NEARLY HALF MILLION SHEEP IN THIS COUNTY

At the present time the number of sheep in Malheur county amounts to nearly one half million, according to Frank B. Hopkins, President of the Oregon Wool Growers, who paid a recent visit to Vale, reporting that the number of rental lambs and the woolly animals is not less than four times that of the sheep reported in the last record of the county. The surveying during the past month has been mostly in the vicinity of the Vale bailed-off district, where wool producers are the greatest number. It is believed that the report of the county headquarters, as of Dec. 1, is correct.

Woolen Manufacturers

HARRY HAMPTON, manager of the Vale Woolen Mills, reports that the market is generally firm and the demand for the product has become steadily greater since the last report. He estimates that the Vale knitting mill has a total capital of $500,000, and that the product of the mill is in great demand. The mill is expected to ship a large amount of wool during the next season, and the demand for the product is expected to continue to increase.

TO REVOLUTIONIZE RATES FOR WOOL

Malheur and Harney Woolgrowers Will Meet at Vale in the Near Future.

The woolgrowers of Malheur and Harney counties plan to meet at Vale in the near future and to discuss the possibility of revolutionizing the rates for wool. The meeting will be held in the Vale Woolen Mills, and is expected to attract a large number of woolgrowers from both counties.

THE HANDLING OF WOOL

It is expected that the meeting will be a success, and that a new system of handling wool will be agreed upon. The woolgrowers of the two counties are well known for their efficiency and their desire to improve the wool industry. The meeting will be an opportunity for the woolgrowers to discuss the current problems of the wool industry and to work towards a solution.

THE VALUE OF WOOL

The value of wool is a topic that will be discussed at the meeting. The woolgrowers will consider the current prices of wool and the factors that affect the value of wool. They will also consider the future of the wool industry and the steps that need to be taken to ensure its success.

THE FUTURE OF WOOL

The future of wool is an important topic that will be discussed at the meeting. The woolgrowers will consider the potential of the wool industry and the steps that need to be taken to ensure its success. They will also consider the potential of other industries and the steps that need to be taken to diversify the local economy.

THE MEETING AT VALE

The meeting at Vale will be an opportunity for the woolgrowers to discuss the current problems of the wool industry and to work towards a solution. It is expected to be a successful meeting, and it will be an important step in the development of the wool industry in Malheur and Harney counties.
