VALLEY VIEW NEWS

Jesse Brown and wife are picking apples at an orchard near Cairo. As the weather was too rainy Monday to work there they went to town and helped A. J. Miller with his new house. Coy and Win Brown have been helping some this week.

Sunday services at the school house were fairly well attended, some in the neighborhood being present who had not been there for a long time. There was no preaching but next Sunday is the regular day for the Nazarine minister to preach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rees and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shaffer motored to Big Bend Monday P. M. and secured plans of the school house there as these plans are being considered for the building of the new school house in this district. Matters are underway now so that work will be begun on the site and bids will be advertised on the various divisions of the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Alexander are now picking apples at the Barrows-Ordway ranch, the orchard of Pete Countryman being finished.

The teachers are preparing a program to be given by the pupils of the school sometime in the near future. Full details will be given later.

W. J. Shaffer is hauling lumber to build a new barn so he may be able to care for the cows he purchased this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke and children of Nyssa spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Tom Johnson. Quite a crowd of boys were there to help with the good time.

A. J. Miller's new house is nearing completion as it is practically ready for the plasterers and then the finishing of the inside woodwork.

Coy Brown and Victor Beisale were helping Ed DuPree fill his silo last week.

Charles Johnson has nearly completed a very costly silo which will be a great help in caring for his dairy herd.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah, who purchased land last year just north of G. W. Dean's are leaving for California to spend the winter.

Quite a number of large straw stacks have recently been burned in this vicinity. This is due to the poor market for hay as the farmers utilized these stacks for their own stock when there was sale for their hay.

W. S. Rees, Mrs. Rees, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander motored to Payette one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were purchasing supplies for housekeeping.
