While helping to feed their eighty lambs, Bill Puetz fell into the pen; He was reaching over to get one, And lost his balance then, Thoughts of his birthday near at hand, Most likely turned his brain; For as he tumbled over, He shouted with might and main; His faithful wife was close at hand, And clutching both his feet; She rescued him from the hungry lambs, In a way that can't be beat.

Mr. Puetz has contrived a feeder by which half a dozen lambs can be fed at once. Even at that it is almost a permanent job taking care of 86 orphan lambs.

Word has been received that John C., youngest brother of Fred Klingback, who is a fireman on a passenger train on the Southern Pacific, is one of eight enginemen to be presented with a beautiful gold hat badge by virtue of being a winner in the fuel saving contest in the best pool in freight and passenger service on the Tucson division.

Jack McConnell started his sheep feeding at the upper Klingback ranch.

Mrs. Rose Fletcher, who has been visiting Mrs. A. C. Bradley for the past few days, went back to Nyssa with Chas. Bradley Tuesday evening.

Wm. Puetz was a business visitor in Ontario Friday.

Jimmy Hite, scarlet fever patient, is very much better and the family will soon be out of quarantine. Fred Klingback and Frank DeBord
