RIGBYISMS

Appearances indicate that Ontario has at last secured a competent newspaper man. The Argus presents the appearance of a newspaper and the contents are in line with good newspaper work. Will the people of Ontario support it?

Well! Well! The spending of money to convict one or two or three women of some crime of which they were not guilty, went merrily on the past week. The evidence of every witness from the Hon. Mayor down showed the ill repute of the Ontario hotel. Did they indict the principals who furnish the house for a criminal purpose at so much per month? They did not. They selected inmates whom they failed to convict on technicalities. Its a mad world, mates.

"Will you step into my house?"
 Said the spider to the fly
 "Its the cutest little hotel
 That ever you did spy.
 In every room are voters
 Who'll be but idle floaters
 When election passes by."

It would seem, that after having put the county to a large expense to prove what every one in Ontario knew about that alleged hotel, and what the Enterprise said some months ago, that the county prosecuting attorney should recover enough of the bridge bond to make the account partially square. Or was that $500 a permanent investment?

Evidence brought out at the trial showed that there are a number of saloons in Ontario serving minors. That's what the minors said, anyway.

Are political exigencies about to saddle an incompetent on the county at a $1500 salary for being called a farming demonstrator. If the name is changed to "Human Agriculturalist" the salary would be all right and the name apropos.

If Malheur county wants water they will have to tell the authorities about it. If they do not want it, why worry?

Now what do you think of this: Gallagher, of Juntura, (and the only Julian Hurley) attorney for the defendant, Rigby and 11 Ontario men on the jury. Wonders never cease—they agreed. The defendant was acquitted in spite of his attorneys. Will those 11 Ontario men ever be excused by their citizens for agreeing? Will Rigby ever be accused for agreeing?
