommended as good market varieties, by the O. A. C. department of vegetable gardening. Drumhead Savoy is a good winter variety for home use.
