

FRUITLAND BENCH

Church of Christ to be Dedicated Sunday
 June 18th, the new Church of Christ in Fruitland will be dedicated. Rev. G. W. Williams and Rev. E. C. Johnson are expected from Midvale to assist in the ceremony. This building has only recently been completed, everything in a finished condition both inside and out. The main building is 28x36 and then there is the outer vestibule and tower. It was built at a cost of $1600 and they feel proud of their accomplishment. The membership here was started about seven years ago and services have been held in a smaller building which has been moved to make room for the larger one. There will be an all day meeting and basket dinner, and everyone is cordially invited to be present.

Channer & Grimes Sell Garage
 John Heckes on Saturday took possession of the stock and merchandise of the Fruitland Garage. He will also operate the mechanical department. Monday four men were engaged in remodeling the building on the southeast corner, whereby there will be built a double drive service station. Mr. Heckes is well known here and it is hoped the new venture will be a success. James McClure and Henry Tussing will be associated with him and look after the mechanical department. Mr. Channer will probably go to California, and Mr. Grimes will take up his old line of work of moving houses.

Walker-White
 Miss Verla Walker, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walker, and Logan White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, went to Caldwell Saturday where they were married by Rev. White, Baptist minister. They returned to Fruitland and are at home on their ranch south of here.

STRONG CAST STARS IN "SILENT YEARS"

A big theme, developed in a big way by Louis J. Gasnier, strikes a strong dramatic note in "Silent Years," the R-C Picture Majestic Theatre Saturday only.

In the part of Jo Morey, otherwise Mam'selle Jo, Rose Dione, prominent French actress, gives a brilliant interpretation.

Tully Marshall is another well known actor who has an important role. Others in the cast are Geo. McDaniel, George Seigman, Will Jim Hatton, Jack Mower, James O. Barrows, Jack Livingston, Ruth King, Kate Toncray, Lillian Rambeau, Jena O'Rourke and Ruth Ashby.

REBUKE THAT WAS DESERVED

How Andrew Jackson, Warrior President, Gave Buchanan a Fairly Gentle "Call Down."

Andrew Jackson, warrior and President, was a follower of the doctrine which exalts the value of attending to one's own business. On one occasion James Buchanan, who was a diplomat, a gentleman and a scholar, and somewhat of a ladies' man, although he lived and died unmarried, brought an English woman of high degree to call upon General Jackson, then monarch of all he surveyed in and around the White House. Leaving the lady in the reception room below and going upstairs to the President's private quarters, Senator Buchanan (for he was the newly elected senator from Pennsylvania at that time) found Jackson unshorn and unkempt in dressing gown and slippers before a blazing log fire, smoking his cob pipe. When he was told about the beautiful English woman, he replied that he would be delighted to meet her, and ordered Senator Buchanan to go back and tell her that the President would be down immediately. Senator Buchanan was terribly afraid that General Jackson would not change his appearance before he made his appearance in the drawing room and he ventured to suggest to him the propriety of his doing so.

"Buchanan," said the old warrior, rising and deliberately knocking the ashes out of his pipe, "I will tell you something that will do you good, as it doth the upright in heart, and that is, that I once knew a man down in Tennessee who made a fortune by attending to his own business."
