

LOCAL PERSONALS

Mrs. Geo. Lyells and Mrs. Clarence Poorman returned last week from Eugene, where they attended the Rebekah convention of Oregon. They came from Portland by auto and stopped in Baker for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brutzman have leased the Con Ryan home. The Moore Hotel has secured the services of a new French chef.

Clarence Crouter made a business trip to Boise Sunday.

T. McParlin Gough, publisher of the Parma Review, was a business visitor in Ontario Monday.

Mrs. L. Ready went to Salt Lake last week to meet her daughter, Florence, who spent the winter at Long Beach, Calif., and went to school there. They returned to Ontario Monday.

Mrs. E. S. Fortner left last Friday for Portland where she will study music for several months. Mrs. Fortner had the misfortune to have her traveling bag drop from the car enroute from their home to the station. The person who found it extracted a small amount of currency and then took it and dropped it on the highway north of the city where it was found later by an honest man, who finding the railroad tickets, etc., hurried the bag to the station before the train left.

County Agent L. R. Briethaupt and E. B. Conklin left today for a several days' trip to Jordan Valley.

A. L. Crockro, R. W. Swagler and W. H. Brooke made a week end trip to the Jordan Valley country where they captured all the perch they could bring home with them.

Arthur Crockro, who was one of the class of 415 who graduated from O. A. C. last week returned home Tuesday with his degree from the department of commerce.

C. R. Emison left Sunday for Portland on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dorman and Miss Alice Rorman, accompanied by Mrs. John Dunphy, drove to Boise Tuesday to witness the polo game.

Mr. and Mrs. Larue Blackaby were among those who caught the limit at Jordan Valley Sunday.

Miss Ruth McCulloch returned home Saturday from Portland where she spent the winter attending the Ellison-White music conservatory.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Billingsley returned from the Ironside country where they spent some time on the homestead. Don Platt came down with them.

Mrs. C. F. Cox, accompanied by her son, Lewis, and her daughter, Virginia, left this morning on No. 18 for Chicago, where they will spend the summer. Mrs. Cox will take a post graduate course in the American Musical Conservatory.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackaby, accompanied by a family party, motored to the Starkey Hot Springs Sunday and returned that day. The roads are so excellent that they made the entire trip of 168 miles and had five hours to enjoy the sights of the mountain resort.

Judge Wood and Andrew Robinson leave today for Canyon City to attend the '62 celebration which is being held in Canyon City to commemorate the finding of gold on Canyon creek.

Mrs. O. H. Graham entertained the Monday bridge club this week.

M. D. Thomas left this morning for his home in Columbia, Mo.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Cochran and family leave today for Gooding, Idaho, to make their home.

Mrs. L. R. Briethaupt and Miss Luella B. Callin were among those who attended the sessions of the Idaho Music Teachers' association convention in Boise last week. They went to Boise on Wednesday, Mrs. Briethaupt returned on Sunday, while Miss Callin remained over until Monday.

NOT LEAVING PERMANENTLY
In a communication from Mrs. George Howe written at Boise, the Argus was informed this week that Mr. and Mrs. Howe are not going to make the Idaho capital their future home, but that they are to leave soon for Santa Rosa, Calif., to stay for one, two or perhaps three years. She also said that they have not sold their Ontario home, but just rented it, and that they want their friends to know that they are still "Ontario folk", thus correcting the statement which appeared in the last issue of this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon and Mrs. B. F. Nott of Nampa, were the guests Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stewart.

O. M. Castleman and Ralph Swafford leave Monday for Bend and other DesChutes county points in search of mountain trout. They expect to be gone two weeks.

A son, Harry, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ralston.

FRUITLAND BENCH

Glenn Eldredge, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Eldredge, and Miss Ann Bledsoe, of Weiser, were married Sunday by Rev. C. L. Walker, pastor of the Methodist church at Payette. They will reside at New Plymouth, where Mr. Eldredge has a position in a garage.

Miss Sophia Blind returned Saturday from Lewiston where she has been attending Normal the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Cochran of Payette attended the dedication exercises of the M. E. church and were guests at the Frank Thompson home.

M. E. Church Dedicate'd Sunday
Bishop Chas. W. Burns of Helena area, made a trip to Fruitland for the purpose of being present at the dedication of the M. E. church. Other ministers present were Dist. Supt. E. W. Ewing of Boise, Rev. W. W. VanDusen of Boise, formerly pastor at Fruitland; Clyde L. Walker of Payette, and Rev. George C. Todd. The church and parsonage cost $13,500. Previous to yesterday there had been paid on it all but $4500, and before dedication $3900 was subscribed, leaving about $600, which ten members of the official board guaranteed. A Memorial gift of $500 from Philadelphia given thru Bishop Burns from his friends was a complete surprise to the board and congregation. Bishop Burns was greatly pleased at the wonderful achievement of so little a town in building such a complete church and asked that slides be made of same for use.

Ivan Moreland, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mortland of Fruitland, and Harold Gray and a Sanborn boy left their homes two weeks ago and have not been heard from since. The Moreland boy went to Ontario and his parents expected he would return after spending the day there. The boys have not been heard from since and have caused the parents much anxiety.

Word has been received that Arney Bollinger, youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Bollinger and Miss Florence Moyer of Lansdale, Penn., were married on June 2nd. Mr. Bollinger taught the 7th grade in the Fruitland school three years ago, and since that time has been in college at Manchester, Ind., where he met Miss Moyer. The newlyweds are expecting to make an extended visit here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Morse of Flint, Mich., are the parents of a daughter Betty Jane, born May 28th.

SEVERAL OF DESCENDENTS NOT LISTED IN LAST ISSUE

In preparing the list of the descendants of Mrs. George W. Blanton for publication last week the following names were omitted: Grand Children, Charles Leavitt, Sadie Crum, Frank Leavitt, Francis McGregor, Frank Leavitt and Elmer Leavitt; great grandchildren, Lois and Charles Leavitt, Grace, Arma and Fred Crump, Tressa Leavitt, Vernon, Elzie and Letha McGregor and Elmer Leavitt.

GRIFFIN-HOFFMAN

Another belated announcement of a wedding announcement was made this week when it became known that Miss Nan Hoffman of Juntura, who has been a student at the training school of the Holy Rosary hospital for the past three years, was married at Weiser on April 17th, to Howard Griffin of Payette, one of the well known beekeepers of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin are both well known in this section and the announcement of their marriage which was withheld until Mrs. Griffin had completed her nurse's training course, was a distinct surprise. They have gone to house-keeping in Payette.

MANY FARMERS ATTEND ALFALFA WEEVIL PROGRAM

off at which Claud Wakeland, experiment station entomologist for Idaho was the chief speaker. Mr. Wakeland has spent six years in western states studying the alfalfa weevil and working on control measures. He is probably the best authority in the subject in the country. At least he has had abundant opportunity to see the weevil operate over extensive territory and to witness the attempts of hundreds of farmers to control the pest through various schemes as well as to try out every conceivable method on his own account. As a result of it all he recommends spraying with calcium arsenate, 2 pounds to 100 gallons of water, as the cheapest and most effective of all methods. He stated that about 200,000 acres had been sprayed thus far and, contrary to the rumors which uninformed persons have spread about no authentic cases of stock poisoning has ever been recorded. Some stock, however, have been lost from the use of hay from orchards where heavy coatings of lead arsenate resulted from the spraying of trees. It is well known that when livestock particularly horses, are turned into orchards in the fall that they not only eat many of the fallen apple leaves which are also whitewashed with poison. There is a distinct difference between these conditions and that of the field which receives a very light spray of calcium arsenate which also does not have the cumulative poisoning effects which the lead has.

Mr. Wakeland gave a thorough explanation of the life history and the history of control work. He told about the efforts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to introduce weevil parasites from Europe and the benefits which one parasite is now bringing to alfalfa growers in certain parts of Utah where it was first introduced. He expressed great hopes for this means of control, but said that it would be necessary to introduce other kinds of parasites before the control would be satisfactory. This government is trying to do this, but is having difficulty to get them to live in this country. At the best, he said, it will require several years before these can catch up with the weevil. In the mean time he urged that farmers get together and cooperate to put the pest under control before the growing of alfalfa becomes impossible. So many questions were asked at the conclusion of his talk that the specialist was hardly allowed to sit down.

W. H. Doolittle, mayor of Ontario, in a short address welcomed the visiting delegates, who had assembled from all over the Snake River valley from points as far as 80 miles or more. He told of the advantages to be gained for the entire valley through cooperation. H. G. Peckham, president of the Idaho State Farm Bureau, who presided at the meeting, brought out many pertinent points. He showed the necessity for action in order to save the one crop which is best suited to many types of land and the crop which has served as the basis of our agriculture in maintaining soil fertility and providing feed for dairying and live stock husbandry. He called for suggestions on how all of the farmers of the Snake river valley might cooperate to bring the pest under control. President Van Petten of the Ontario Commercial club added to the effectiveness of the program in a short talk in which he pointed out the value in dollars, running into hundreds of thousands, which the alfalfa hay crop meant to the county, and suggested that the value of the government experimental work should be given consideration in preference to the theories of those little familiar with the problem. This sentiment seemed to carry weight with the crowd, and the remark that laws should be passed to compel spraying alfalfa, unless it be plowed up, was heard quite frequently during the time after adjournment of the program part and the consumption of ice cream and lemonade by courtesy of the Ontario Commercial club.

At 3:00 P. M. a demonstration of spraying alfalfa was given by Don Whelan, extension entomologist for Idaho. Practically everybody went to the Homer Utley farm to see this. The outfit was a two-horse tractor type sprayer covering a strip 24 feet wide. After the operation of the machine had been watched for some time, Mr. Whelan explained the proportions of calcium arsenate used and answered scores of questions asked by the interested spectators.
