STATE GAME OFFICIALS TO SEE ANTELOPE PROTECTED

"This herd comes over the wire fence during the winter and in the summer stay around here within the radius of five miles. My neighbor, Holmes D. Glover and I made it our business to guard these animals and I told every hunter passing through that if I caught one of them shooting an antelope I would take him before the law. I am not so afraid of the Americans, but the Basque shepherders snipe one every little while.

"I am going to leave here for good next month and I hate to leave these antelope, and I ask you to give my neighbor, Mr. Glover, the authority over the game around here. Mr. Glover is a lover of game and a man of clean record and of fine character. You will confer a great favor if you will do this. I would hate to learn afterwards that some sniper destroyer what Mr. Glover and I have preserved all these years."

DUNBAR-TWIFORD

Stealing a march on their friends who had heard they were to be married, but not informed of the exact date, Miss Dorothy Twiford, formerly of this city, a daughter of Mrs. Twiford of Boise, and Ralph Dunbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dunbar, were married at high noon Wednesday, December 28, at Payette.

The marriage service which took place at St. James Episcopal church, was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Trow, Miss Helen Dunbar; Mrs. Twiford, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Twiford, Arthur, Fred and Howard Twiford.

Following the wedding the bride and groom went to Baker, LaGrande and other points on a short honeymoon trip, and returned to Ontario Saturday.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar are well known here. The groom is a native son of Malheur county, and with his father has been in the stock business for several years. He has been prominent in Masonic circles and last year was the Master of Acadia lodge. He is also a member of the Oregon Club.

The bride came to Ontario three years ago from Omaha, Neb., and lived here for two years with her mother and brothers, later going to Boise. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will make their home on the Dunbar ranch on the Malheur river.

"THE FOUR HORSEMEN" HERE

Rex Ingram's $1,000,000 Production of Ibanez Story of Teeming Human Passion Amid the Grandeur of War

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production that cost Metro $1,000,000 to make and that New Yorkers paid $10 a seat to see when it opened its record breaking run in the metropolis. The artistic results are priceless. Indications of the screen's power have been given in memorable productions of other years, but not until "The Four Horsemen" has there been a photodrama that has completely filled the promise of optical achievement.

It is in this scene of recording mighty events that the screen's superiority over the stage was recognized by critics after the first showing of "The Four Horsemen." Some of them harked back to the days of Shakespeare and the Elizabethan revival for a parallel in the theatre to the Rex Ingram production. They recognized the grandeur of the Great War had been visualized as a lasting memorial.

The artist to whom most credit has been awarded for this achievement is the director, Rex Ingram. Himself a sculptor before he entered the motion picture field, he has brought to the screen a sense of composition and form that is infallible in getting the right result down to the smallest detail. And then there are the big settings—the broad sweep of the Argentine plains with their enormous herds of cattle, the Buenos Ayres dance hall with its swirl of smoke and glamour, the whirling galaxy of the Persian tango palace, the fevered rush of the mobilization scenes at the outbreak of the war, the cluttered retreat of the refugees, the seemingly endless masses of German troops pouring toward Paris, the bombardment and destruction of a village and a chateau on the Marne, the terrific horror and fascination of an infantry attack from the trenches into No Man's Land. And through it all is the uncanny vision of St. John, picturing the Four Horsemen—Conquest, War, Famine and Death—a vision that Mr. Ingram has portrayed in an atmosphere of unearthly imagination.

All will be seen at the Majestic Sunday and Monday, January 8 and 9.

Ralph Masterson and Grover C. Wade from Jantura were in town Tuesday. They were called to Vale on Court business and came over to Ontario.
