Karst, Roy Burrell and Mrs. D. R. Davis of the Slope, Mrs. Reed of Brogan, Miss Randall of Ontario, and the host and hostess.

TWO SCORE NEW KNIGHTS MADE BY LOCAL K. OF C.

Henzel of Weiser. Those who responded to toasts were F. P. Ryan, grand knight, who welcomed the visitors. Rev. Ryan of Weiser responded. Jack Pearce of La Grande congratulated the new knights on the fact that they had received their degrees on the same day that Marshal Foch of France received his initiation in Chicago. He then dwelt at length on the inspiration to be drawn from the life of the generalissimo. George K. Aiken spoke on the progress of the world since Columbus set out on his voyage of discovery culminating in the growing friendships of the nations evidenced in the approaching limitation of armament conference. P. J. Gallagher dwelt on the duty of the Knights to uphold the traditions of American institutions through the protection of the home and society from the vagaries of the lems which from time to time obtain a vogue. A. A. Smith of Baker made an appeal for Christian citizenship and toleration and drew upon the life of Marshal Foch as the ideal of a Christian gentleman. Mr. King of Boise made a plea for a fuller knowledge of the teachings of the church by the laymen. A number of brief responses were made by members of the new class and Rev. Father Stack closed the program with a spirited talk on loyalty.

The following were the candidates initiated: P. J. Connoley, Dreysey; James A. Davis, Payette; Coleman P. Keane, Juntura; David Kent, Ontario; John Molenaar, Ontario; John McAuliffe, Weiser; Vincent Peichel, Ontario; John Peichel, Ontario; Clarence Platz, New Plymouth; Domenico Ravenesi, Vale; Edward Sodja, Payette; Frank Sodja, Payette; John Sodja, Payette; Glen Sullivan, New Plymouth; Roland J. DROP LITIGATION FOR MALHEUR LAKE WATERS

Government to Permit Development in Harney County Continue—Threatened Suit Against Diversion of Water is Averted

Salem, Ore., Nov. 9—(Special to The Telegram)—Through the efforts of Senator McNary and Representative Sinnott threatened litigation by the government against all water users on the Silvies and Blitzen rivers, tributaries of Malheur Lake in Harney county, has been averted. The Malheur Lake bird reserve is again involved and the purpose of the threatened suit would be to insure an adequate flow in Malheur lake at all times, so the present condition of the lake would be maintained.

Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, believing that litigation would interfere seriously with the development of Harney county, brought the subject to the attention of officials at Washington. He feared particularly that action in court would hamper construction of the works proposed by the Harney Valley Irrigation district involving about 80,000 acres, and the district recently organized on Donner and Blitzen rivers for the reclamation of 30,000 or 40,000 acres.

The United States attorney general has informed Senator McNary and Representative Sinnott that he has directed the United States attorney to suspend action temporarily.

Bird Reserve Involved
The Malheur bird reserve has several times been a center of attention and has occupied much time at several sessions at the legislature. Later the situation led to a ballot measure proposing the ceding of the lake to the government. This was defeated.

"It would seem that the state and the federal government in a matter of this kind, which involves only questions of public interest, should be able to get on some basis of settlement without resorting to the use of litigation," said Mr. Cupper today.

"It is believed that litigation would involve many years of uncertainty and delay, and would probably not result to the best interests of the public. Either the state or government would win in a case of litigation, and either the development of the entire section for commercial purposes and the entire elimination of the bird reserve would result, or in case the federal government succeeded, all waters flowing into the lake would be used for the birds and the future development of Harney valley, would be stopped.

"On the other hand, there seems no good reason why which compromise could not be made, which would permit the maintenance of a substantial part of the lake as a bird reserve and the control of both the Silvies and Blitzen rivers by reservoirs and the reclamation of large areas of land.

"A bird reserve should be maintained and at the same time the development of this large area of land permitted."

BIBLE STUDY CLASS WILL PREPARE STUDENT FOR CREDIT
One of the subjects for which the state gives a credit to High School pupils is that of Bible Study.

While this is not taught in all schools the credit will be given to any passing the required examination.

A class will be organized next Sabbath morning at the United Presbyterian church which will take up the course as outlined by the state. Rev. Franklin E. Springer of the College of Idaho will teach this class and all desiring to take the course whether for credit or not may enroll at that time.

Remember Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, U. P. Church, Rev. Springer teacher.

One night last week Mr. Ransome who lives west of the boulevard, discovered some one had appropriated his new Ford for their use but next morning was pleased to find it had been only borrowed.

Monday morning the school board met Mr. Ivan Oakes of Ontario, at the location of the proposed new school house and stakes were set for the buildings and grade stakes for leveling the grounds. This puts the grounds in shape for the contractor to begin work at once.

There were five competitors on erecting the buildings: the first bid opened was that of W. F. Lyman of Adrian. It was for $6460.00, but no certified check accompanied his bid so it was disqualified. The next lowest bidder was Mr. Heuser of Cairo which was a flat bid of $7000, with a final addition of several little changes which raise it to $7057.

The next was Mr. Kime of Ontario for $7055 but this would require the district to furnish the screen for windows which made the cost higher than Mr. Hauser's bid. The next lower bid was Mr. Draper of Ontario for $7150.00 and the highest bidder was Mr. Fry of Parma whose bid was $7483.00. The bid was awarded to Mr. Heuser and the work is to commence at once and be completed by February 1, 1922, barring bad weather.
