C. T. LOCEY CROSSED TO OREGON TWICE

(Contributed)
Cyros T. Locey, son of Dr. A. R. T. Locey was born in Mineral Point Wisconsin September 18, 1835.

In 1846 with his father he crossed the plains in an ox team and settled in Oregon City, Oregon; from there they moved to California in 1849 where Dr. Locey established a hospital in 1850, but his health failing they returned to Illinois and from there they crossed the plains again to Oregon City where Dr. Locey died in 1853. After the death of his father, Mr. Locey realizing the need of an education, and fully professed with the ambition for the same, constructed a wheelbarrow and with what clothes and books he possessed, loaded them in and started on foot for Pacific University at Forest Grove, Oregon where he entered college in the fall of 54 and completed a three year course.

After leaving the University he worked for several years on the river Co." He was married January 1, 1860 to Miss Maria Morritt of Oregon City.

In 1871 with his family he moved on a farm near Eldorado, Oregon, where they lived for six years and true to his life's principles, his first thought was for the spiritual welfare of the people, accordingly he and his wife organized and maintained a Sunday School, which was the first Sunday School in Malheur County.

In 1877 they moved to Ironside, their present home where they have lived continuously for the past 45 years and where throughout those years they maintained a Sunday School. Mr. Locey was a devout Christian and member of the Congregational Church and by the consistency of his life made his christian influence felt far and wide. To say that Mr. and Mrs. Locey are pioneers is putting it mildly, for without the experience no one can realize what it means to go through more than a half century of such life.

The first year in their new home they were visited by a band of Indians decorated in war paint and feathers, but no damages was done; however the following year they returned and were obliged to take refuge in a log building, but fortunately the Indians passed without molesting them and the only depredations committed were among the freighters along the road and sheepherders. When it became known at headquarters that they were on the war path, General Howard was sent out with a company of soldiers and rounded them up and returned them to the Yakima Reservation.

When the county was divided Mr. Locey was appointed one of its first commissioners and filled the office faithfully always working for the good of the county and the best interest of the people. But his greatest interest was his work for the Master in the spiritual welfare of the community. Through his untiring efforts he maintained not only the Sunday School, but much of the time preached services when no minister could be obtained in the community where he lived for nearly a half century, and in the absence of a minister Mr. Locey was called upon to officiate at the burying of the dead.

His home was always open to all who came, or as the proverbial saying is, "the latch string always hung out" and no one in all the years ever went away without being sheltered and fed.

Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Locey, four of whom are living: Mrs. James Lackey, Miss Mary Locey, Fred Locey and Ernest Locey. Besides the wife and mother, Mrs. C. T. Locey, who is now in her 82nd year, and the four children, nine grandchildren are left to mourn the loss. Mr. Locey had been a patient sufferer for many months, and the end came peacefully on Saturday April 15, 1922. The floral tributes, the gift of friends and loved ones was the most beautiful that ever went out of the little valley, and spoke as nothing else could, the love and esteem in which he was held. The funeral services conducted by Rev. D. D. Reese were held at the school house at Ironside, which was filled to its capacity by friends from far and near who had gathered to pay tribute of respect. The text most fitting for the occasion was taken from II Timothy 4:7-8—"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid upon me a crown of righteousness which the Lord the righteous judge shall give me at that day: and not to me only but unto all them also that love his appearing."

He was laid to rest in the little cemetery on the brow of the hill over looking the valley he loved and where he spent so many useful years.
