

MAN WHO STOLE SADDLE TRACED AND ARRESTED

Sholtz in Toils for Exchanging Old Saddle for a New One at Westfall

Sheriff Dan Kerfoot arrived in this city Tuesday morning with Bruneau Scholtz wanted for the stealing of a saddle from Scott High at the Jim Small ranch on Bully Creek just above Westfall on last Saturday.

It is understood that Scholtz stayed at the Small place Friday evening and that on leaving in the morning he left his old saddle and rode off with High's saddle. However, he was soon located as riding through Bridgeport over in the southern part of Baker county, where he was headed off and arrested by a Baker deputy upon the advice of Sheriff Kerfoot, who then went after Scholtz. The saddle was found in Scholtz possession and recovered.

BIG TREAT FOR VALE NEXT WEDNESDAY

The first of the large number of rare treats in store for the people of this city will take place on next Wednesday, October 16, when Miss Katharine Trevette, the famous Recitist and Impersonator of Chicago, will present a splendid program in the local opera house.

This entertainment is being given under the auspices of the high school for the purpose of swelling the "gymnasium fund" and should be patronized by every person in this city. The concert promises to be the best ever heard in this city as the Portland Oregonian states that it is "A delightful evening of Impersonation and Recitation". The Portland Telegram says it is, "A night of delight. A large and critical audience was thoroughly delighted". And the Boise Capital News says, "A large audience—every number thoroughly enjoyed—Miss Trevette is indeed an artist, deserving of the best audiences everywhere".

Seats are now on sale at the Vale Drug Store and the admission charge has been placed as low as 35, 25 and 15 cents so that everybody can attend.

ALFALFA IS MOST PROFITABLE CROP

A. J. McNeen has completed threshing his alfalfa seed crop within the city limits, says the Nyssa Journal. Twenty-eight large, seamless sacks were required to hold the crop from the five city blocks comprising the field. The net returns will be close to $450 from seed alone. A crop of hay was cut early in the season, being sold at the price of $7 per ton delivered to residents in the vicinity, no haul being more than ten blocks from the field. The value of the hay amounted to $125, making a total of $575.

Mrs. G. L. Worth is a cousin of Harry P. Osborne of this city and her son married a grand daughter of "Grandpa" Palmer of this city. Harry P. Osborne who is a former New Yorker states that the property sought by the steel trust is a most valuable one and that the Worths will realize a neat sum if the deal is made.

WINNING "REDS" ARE BANQUETED

Eighty Christian Endeavors and Guests are Royally Entertained on Tuesday Evening

The losers proved to be "good losers" in the Christian Endeavor Society contest on Tuesday evening when they "made good" their promises—that of banqueting the winners. The feast was not only tendered but a social was given in honor of the "Reds"—the winning team.

It was on June 9th the local Young People's Christian Endeavor was divided into two teams, the Reds and the Whites. Miss Pearl Halliday was chosen captain of the "Whites" and Mrs. J. Kelley leader of the "Reds" and the members of the society were equally divided for the purpose of contesting for honors as to which side would by September 1st bring in the largest number of new members into the society. Points were also to be given on the best attendance and for the largest number on each team taking part in the weekly Sunday meetings.

It was a royal contest that started on June 9th. The Reds started to work earnestly and the Whites put forth every effort to win, but on September 1st the Reds had brought in 15 new members to the 14 secured by the opposing team. The meetings were enlivened by larger numbers in attendance and nearly everybody was taking part. However, the Reds won with 980 points to their credit against 803 secured by the Whites. It had been a battle royal and the total membership of the society has increased to 63 as the result of the contest.

Naturally the Reds were anxious about the promises of the losers and on Tuesday evening eighty Endeavors and friends filled the Episcopal Guild hall to enjoy the big event. Games of various kinds were enjoyed before a splendid program was rendered consisting of a piano solo by Miss Hill, recitation by Mrs. Kester, vocal solo by Mrs. Dunlop, recitation by Miss McColm; quartet by Mrs. Ruring, Miss Cook, C. B. Smith and Rev. Cook; and a violin solo by Vernon Trout. All of the selections were so greatly enjoyed that each number on the program was most appreciatively encored.

Guessing and matching games then formed the pastime until President Frank Mulkey "put one" over the winners by announcing that the banquet would now be served—each person then receiving two small soup crackers and an extra thin slice of cheese—it was a two-course feast.

The mouths of the winners dropped—the "Whites" had at last beaten the "Reds." But the joke was too good to keep and after partners had been chosen Mrs. Kelley, captain of the winning team, was ordered to lead the procession to the Odd Fellows hall where a "real feed" was awaiting all.

The banquet hall presented a beautiful sight with red and white streamers adorning the loaded festal board. After Miss Pearl Halliday, captain of the losing side, had escorted her rival to the gaily decorated banquet hall at the head of the banquet and invited guests busied themselves amongst the fried chicken, salads, buns, olives, pickles, peaches and cream, coffee and cake. It was a grand treat and the winners were so overcome by the array of "good things" that their obligations to the losers were all forgotten.

The success of the entertainment features was due to the social and program committee consisting of Miss Hazel Mulkey and Frank Mulkey, while credit for the sumptuous feast was due to the banquet committee composed of Miss Pearl Halliday, Mrs. Nellie Shea and Mrs. J. O. Johnston. Miss Erma Hope made up a committee of one who secured the hall for the event.

F. S. GWILLIAMS JOINS THE RANKS OF THE BENEFACTORS

Frank S. Gwilliams and his bride, nee Miss Lena Draper, returned on Thursday morning from their honeymoon trip to Salt Lake City and will make their home in this city, having rented the Cole residence formerly occupied by Ernest Rinker and family.

The newlyweds were married on last Saturday in the great Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City and on Wednesday evening in Nampa, the former home of Mr. Gwilliams, they were given a banquet by his many friends at the home of his mother, who, by the way, witnessed the ceremony performed in the Temple.

The bride and the groom are well known as two of Vale's most popular young people and their many friends join with the Enterprise in wishing a most happy journey and the greatest of success through life.

Mr. Gwilliams is the efficient manager of the Vale Flour & Feed store.

At the first Christian church on next Sunday Rev. Cook will preach at 11 o'clock in the morning on "The Gospel of St. Matthew," and at 3 o'clock in the evening on "The World by the Doors off." The choir will render one of the Brook's beautiful gospel songs, "Only a Ray of Sunshine Fair." In the evening Miss Cook will sing a solo.

SATURDAY, OCT. 19 LEGAL HOLIDAY FOR CLEAN-UP OF TOWN

Vale's city council should take action at once for the securing of the co-operation of the people of the city in the observance of the "Fire Prevention Day," October 19, which has been made a legal holiday by Governor West. Throughout the state towns and cities are falling into line and will observe that day. Commercial clubs and city councils are doing all within their power to get the co-operation of their towns and thus aid in preventing fires.

The weeds that crowd the sidewalks and are allowed to dry up in the streets and yards, the dead leaves and trash allowed to blow into nooks and corners, should all be raked up. All of the yards should be cleaned up and all the debris removed so that there will be no danger from fires.

Governor West has appointed next Saturday as a holiday for a general clean-up of streets, yards, etc., in all towns of the state, now let the city council issue a special order making it necessary on next Saturday for every property owner and renter to burn up all of the rubbish in their yards and in the streets fronting their property. Go one step further and fine all those who will not obey the order. Vale should be the cleanest town in the state after this "Fire Prevention Day."

BOSTON RED SOX LEAD FOR THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Boston, Oct. 11. (Special to the Enterprise) — The Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Giants today in the best game of the series by the score of 3 to 1. This gives two games to Boston and one to New York. The first team winning four games will be awarded the world's championship.

The Boston Americans overcame the New York Nationals by 4 to 3 on Tuesday before more than 35,000 people in first game of series for world baseball championship.

Wednesday's big game resulted in a tie of 6 to 6 in the 11th inning and the game had to be stopped on account of darkness.

On Thursday New York defeated Boston by the score of 2 to 1.

RED BUTTE RANCHERS ARE "TAKEN IN"

Going into the Red Butte country they made themselves known to the ranchers of that section, and at Ed Palmers they not only secured gasoline, provisions from his store but they were housed in Frank Palmer's old cabin and given all the comforts possible.

Lester began to hire bucaroos of that section, promising them $6 a day, for the purpose of rounding up large numbers of horses. Some were bought from Ed Palmer, and Hugh Shaver, who were either given a check or promises from the smooth "Wallingford, the Second." As soon as a number of horses were secured they were rushed to Ontario to Vale and sold at any old price, and in the majority of cases at less than half of the original price. The money was pocketed and the gang then went on a tear. Broke they would return to their Red Butte headquarters and start their operations over again, and this continued until the latter part of last week, when Ed Palmer, who held about $750 worth of checks, and who was out provisions, etc., became suspicious and under pretense of wanting to buy a horse the gang had in Ontario, got them in the toils of the law. It is understood that Shaver got as much as $30 for a bunch of horses which were sold for about $6. The Red Butte bucaroos were never paid and are still longing for their $6 per day.

When Lester was brought to the bank to face his checks, he became indignant upon learning that he had no money deposited to his account. He could not understand it and again promises were made to Palmer that a large trust company was backing him in his enterprise and that upon the first shipment of horses he would be advanced all the money he wanted. When turned over to the officials, Lester became still more indignant. However, little could be learned as the other members of the gang would not "peach" on their leader.

Lester waived his preliminary hearing and was placed under $1500 bond. He would have his bond the next morning, but he is still in jail and the gang has since split up and is fighting over the ownership of a few horses. It is understood that Lester and his gang did the ranchers of Red Butte to the tune of $1500.

CLEAN-UP IS ORDER OF THE CITY COUNCIL

yards. There must be waste cans placed where they can regularly be hauled away. The council decided that this order must be obeyed and there will be no more favors granted.

The council also decided to clean up all of the streets and today the work started on Main street from the depot to the Riverside Park. When this is completed other streets will be taken up, and this order of affairs is to be kept up daily by the street commissioner, who has been taken off police patrol duty so that he can devote all of his time to street cleaning and also to see that property owners obey the city ordinance.

The health committee, consisting of Marshal Dolan, Councilmen Edwards, Harvey and Chester, Dr. Williams and Dr. Sears, has also been pressed into service and will condemn all places that have been a nuisance to the health of the community. A strict guard will be placed on houses which have been quarantined, and they also have full power to order the clean-up to be carried out at once.

Several of the worst places were notified yesterday so that the clean-up has already started in earnest.

Judge George E. Davis and Judge J. W. Corson went to Boise Thursday. Bill Wells went to Boise Thursday to see the big fair.

A consignment of material for use on the Coos Bay Railroad arrived last night from Portland and will be shipped to Yaquna from which point it will be taken by boat to Coos Bay. The consignment included a large shovel, two carloads of rails, and three carloads of sam cars. It is consigned to Porter Brothers who have charge of the greater portion of the Southern Pacific work in this section of Oregon.—Albany Herald.

CONTRACT IS CLOSED PAPERS ARE SIGNED

the Bully Creek irrigation project, they returned to headquarters to rush outfits to this city and also to close contracts for supplies and material to be needed in the building of the large Lamberson reservoir.

"One of the largest outfits which has just completed a large contract at Montrose, Colorado, is now on the way to Vale and will be here early next week. Our company would have been on the ground as predicted in the last issue of the Enterprise," said Mr. Johnson, "but for the fact that the outfit that we were holding for the Bully Creek work was sent recently to Klamath Falls where we are working on a government project. That project is a large one and we had to send all our forces on hand there in order to finish in the specified time."

Mr. Johnson further added that the outfit from Montrose, Colorado, was loaded on the cars Sunday and that it would reach Vale in a week or ten days. The Lamberson dam near Westfall is to be the scene of the first operations and the work will be carried on throughout the winter.

FRIGHT CAUSES DEATH OF MRS. WESLEY GAMBLE

The family, of which Wesley Gamble is the head, moved Monday from Vale to the island near Nyssa. Mrs. Gamble and her three children, together with most of their household effects, had crossed the ferry in the late afternoon and were inside their new home on the island when the husband and father started back across the ferry on a second trip over the river. Nothing would have happened had it not been for the high wind, constantly increasing in violence.

As the ferryboat was making its second trip, after conveying Mrs. Gamble and the children across in safety, the force of the wind against the boat snapped the cable on which the craft depended and the ferryboat started to drift aimlessly and beyond control down stream. The men on the boat were not excited, and in but little danger, but the Gamble boy, who saw the mishap from the bank of the island, fearing for his father's safety and hearing the loud voices of the men aboard, ran rapidly to the house and in an excited manner informed his mother of what was transpiring down on the windswept river.

The mother was in a very delicate condition and fearing that her husband might be drowned, became so frightened that it brought about the birth of her infant child and within 24 hours thereafter caused her own death. The men on the ferryboat landed safely when the craft grounded just below the railroad bridge.

INTERIOR GIVES ATTORNEY BROOKE ROYAL WELCOME

From a report which was bought to this city yesterday it is learned that W. H. Brooke and party are being royally received by the people of the Interior. Every voter of that part of this district is going to give Attorney Brooke his support at the coming election and they are scattering around that Hon. W. H. Brooke is to be the next District Attorney.

The report further states that the people of Harney and Grant counties are anxious to show their appreciation of the work accomplished by Mr. Brooke while he served them in the State legislature. It will be recalled that he secured them state aid for their new experiment farm which has already proven to be one of the greatest factors for the development of that section and also the greatest aid to the many new settlers.

They realize that Hon. W. H. Brooke is a person of great qualities, an attorney of vast experience, and that he would make an ideal and able prosecutor—the only candidate on the various tickets qualified to fill that most important office.

HEAVY TRAFFIC IS PREDICTED

That there will be 100 trains a day running into Eugene on all lines one year from the present date, was the prediction made by Robert E. Strahorn, president of the P. E. & E. railway at the Commercial club monthly dinner, at which he was the guest of honor last Friday, says the Eugene Guard. Pres. Strahorn is a Harriman official and in making the statement considered the traffic of the new Oregon Eastern from Vale.

BARREN VALLEY GRAIN CROP

"The Venator ranch has just harvested a great crop" said Mr. Young. "The wheat went 50 bushels to the acre, oats 60 bushels, barley 56, and rye 26 1/2 bushels. The land on which these crops were grown is sub-irrigated and is a rich producer. On the Ross McHargue ranch the rye crop was record breaker, having averaged 50 bushels to the acre. The wheat was 50 per acre. On the vast Venator holdings the rye crop is volunteered and will not have to be sown for next year's crop."

Mr. Young reports that Venator outfit will begin threshing about 10,000 bushels of grain in Anderson valley next week, the Hoffman machine having been destroyed by fire recently while working on the Miller & Lutz ranch.

"That vast section of arid sage brush land is undergoing the most wonderful transformation," said Mr. Young when interviewed by an Enterprise representative. "The development there is just as truly wonderful as it has been in this city during the past eighteen months. Many new people have settled on homesteads and many more are coming in every week. Since my last visit to this city, eighteen months ago, see a large number of new buildings have been erected in Vale, vast rail road work has been done, the place is entirely different and I hardly recognized the town. And the development of the interior country has been just as rapid during that period."

"The Barren Valley is one of the greatest of new sections in the Northwest, it is the largest unoccupied territory in Malheur county, and offers the greatest opportunities to the homeseekers. Thousands of acres are awaiting the new settlers. Contrary to the general opinion it is not wholly a vast dry farming section as I know of between 50,000 or 75,000 acres that can be irrigated as there are several great reservoir sites in that section."

"The valley proper is 30 miles long and averages 10 miles in width. The Pute lake, which dries up every summer, could be reclaimed by the storing of the flood waters of the small creeks that feed it in the Spring. The bed of the lake could be made to grow wonderful crops. It is also rumored that the Crowley dam may be raised 15 feet higher soon and that some of the nearby ranches may be provided with water."

Mr. Young went on to report that the railroad had reached Little Valley, 20 miles west of this city, and that grading of the roadbed was being pushed along with all possible haste as far as Riverside. He states that a wagon road is now being built from Barren Valley to Riverside and that the ranchers of that country will make Riverside their railroad trading point as soon as the steel is laid to the proposed townsite. This will save the settlers of Barren Valley a 50-mile haul.
