Christmas Turkey Situation

The wind-up of the Thanksgiving turkey deal was rather unsatisfactory in most markets. Seattle and Portland markets carried over considerable surplus due to slow demand from consumers and heavy unexpected late receipts. San Francisco market was entirely demoralized Wednesday before Thanksgiving due to the heaviest receipts in the history of their business. It is estimated that 300,000 lbs. of turkeys were carried over which will have to be disposed of at Christmas or later as frozen stock. Chicago and Central West markets were also over-supplied.

We are also advised that there will be heavy importations of turkeys for Christmas from Canada, France, Argentine and Australia.

With the heavy supply still to be marketed, it will be necessary to make some early shipments for December to distant markets, and we will send out our next quotation about December 8th.

CAUTION: Too much care cannot be taken in bleeding, dressing and cooling out your birds if you do your own killing. Be sure that every bird dressed is absolutely free from feathers or pin feathers with the exception of the small fan or wing tips up to the first joint, which should be left on.

We suggest you keep in touch with our local buyer Mr. McMurren.

OREGON SLOPE

OREGON SLOPE RANCHERS EXPERIMENT IN FIELD CROPS

Farm Bureau Members Outline Extensive Program of Experimentation for Coming Year—Other Slope Items

The annual Farm Bureau meeting of Oregon Slope was held at 8 o'clock. The following program of work was adopted for the coming year: Experiment in crops, wheat and soy beans by A. A. Gutteridge; beans and corn by A. Breithaupt, Jonas Brown and P. M. Boals; potatoes, J. L. Brown; lettuce and cauliflower, by G. W. Lattig; fruit by P. M. Boals, committeeman; dairy stock by C. A. Karst, committeeman. The election of chairman resulted in J. L. Brown receiving the honor by a unanimous vote. E. B. Conklin of Cairo, was present and recited several of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, which were greatly enjoyed. County club leader Kinder played several selections on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Kinder. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Kinder sang a number of solos with Mrs. Breithaupt at the piano and Mr. Kinder on the violin.

A. A. Gutteridge and P. M. Boals were guests Wednesday noon at the Commercial club luncheon at Ontario where they presented the view point of the rancher in regard to the extension service of O. A. C. and the necessity of continuing the work of the county agent.

It has been estimated that thirty thousand bushels of potatoes were left in the ground and are frozen on the Slope, because of the low price.

Mr. Ewing lost two valuable horses recently with mountain fever.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilcox and children and F. B. Wilcox were delightfully entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at the T. H. Carico home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lattig, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Karst, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Breithaupt and Water Davis and family and P. M. Boals and family enjoyed their Thanksgiving dinner together at the Boals home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Clough, Geo. and Maude Culp were entertained at the J. L. Brown home Thursday evening. Rook featured the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Vincent entertained eleven guests at Thanksgiving dinner.

Otto C. Miller and son spent Friday and Saturday in Huntington.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Simpson and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Karr on Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brown have had as their house guests the past week, Alvin Snyder of Nampa, a brother of Mrs. Brown.

Mr. Withers of the Mosquito Flat moved to the A. R. White ranch last week.

Mesdames J. L. Brown and Clayton McVickers entertained a number of friends at a delightful Thanksgiving dinner.

Geo. Howard of Weiser spent the week end with his brother D. W. Howard and wife.

John Conner visited at the J. G. White home in Ontario Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Christian and Mr. and Mrs. Dill Christian of Payette were guests Sunday of Otto Meili and wife.
