BRIEF WAR NEWS

Italy has completed the fourth week of her belligerent activity, without success that can be received enthusiastically at home.

Reports of the fighting on the western front, as given out in Berlin and Paris, differ in important particulars, particularly with reference to the sanguinary fighting that still continues north of Arras. According to the German war office, new attacks by the French and British on the western front have resulted in defeats for them. Attempted advances in the Artois region in northwestern France near the Belgian border and in the Argonne have been repulsed.

The allied forces report gains at various points. The French have at last completely surrounded and carried by assault the Fond de Buval, a narrow ravine east of the Lorette hills. This position has been defended with desperation by the Germans since May 9 and when it was finally taken by the French only a few of the defenders remained.

The Austro-German forces are not only nearer Lemberg, Galicia, but say they have driven the Russians farther across the frontier of Poland in the vicinity of Tarnograd, as well as penetrating farther into Bessarabia.

From the Gallipoli peninsula comes the information that the British and French allies are in possession of only about 10 square miles of the southern end of the peninsula. The Turks are well fortified and are not only offering a stubborn resistance to any further advance, but are carrying out determined night attacks with the bayonet.

A jitney bus has been put on between Baker and Sumpter, to accommodate visitors to the Baker Chautauqua.

VITAL PROBLEM OF FARMING

There is no escaping the market problem and the highest development of agriculture will not be attained until it is solved, for a market is as necessary for the producer as land on which to grow his crop.

Governmental and educational institutions have spent $180,000,000 in the United States during the past ten years for improving soil production and improving seeds and plants, but very little attention and less money has been given to the marketing side of agriculture.

The problem is a monumental one and one which will never be solved until it gets within the grasp of a gigantic organization where master minds can concentrate the combined experience and wisdom of the age upon it. It is a problem which the farmers, merchants, bankers, editors and statesmen must unite in solving.

The Farmers' Union stands for all there is in farming from the most scientific methods of seed selection to the most systematic and profitable plans of marketing, but does not believe in promoting one to the neglect of the other. We consider the work of farm demonstrators valuable and we ask that governmental and commercial agencies seeking to help us, continue to give us their assistance and advice, but we believe that their influence should be extended to the marketing side of our farm problems also.

We cannot hope to develop manufacturing by over-production of the factory; we cannot build up mercantile enterprises by the merchants loading their shelves with surplus goods and no more can we develop agriculture by glutting the market with a surplus of products.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

I--Introductory

Through the Press Service of Agriculture and Commerce, the master minds of this nation will be invited to the public forum and asked to deliver a message to civilization. Men who achieve seldom talk, and men who talk seldom achieve. There is no such thing as a noisy thinker, and brevity is always a close companion to truth.

It will be a great privilege to stand by the side of men who can roll in place the cornerstones of industry; to associate with men who can look at the world and see to the bottom of it; to commune with men who can hear the roar of civilization a few centuries away.

Too often we listen to the rabble against every man who achieves, "Crucify him." Mankind never has a generation that appreciates the genius of its day. There never will be a crown without a cross, progress without sacrifice or an achievement without a challenge.

This is an age of service, and that man is greatest who serves the largest number. The present generation has done more to improve the condition of mankind than any civilization since human motives began their upward flight. The Greeks gave human life inspiration, but while her orators were speaking with the tongues of angels, her farmers were plowing with forked sticks, while her philosophers were emancipating human thought from bondage, her traffic

End Your Hosiery Troubles

Perhaps you feel that buying hosiery is pretty much of a gamble. Sometimes the stockings wear well and sometimes they don't. That's the situation you accept when you purchase brands that bear no assurance of service and quality.

Our guarantee is satisfaction—if you buy hosiery here that doesn't wear as you think it should, bring it back and we will make it good.

Take the Black Cat line which you will find here as an example. Stockings stamped with this name will give twice the wear that you will get from most kinds of the same and were higher priced. And what's more they always look well; they keep their shape and retain the original beauty of texture.

Your hosiery troubles will be over if you purchase here—we'll guarantee that.
