Farms Change Hands and a New Home Being Built—Visit Sons in Army

RIVERDALE, Ore., Jan. 16—Too much rain to be pleasant. However, farmers have accomplished lots of work this winter and there won't be so much rush work to do when crop time rolls around again.

Charlie Spence and family will arrive from Wellsville, Utah, this week with a car of household goods, stock, etc. Mr. Spence is much pleased with his new home and thinks this the best country on earth. Much land is changing hands.

J. W. Craynor will leave soon for Rawlins, Wyoming, where he will spend some time doing carpenter work. Mr. Craynor is a good carpenter and gets extra good wages in Wyoming.

Mrs. E. E. Record returned from a visit with her two sons, who are stationed at American Lake, Washington, and had a very pleasant time.

The annual meeting of the Malheur District Improvement Company will be held at the annex school house on Wednesday of this week, for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year. The names of the new board will be given next week.

W. J. Jensen returned from a visit to his sons at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington, and enjoyed the trip very much.

Ruben Pearce has just completed a new pump house for Roy Parker. We are always glad to see improvements. John Farnsworth, of Rupert, Idaho, has purchased 17 acres of land in the Annex Addition and expects to move his family here and make his home on the flat. Mr. Farnsworth is highly pleased with this part of the country.

Mr. Berkshire, who moved here from Wheeler county several weeks ago, is making improvements on his house and expects to do a lot of other repair work later.

C. H. Spicer recently purchased the late N. F. Kimball land near the Annex school and will locate on same this week. He expects to build a nice bungalow as soon as the weather will permit.

Few of our readers realize that the Oregon hen in the production of eggs brings nearly twice the dollars than do our wheat growers. Eggs are credited with $50,000,000 for 1917 while our wheat brought $27,265,000.
