FRUITLAND BENCH

A very simple but impressive home wedding was that on Sunday at high noon, when Miss Veda Marguerite Waite was married to Mr. Elvin Rands, the ceremony being performed by Rev. George C. Todd, pastor of the M. E. church in Fruitland, using the English ring ceremony. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Waite.

C. H. Sargent, while at church Sunday evening had the misfortune to have his Willys-Knight car taken by someone who used up several gallons of gas for a joy ride. The next morning Mr. Sargent found the car in the lumber yard with the key gone.

Sunday the Idaho-Oregon Knights of Columbus annual picnic was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Hengeder on Pennsylvania avenue south of Fruitland. There were about 350 present who made merry the whole day.

Saturday evening a deal was closed whereby Henry Reins purchased from the John Bosch estate forty acres on the bench two miles north of Fruitland, for which he paid $18,000. On the forty are 22 acres of producing apple trees, 3 acres of prunes, and the remainder in grain and hay. Besides the crop all personal property, two horses, sprayer and machinery go with the deal. Mr. Reins also a short time ago purchased from Mr. Steigerwalt ten acres of orchard, for $5500. This land lies a quarter of a mile west of the Bisch forty.

Waldo Homan came home from Chicago for a visit with his parents. He is a student in medicine in that city.

Paul Dalzell was unfortunate Saturday in having the third finger of the right hand cut off when he fell from his bicycle, the finger becoming entangled in the handle bar.

Miss Gladys Smith joined Lot Bowman at Baker, Oregon, where they were married last week, and went to southern California where they will make their home.

BAY HORSE FORGING AHEAD

Recent news from the Bay Horse Mine, located nine miles north of Huntington, Oregon, is certainly encouraging to the stockholders. The week of June 18th to 24th Superintendent Miller shipped five cars of ore which assays indicate will run from $100 to $1500 per car net at the smelter.

Since the tramway has been in commission the mine has shipped 19 cars of ore that will run equally as well as the last 5 cars. There are no figures at hand at this writing of the smelter returns but it can be depended to run as good or better per car as the mine assays indicate.

An air compressor has been installed and mining is now done with air drills which is a decided improvement on hand work. The force of men now numbers 24 with an increase in force as rapidly as accommodations can be made in the camp and room can be found in the mine to put them on.

The "Mining Truth", of Spokane, in its issue of June 2, 1922, says:

More Accomodations Needed.

The main difficulty with regard to increasing shipments at the present time is not lack of ore of the same of even better grade, but accommodations for the larger crew required. As soon as camp accommodations are increased, it is intended to increase the force and bring the output up to a 40-ton car per day. Incidentally, it should not be forgotten that the ore being shipped was just the ordinary stuff knocked down as development proceeded. With a crew of men, and operating and overhead charges amounting to $250 per day, with an output netting at least $1000 per day from one-car shipments, the property would appear, at a conservative estimate, capable of netting the company $750 per day, or $22,500 per month, or roughly about 15 per cent of the capitalization per month.

The Bay Horse is one of the topics of talk in mining centers. The company has taken the stock off the market, but private sales in Spokane and other mining centers is very active. Men who bought at 10c and 20c per share are selling at a profit now at 25c, 30c and 35c, and as "speculators", pure and simple holders will be selling when stock will go to 50c and $1.00 per share. Men in Spokane are offering to wager that Bay Horse stock will be at $1.00 per share before Jan. 1, 1923.

MISS ANN

By HAZEL V. PARIS.

© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

On that hot August morning the sun beat down mercilessly on the little village. The occasional passing carriage stirred up clouds of dust that settled on the dried, brown and already thickly coated grass and trees. Only the whirr of the locust broke the heavy silence. Not the faintest white cloud in the blazing blue sky promised relief from the intolerable weather.

At the click of the gate and the sound of a quick step on the brick path, Miss Elizabeth Ann pushed her spectacles up from the tip of her nose and waited for her visitor to appear around the corner of the little porch, closed in with honeysuckle vines, whose heavy odor made the atmosphere more oppressive.

"Good morning, Miss Emmons," said the cheery voice of a young man, tall and fair, his well-built figure showing to splendid advantage in the service uniform of a major.

"Why, Bobbie Andrews! Bless my soul! We didn't expect you back for at least a month yet. Bless my soul! Elizabeth, Elizabeth Ann!" she called, as she turned in the doorway.

"Yes, auntie." Then as she saw the man, "Bob!" In a second she was in his arms laughing, sobbing, crying, all in the same breath.

"Bob, I can't believe it's true—back—oh! I can scarcely believe it's you."

As the two lovers, arm in arm, went down from the little porch and over to the old grape arbor, Miss Elizabeth Ann resumed her seat and her knitting behind the honeysuckle vines. For a few moments she worked quietly and steadily; then, as the tears, which stubbornly refused to be kept back, blinded her vision and dropped on her gaired, wrinkled fingers, she laid down her needles and wept softly and tremulously.

Fifty-eight years ago a splendid, stalwart young soldier had opened the gate of the garden, stepped quickly up the path onto the porch, and greeted a silver-haired old lady who was knitting behind the honeysuckle vines. "Elizabeth, Elizabeth Ann," she had called, stepping to the door. "Yes, auntie—coming."

It was she, Miss Elizabeth Ann, who, in her quaint hoop-skirt, with her black hair arranged smoothly in braids around her ears, had stepped out shyly to greet her lover, Bobbie Andrews' uncle. Leaving a dear old silver-haired lady sitting behind the honeysuckle vines, together they had gone down from the little porch into the garden to the grape arbor.

Then Elizabeth Ann had walked down the brick path with him, and when the gate had clicked and he started up the village street, she waited to wave her handkerchief as he turned back.

John Andrews was answering his country's call. There was a parting—the final parting—he had not come back to her as had Bob to little Elizabeth Ann.

What is a season without a few new colors? Thus we have them—forward comes some fashion authority and announces in our midst that the four newest and most popular colors of the present moment are rosewood, chow, aztec and humming bird.

With rosewood we're more or less familiar—we've met it in pianos, spinet, desks and so on.

But chow! 'Tis a different story—it might be anything from a pet pup to the food your doughboy existed on in those mad days of memory.

Aztec—ah! There's something to conjure with! The name brings visions of bright shawls, beads and painted feathers in which we might array ourselves and bedeck the Sunday landscape.

As for humming bird—the subtleties of that are left to your imagination.

NOTICE IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR MALHEUR COUNTY

In the Matter of the Estate of Oscar Merrill, Presumed, Deceased To, Oscar Merrill, presumed to be deceased, and to all others to whom it may concern:

That on the 14th day of August, 1922, at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M. Evidence in the above entitled cause will be heard in the above entitled Court before the undersigned County Judge of Malheur county, Oregon, concerning the alleged absence of the said Oscar Merrill, for more than seven years, without known cause, and the circumstances and duration thereof.

This notice is published for four consecutive weeks in the Ontario Argus, a weekly newspaper, published in and of general circulation in Malheur County, Oregon, date of first publication being June 29, 1922, date of last publication July 27, 1922.

E. H. Test
County Judge of Malheur County, State of Oregon.

From France it is reported that the Establishment Schneider of Creusot, manufacturers of guns, armor, locomotives and other steel products, are hard at work on a new four-engined military airplane in which the four engines will be arranged in tandem inside a central fuselage. The wing span will be about 100 feet, and the power plant is to consist of four engines of 400 horsepower each. The machine will be designed for bombing work, and will carry several machine guns. The Farman "Goliath" pilot, Lieut. Gonin, has been engaged to test the first machine, while it is possible that Casale, who has already tested the Bleriot "Mammoth," will test the second machine.—Scientific American
