The Home Lumber And Coal Company

United States Fuel Administrator, H. A. Garfield, on April 5th, issued an urgent appeal to the people of the country to begin at once to lay in their next winter's supply of COAL. Every householder, is earnestly advised and urged to place without delay their orders for coal to cover their needs for the twelve months beginning April 1st. The mines are not prepared and cannot prepare to store coal. Even if they could it would be of little benefit. The coal might as well remain in the mines as be stored at the mouth of the mines.

TOTAL ECLIPSE

Solar Eclipse of June 8, Can be Watch-miles.

Some of the cities and towns that will be within the shadow path are Baker, Oregon; Vale, Oregon; Pocatello, Idaho and Denver Colo.

For those who are within the limits of the shadow path the following will be interesting: At time to escape the planet Jupiter will be near the sun, and can no doubt be seen. It will be located on the cast side of the sun, and almost in the same declination.

Mercury will be to the west and south of the sun. The bright star that will be directly north of Jupiter is Beta Tauri, and Alpha Tauri will be south and west of the sun and between south and west of the sun and between it and Mercury.

Under an appropriation of $3,500 by Congress, the Naval Observatory will undertake observations of the eclipse and will equip a station. It has select-ed as the site of the observing station a point near Baker, Oregon, where a large number of prominent scientists will make observations.

Telescopes, photographic attach-ments, moving pictures, and a wireless station will be used for the observa-

++++++++++++++++ County Superintendent, Fay Clark, nade a five day auto trip last week

The path of the shadow of the moon during the eclipse of the June 8, is conveniently accessible at a number of places in the United States. The duration of totality will range from about two minutes on the Pacific coast to less than a minute on the Floria coast.

This eclipse is a repetition of the one that occurred on May 28, 1900, and which was observed at that time by two parties sent from the Naval Observatory, one being located at Pinchurst, N. C., and the other at Barnesville and Experiment, Ga.

The moon's shadow will strike the earth at sunrise in the Pacific Ocean, almoast directly south of Japan. In its sweep eastward it crosses that ocean and touches the United States just to the south of Seatle, Wash. It then sweeps in a southeasterly direction across lower Washington, upper Oregon and not the Southwest, entering the Atlantic ocean just below Titus-yille, Fla. In general the width of the shadow will be approximately 60 miles.

Some of the cities and towns that will be within the shadow path are Baker, Oregon; CAle, Oregon; Pocatelo, Idaho and Denver Colo.

For those who are within the limits of the shadow path the following will be networking or the shadow path the following will be proventions of the shadow path the following will be interesting. At time the same of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the cities and towns that will be niterating and the color of the color of the color. The color of course of study and the coming eighth grade and final examinations, but also in the Red Cross and various war campaigns which have been put over in the last few weeeks. Most of the schools visited had high average pupils ready for the eighth grade examinations assuring a love grain in On the trip one is constantly surprised to step from the sage brush wastes into well lighted, neatly kept and artistically arranged school rooms which are presided over with the same exactness of the larger institutions in the cities.

Miss Clark visited a short time at Miss Clark visited a short time at each school and gave interesting talks to the students. On the work of the boys and girls of today and its re-lation to the future of our Nation. She also outlined and explained many perplexing school problems.

Ranchers in general in the southern part of the county are optimistic over the coming year's crops. Thousands of acres of alfalfa are in good condition and as yet on the lower ranches water is plentiful. Beginning Wednesday evening and continuing to Friday between McDermitt and Jorday Valley territories was visited by heavy showers. In crossing Battle Mountain on the return from McDermitt the Vale party encountered quite a snow storm and a wind which froze ice on the windshield.

the windshield Throughout the lower part of the county patriotic activities are marked and the people there promise that all calls for aid from the government will receive the same hearty response that the Third Liberty Loan campaign did when they more than doubled their quota. At Jordan Valley a huge flag pole has been erected and each evening a "Reveille" is sounded by a burder the flag is layered. The coarse bugler, the flag is lowered. The ceremony is most impressive.

Jordan Valley schools close Thursday, May 9, and the Superintendent was in attendance at the closing
