ADRIAN NEWS

A large crowd from Adrian and vicinity as well as Parma, Homedale and Nyssa attended the dance at Adrian Park November eighteenth. Music was produced by a traveling orchestra. Don't forget the next dance to be given there on the evening of the twenty-fourth. Owing to an illness Mildred De Bord was compelled to miss her music lesson Saturday. Vincenti Mendeola returned from a business trip to Omaha, Nebraska this week. Peter Christenson grew tired of being exiled on an island so moved all his household goods, house and livestock, which consisted of one Jersey cow and calf, back to his homestead ranch west of town. He has made preparation to plow a great deal of his land this fall. The greater part of Adrian's population attended the play in Roswell November 18, which was given by the Roswell high school students. They were very proud to recognize Eulalia Schafer starring in one of the most prominent parts. Mr. Mosling and Mr. Goodwin have been very busy ridding sage brush and hauling it to their homes for winter use. C. Williams leased the Adrian garage for a short time, where he picked up turkeys, preparing them for shipment to Washington markets. Two large shipments have thus been made. Word was received by Thelma McCreary, from Corinne Maxwell and her mother who are spending the winter in California, that they are now at Lindsay, having just returned from a long trip to San Diego. She reports a lovely time. John Vanderpool has sold his hay for four dollars a ton to Pat Conley, who will live in the Vanderpool house while feeding it out. Mr. Watson of Parma was a business visitor in Adrian Wednesday. Odace Ashcraft came upon the Homedale train Wednesday. He has been employed in Nyssa the past few weeks and will visit at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Will Ashcraft of Adrian. Web Otis helped butcher hogs at the Robert Wade farm Wednesday. T. T. Elliot purchased a brand new two-way plow and he and his sons are busy trying it out on old alfalfa ground which they plan to put into crops in the spring. Ole Schafer left Monday for the Cornucopia mines where he will be employed this winter. Mrs. R. McCreary and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Johnson were guests at the Elliot home Sunday.

VALLEY VIEW

One of the most disastrous fires known to this neighborhood occurred last Friday evening. L. E. DuPre was called to the door by one of his neighbors to be told that his barn was on fire. Even then the entire upper part was in flames. Mr. DuPre had cut and stored in the loft fully 70 tons of chopped hay and corn and as some of it was still green it is supposed that it heated until it caused combustion. He was able to save all his stock but the barn and feed were destroyed. This is a severe loss to Mr. DuPre who has been on the place only a little over a year, having bought a part of what is known as the Sage place. He is busy with two helpers erecting a new barn to care for his stock. Misses Leona and Celia Albee returned to their home in Newton, Iowa, Monday. They have been visiting their brother, A. B. Albee for the past four months. Mrs. A. H. McGregor and Mrs. S. H. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and family, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belliste Sunday. Juanita Temple, an 8th grade pupil, visited at the Amick home in Fruitland, Sunday. Several teams are busy hauling gravel for the new school house and Mr. Griffin has the basement nearly excavated. The car of lumber ordered for the building is tied up on the train somewhere between here and Portland, on account of the severe storms. L. McMurren came up from Weiser Saturday evening for a visit with his parents and returned Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Knox Alexander have moved into the house of C. E. Rees vacated by the Tom Johnson family.

Miss Lois Halstead, teacher in the upper grades, was a guest at the Griffin home Sunday night. Mrs. Pete Williams and children had a runaway Saturday but we understand none of them were seriously hurt. There will be no Thanksgiving dinner at the school house this year but a dinner will be given at the building when it is completed where the conveniences will be much better. Freddie Moeller, who was poisoned by eating apples, is improving rapidly and will soon be able to be up. Mr. Albert Belliste is on the sick list this week. Mrs. Crane and sister-in-law, Mrs. Stewart, visited with Mrs. W. G. Armstrong Wednesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shaffer were in Ontario Tuesday afternoon attending to school business. The well has been completed on the new school grounds and the drillers are now busy putting down a stock well for Mr. W. J. Shaffer. Mrs. Jess Brown is expecting her sister, Mrs. Grace Hullitt, and family from Portland to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her. Owing to the delay of trains from there they did not arrive Tuesday as expected. A daughter of W. G. Armstrong whose home is in Boise spent several days last week visiting her parents. Mrs. Newbill's sister and children have been visiting with her for the past two or three weeks. They report a new daughter that arrived last week. Gordon Shaffer and Gus Reich are shovelling gravel so that the teams hauling for the new school building can make three loads a day. Harry Wellman, club leader, visited the Valley View school Tuesday afternoon to interest the pupils in a Dairy Club. Several of the boys brought samples of milk which he tasted, but no organization was affected at this time. There were no services at the school house Sunday as there was no preaching service. Rev. I. G. Martin, the Nazarine Evangelist, will preach here next Sunday.
