

CLUB NOTES

Dairy Record Keepers Finish Work
The members of the Dairy Herd Record Keeping Clubs at Jefferson, White Settlement and Big Bend have finished their project and made their final report. Each boy kept milk and feed records on two cows for a period of six months. During the first two or three months the tests were not very accurate as none of the boys were experienced testers. At the present time however, nearly every boy cannot only make an accurate test, but can weigh the feed and take the sample of milk properly and can make the necessary record showing the profits or loss made by the cow during the month. This training is essential for the successful dairyman and fortunate is the boy who can secure this training that will enable him to properly carry on the business side of dairying.

Poultry Club at Moore's Hollow
Through the efforts of Mrs. E. M. Benson a Poultry Club has been organized at Moore's Hollow. Clair Davis is president of the club, and Marguerite Adam is vice-president, and Doris Benson, secretary.
The members of this club lack many of the advantages which club members in other parts of the county have, but they have the enthusiasm and desire to learn how to raise better poultry. Each member will start with from 20 to 30 standard bred chickens and under the direction of Mr. Davis will feed and also manage the chicks for a period of four months.

Three New Clubs at Kingman Kolony
A canning club, sewing club and pig club have recently been organized at Kingman Kolony. Many of the club members are taking their second and third year of club work.
Mrs. Conrad Martin, local leader of the canning club and Robert Overstreet, local leader of the pig club were local leaders of their respective clubs last year and brought them thru a 100 per cent. Mrs. H. Q. Johnson is local leader of the sewing club.
Corn Club at Upper Big Bend
Eight boys and girls have enrolled in the corn club project in District 47. At the meeting on April 19, they elected the following officers: President, Chester Wilson; vice-president, Rex Wickland; and secretary, Helen Fleetwood.

DANTE'S INFERNO OUTDONE IN ARMENIA

Wails of Starving Children Assail the Ears of Relief Workers at Erivan.

The tragic progression of famine conditions in Armenia is strikingly shown in the personal reports brought back by State Director J. J. Handsaker of the Near East Relief when he visited that section last August, and in the letters that have been received at intervals since.
"When I was there in the late summer," said Mr. Handsaker, "the conditions were truly appalling, despite the fact that the orphanages were filled to their utmost capacity and everything possible was being done. I myself selected a little naked girl with nineteen others from among hundreds of starving children to fill the only possible vacancies in the orphanage at Erivan at that time. However, the weather was warm, and the refugees could manage in some way to keep alive. Reports from Erivan in late September told of the coming of the cold weather, and how the reserves were drawn upon for the opening of additional soup-kitchens. Starving men women and children from all sections were flocking desperately to the Near East Relief stations in the hope of getting work, food and clothing. Two months later, under date of Nov. 29, we have news of the frightful situation that followed. This news came to Dr. Esther Lovejoy, of Portland, Oregon, who is national chairman of the American Women's Hospitals, from Dr. Mabel Elliott, in charge of the American Women's Hospitals in the Near East section. This organization is co-operating with the Near East Relief, and is handling the medical work of the latter at Erivan. Below is an excerpt from Dr. Mabel Elliott's letter to Dr. Lovejoy:
"I cannot begin to tell you, doctor, of the misery here in spite of the enormous amount of work being done. Since I have been here 852 is the lowest number of cases we have had in our hospitals at any one time, and yet they are dying on all corners of the city. Last Sunday we went out on horseback to see how things were beyond the town; we passed a dead horse by the side of the road, and three wretched human beings were sitting beside it, taking the flesh off with their hands. It was a most repulsive sight.
"All day long you can hear the groans and wails of little children outside our building in hopes we can and will pick them up. If the sun shines for a little while they quiet down, and then when it rains they begin again. One day the rain turned into snow and it was awful to listen to them. The note of terror that came into the general wail was distinctly perceptible, although my room was upstairs and the window was closed. They well know what a single night out in the snow would mean to them. We are picking them up as fast as possible.
"You can see by my report how many more patients we have than beds, and the same holds good in the orphanages. There is no use crowding them in so that they will all die."

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Coast," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.
Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?
ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat. Mr. Postmaster, Straighten up the rural letter box, Mr. Farmer. Tidy up some, Mr. Rural Carrier. First impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-8.

JUNTURA ITEMS

Mrs. A. Murphy passed through town Tuesday on her way to Ontario where she will undergo medical treatment.
The first ball game of the season was played here Sunday, Juntura vs. Drewsey which resulted in a victory for Juntura of 25 to 8.
Mr. G. W. Upson returned Friday from Denver Colorado where he was summoned by the death of his sister.
The dance which was given here Saturday night by Shorty's Jazz Trio from Homedale was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed.
Mrs. L. P. Delsole returned Saturday from Rupert Idaho where she has been visiting relatives for the past week.
Mrs. W. E. Hodges was hostess at a delightful party Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Juanita Upson whose engagement to Owen J. Cawfield of Portland was announced. A beautiful color scheme of yellow and white was artistically carried out, and the romance of the occasion which was poetically arranged by the hostess, deserves special mention. The afternoon was spent in hemming articles for the brides linen chest, after which a delicious three course luncheon was served.
A. H. Altnow transacted business in town Thursday.
The work of refinishing the inside of the Catholic Church was completed last week by V. J. Hopkin.
Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kauphusman motored to Beulah Sunday evening accompanied by Mrs. D. F. Murphy who returned home after visiting two weeks with friends and relatives here.
Mrs. James Gearheart of Drewsey was the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. E. Masterson this week.

WESTINGHOUSE SERVICE STATIONS

Not only because they represent the acme of perfection in the Storage Battery field, not only because they have linked their names with that of a concern that has held the confidence of a nation for more than half a century—

Nor, even because under the guarantee covering the product they handle (they are selling a year and a half of assured battery satisfaction to their customers)—rather than merely a storage battery. But, because the advantageous circumstances surrounding their connection gives them greater opportunities and manifold benefits than other battery service stations enjoy.

Because, Westinghouse, welding its service stations into one great service organization is able to stand squarely behind each individual member, cooperate with him in the development of his business—and carry him to the success which must come, when identified with so powerful an organization.

There is a wonderful opportunity for some aggressive dealer in this territory to enjoy the benefits of the Westinghouse franchise; write, wire or phone at our expense for information.
