VALE AND HER NEIGHBORS

One fact at least was made clear at the train service hearing and that was Vale's requests for an adequate service was not based upon any desire to injure the service of any other community. In the presentation of her case Vale insisted that they wished no change that would work to the disadvantage of any of her neighbors. In the evidence given by the other communities no witness testified but that he hoped Vale could secure what was her due. That is the only way for Malheur county to prosper. The new schedule in as much as it greatly satisfies the other communities is an indirect benefit to Vale for she desires that it be as convenient as possible for the county trade to reach her. On the other hand it is the duty of the railroad to provide better service for the Vale people to visit the other points in the county and return. The case is one of general interest and all should and did work for a better and more accommodating train service to and from and between all points in Malheur county and the interior.

During the hearing held by the Oregon Public Service Commission in Vale this week, Chairman Miller explained that in the examining of witnesses and the securing of evidence the commission followed no set procedure, was not tied by any rules of evidence, that it would accept any information for what it was worth as evidence, that any interested party could ask questions and volunteer information, that the commissioners were free to obtain information in a manner they saw fit; that the practice of holding the hearings in the locality to be effected by their decision, by greatly assisting them in learning of many details and in understanding the local coloring and setting, enabled them to get at the true basis of their case. Imagine a court where the judge does the questioning, where a spectator can examine a witness where the court comes to the scene of the controversy, where the parties at litigation are not at the mercy of the edicts of Blackstone, nor must depend upon the knowledge and intelligence of their attorneys; but a court of facts, a tribunal that goes after the facts and gets them. In support of this method let it be said that in the ten or more years since the commission has been organized they have never made a decision that has been reversed by either the state or federal courts nor by the interstate commerce commission.

LEAVING A BAD TASTE

At the close of the Public Service Commission hearing held in Vale this week the O. S. L. attorneys, after conducting their case in a very formally gentlemanly manner told the commission that under no circumstances would they give any added service to Vale regardless of how satisfactorily a schedule might be worked out, and threatened that should the commission decide that Vale was entitled to additional service they would not give it, but would carry the case to the supreme court of the nation. We are glad to feel the confidence in the commission to know that they will not be influenced by any such ridiculous challenge. The day is not far off when certain sure development will make Vale of such importance that the O. S. L. will hold a different opinion. That day may also bring railroad competition. The other parties will do the soliciting after that.

A STANDARD TO LIVE UP TO

Every time we order new paper stock we pray that it has only advanced a little since the last order. We can get no prices but must take the market for it. Paper stock has raised from 125 to 250 per cent the past year and is still raising. Many papers have reduced in size, others have increased their subscription rates, others have limited their circulation and many have been forced to stop publication. The Enterprise has done none of these things, but is constantly striving to build its circulation list even larger than it is. It is only by the loyal support of our subscribers and advertisers, for which we wish to thank you, that we are able to maintain the established rates and at the same time strive to improve the news service and to increase the circulation. By offering the best news service to its readers we are enabled to offer the best circulation to advertisers.

Fifty-one mills in Oregon cut 1,381,634,000 feet of timber during 1916, and 18 mills in Idaho cut 589,720,000 feet. Throughout the nation 704 mills cut 14,488,397,000 feet. This is an increase over 1915 for Oregon and Idaho of over 14 per cent and for the nation of 11.2 per cent. The amount cut in the United States last year was enough to build a 10 foot wide walk around the world.

The city election is next Tuesday. Let every voter in Vale go to the polls and exercise the right which our forefathers won for the world by determined struggle and much bloodshed.

The Ontario Minstrels brought to Vale by the Vale Concert Band are herewith voted the Grand Prize for the best company of Entertainers and the jolliest bunch of good fellows in Eastern Oregon.

Read the road law printed in full in this issue of the Enterprise. It looks like a good law and as if Southeastern Oregon had secured a square deal for once.

We were told this week that our "Idiot-orial" last week on spring should have been written this week.

Father, Brother, Uncle, Husband, all of you hereditary voters don't take any chances next Tuesday and fail to vote But Remember Umatilla.

A few more days like these last few and an editorial on spring, and birds and blossoms will actually be in season.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

ROAD CODE EXPLAINED

Sun Rise Valley experienced quite an eventful day February 22nd when Mr. and Mrs. Winans gave district 76 a large flag.

Mr. Winans gave a very nice little talk then presented the flag to Mrs. C. L. Pollock who thanked them for it in behalf of the district.

Mrs. Carl Edgar and Dorothy Gardner read selections suitable for the occasion.

Mrs. Winans gave this talk which shall be remembered for a long time by all who heard it.

"I am glad that the flag has been accepted in the same spirit it was given."

"It affords me pleasure to give the pupils of this school 'A Something' which shall both interest and benefit them."

"I think a flag should have a place in every home and every child taught Loyalty to the Flag."

"In the past few years I have been grieved to see our Flag losing its meaning. This has been attributed to the lack of teaching Patriotism in the home and schools. People are waking up to this fact."

"Only recently the people of Illinois have set aside a week to meet together throughout the state and sing the patriotic songs, 'America,' 'The Battle Cry of Freedom,' 'We Will Rally 'round the Flag, Boys,' and 'When Johnnie Comes Marching Home Again,' with many others for the purpose of reviving Patriotism."

"While I heartily endorse the movement I am pained that it has to be resorted to in order to bring about an awakening of the sleeping patriotism of this nation. Shame on a nation that allows her Patriotism to fall asleep."

"My motive (and only one) in giving this flag to the pupils of this school, is to awaken a deeper love in their hearts for our Country's Flag."

"I hope by their daily association with the Red, White and Blue that their hearts may be so filled with love and respect for their country that the Dear Old Flag will hold for them the same sacred meaning as it held for George Washington and Abraham Lincoln."

School is being held in Mr. W. R. Gardner's home. It is a picture of interest to see eight pupils sitting on benches and chairs around a table and one little girl sitting on a box and using another for her desk. As one pupil expressed it, "Some of our greatest men didn't have everything convenient while they were getting their education."

Certainly, I don't think there are many who have the patience of Mrs. Gardner, she never gets tired doing for the pupils and myself. She is a fighter for education.

Mrs. Bernice M. Acton, and Government without any cost whatever to the counties and are to be well drained and well constructed gravel or crushed rock roads.

When this bill passed the House there was one road designated in this district which was from an intersection with the Columbia River Highway in Gilliam county, by way of Foster, Condon and thence up the John Day Valley and down Willow Creek to Vale and Ontario. At my request the bill was amended in the Senate to provide for another post road from Bend across Harney county by way of Burns and Harney and down to Vale to connect with the John Day Highway and the bill passed both Houses with this amendment. The bill also provides for a forest road in Grant county connecting the post road from the Columbia River Highway up the John Day Valley with the post road from The Dalles to Bend. The tax on automobiles was doubled and the fund arising therefrom, together with the one fourth of a mill heretofore provided for State Highway purposes will raise sufficient money to pay the interest on the bonds and provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at the end of twenty five years. Multnomah county alone pays between forty and fifty per cent of the total automobile tax and as none of the money is to be expended in Multnomah county it seems to me that when we consider that the bill provides that at least six per cent of the post road fund is to be expended in the construction of roads in Eastern Oregon that every tax-payer in this district should work to get every vote to the polls and assist in every way possible to secure a Road Code that will be a credit to the State and "put Oregon on the map."

There are many other bills which were passed and which directly effect this section of the State which I will not try to discuss at this time and will say in closing that in connection with my work during the session that next to the legislation which I was instrumental in securing for the benefit of my district that meeting and making friends with the boys from the different parts of the State afforded me the most pleasure. They were on the whole honest and square, working for their respective districts and for the benefit of the State as a whole, and at no time did any member of either House ever break his promise to me regarding his vote on any bill in which I was interested.

Yours very truly,

JULIAN A. HURLEY,

State Senator, Malheur, Harney and Grant counties.
