SHOW SCENES LIKE MIRAGES AT BUNGALOW

Antics by the moving picture machine at the Bungalow theatre Sunday evening attracted the attention of more than one person in the interested audience, but few who were there fully understood just what was the matter when ever and anon a picture would show itself in an inverted position on the animated screen.

It appears that C. C. Hull, one of the local show, felt indisposed that day and asked his good friend Johnnie Kennedy, to manipulate the machine for him. Ever ready to accommodate a friend, — and, incidentally, the show-going public—Kennedy readily responded, assumed the role of manipulator and; well, the inverted pictures resulted.

While there could be no doubt about the position of the pictures which afforded added amusement to the recreative audience, yet its cause remained a mystery until the genial George Mills, who sells real estate, revealed the fact of Kennedy's presence behind the screen.

Ben Brown, deputy sheriff, whose family has been besieged with sickness, and who was himself taken ill several days prior to election day, is reported as convalescing nicely.

GOULD SYSTEM MAY TAKE HAND

It is asserted that plans of the Gould interests for extending their lines in the West have become known to the Harriman crowd, and that they seek now to "cut them off at the pockets" so as to embarrass them as much as possible.

Surveys for the extension of the Western Pacific from points in Western Nevada to Portland, to Pocatello, Idaho, and to Los Angeles have been partially completed. The proposed route to Portland has been definitely determined on, say Gould line officials. The survey has been made as far north as Lakeview.

Another plan to counteract the latest Harriman move is for the Western Pacific to enter into an alliance with the Hill interests for extending the Oregon Trunk to a connection with the Western Pacific. Preliminary surveys for building the Oregon Trunk into San Francisco have been made.
