

LOCAL PERSONALS

Jeff Wilson of Burns, was one of the names which adorned the register at the Moore Tuesday.

O Henry Schuppell who tells Idahoans about the beauties of Oregon life, was an Ontario visitor on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ironside is a new address which Donald McLeod, the well known sheepman gave when he registered this week at the Moore. If Mr. McLeod changed his address with every movement of his bands of sheep he would indeed be hard to locate—but he is in Ontario so much that he can call this his home—if he wants to.

J. D. Fairman of Argentine beef fame, was an Ontario visitor Monday. Mr. Fairman is a man of many activities and is known to practically everyone in the upper country. Two years ago Jack made his bid for fame by writing a treatise on canned beef that was given wide circulation and publicity. What Mr. Fairman really works at, however, is running the bank at Harper.

Will Jamieson, who has been down in Nevada with some of the Stanfield flocks, was registered at the Moore Monday.

After a fire, one of the first men welcomed by the man who suffers the loss in this section, is A. J. Hall, adjuster for many companies with headquarters in Boise. Mr. Hall came here Monday to adjust the loss on the Holden Clement wheat stack fire.

Harry Kennard, who is the deputy water master for this county, was in Ontario over the week end, accompanied by his boss, Rhea Luper, who has been appointed supervisor of water distribution by the state water board.

U. F. Powell of Boise, the commission man who has a plant here, was in the city on business Tuesday.

Two auto loads of Ontario people who though they have lived within reach of it for years, had never seen the Arrowrock dam, motored up to the gigantic piece of masonry Sunday. In the party to climb the thousand or more steps were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rader, Bernard and Harrison Rader, Mrs. E. C. Van Petten, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Petten, Miss Amy Canfield and Mrs. Jacob Prinzing of Nampa.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Staples motored to Boise Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Powers and family drove to Council Sunday.

Mrs. Pat. O'Brien returned this week from a several weeks' stay in the hills on a camping trip. Mr. O'Brien remained in the upper country for several days more of vacationing.

P. J. Gallagher returned Friday from Burns where he went on business. He made the return trip from the Harney metropolis with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Swagler.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Boise, motored to Ontario Sunday for dinner and then proceeded to Payette where Mr. Brown boarded the convention special bound for Wallace.

Mrs. S. S. Widiger of Superior, Wisconsin, is the guest of her daughter Mrs. W. E. Lees.

Mrs. Andrew Lackey and Miss Ruth Lackey who toured the Yellowstone during the past two weeks returned home Monday after an extended visit in St. Anthony, Idaho with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lackey.

H. C. Boyer is back from New York where he went in search of merchandise for the coming season.

O. H. Graham left Sunday for Port Angeles, Washington, where Mrs. Graham has spent the summer while he was in the east and middle west on business.

Judge and Mrs. E. H. Test are back from a trip to Wallowa Lakes, enthusiastic over the beauties of that region.

P. E. Joyce, menaing Pete, not Pat, one of the many of the Joyce family engaged in the sheep business in Malheur county, registered at the Moore from Juntura this week.

Westfall Couple Married
Rev. Henry Young of the Methodist church at the parsonage last Monday, read the marriage service for Liberty P. Chastain and Miss Marie Fahy, both of Westfall.

Card of Thanks
To the many friends and neighbors whose sympathy expressed in the hour of our bereavement at the death of our beloved mother, we cherish, and to those organizations and individuals who manifested their sentiments in beautiful floral pieces, we desire to express our gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McDowell.
