If you want to contribute directly to the occurence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germe of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough itemsedy is used it has a world wide reputation for its curse. It contains its nourphine of other predative.
