ONLY $15,000 BONDS UNSOLD

WARMSPRINGS SURE
Bonds Are Going—Going—Almost Gone—Less Than $15,000 Unsold.
Having less than $15,000 unsold bonds remaining to make up the $350,000 to be raised locally, the Warm Springs project is practically assured, and is guaranteed to the world by the people who hold land under the project and live close to it. G. F. Wildhaber returned Thursday evening from Juntura and reported that up to Friday morning less than $15,000 of the local allotment of the Warm Springs bonds remained unsold. He also stated that the construction work would be closed by the first of next week. The people who have the interests of the county and valley at heart have readily and without question subscribed for their share in financing the greatest single development possibility within the county. Subscriptions have not alone been confined to the land owners under the project but sheep and stock men of the county generally, and ranchers and business men all over the county have joined to assure construction as soon as possible.

BOY IS BITTEN BY MAD ANIMAL

Boy Bitten While Chopping Wood on Ranch Near Vale.
Thursday of this week a mad dog or coyote surprised the young son of Arthur Garrett springing at him with such force as to knock him over and severely snapped him on the right wrist. He was brought to town by I. W. Hope who passed the Garrett place a few minutes after the attack of the animal. From the description given by the boy it was thought that the animal was a coyote also first reported in town was a mad dog.
Soon after the above accident a mad dog crossed the foot bridge from across the river and bit several dogs in the east part of town. Frank Glenn who was with a party of several armed men shot the dog. There is no question but that the animal who bit young Garrett and the dog that was killed in Vale were both mad, but it cannot be definitely determined whether it was one and the same animal or not.
Due to the hot dry weather it is feared that an epidemic of rabies may break out among the coyotes and dogs, and the city and health officials have ordered that all dogs must be muzzled or they will be taken by the city marshal and shot.

CHAUTAUQUA PLANS MADE FOR WEEK OF JUNE 21-26, EXCELLENT PROGRAM IS ASSURED

WORK ORGANIZED
Vale Chautauqua Boosters Make Final Arrangements for Week.
A meeting of the Chautauqua gunners and other public spirited people was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening. Officers elected for the year were: A. C. Mueller, secretary and treasurer. Final arrangements were made for Chautauqua week and committees have been appointed by Chairman Lytle on advertising, ticket sales, grounds, receptions, etc.
Details of the season ticket sales campaign were given over and the committee have a plan underway which will mean a thorough canvass of Vale and the surrounding territory. Everyone who is interested in seeing the Chautauqua a permanent thing in Malheur county should be ready to buy his season ticket when solicited. Only by the sale of these tickets can the local people finance the event. The season ticket admits you to all the numbers at less than fifteen cents a number while single admission will make the cost much higher and will only be a partial benefit to the local backers of the money end of the deal.
Many new ideas were adopted among which was rearrangement of seating, the providing of a rest tent for out of town patrons and the erection of a creche to take care of the babies while the mothers enjoyed the program. This feature will be an added benefit all around and entirely free of any charge. It is planned to have a good cool tent floored and neatly fitted up with a competent trained nurse in charge to take care of the children while the mothers listen to the programs. Last year a good many younger children congregated in the front seats and disturbed both performers and audience by their noisiness. To do away with this the committee have asked that the younger children be seated with or accompanied by an adult during the entertainment hours.
Plan Booster Trip
A booster trip similar to the one of last year will be staged in the next few days. Everyone who has a car is asked to be ready for a call to help. The committee plans to take in a wider range of territory this year on the trip.
The advertising committee is already at work and have put up streamers of Chautauqua pennants in the streets. All streets will be cleaned up, stores will put on holiday attire and the roads to the Chautauqua grounds will be marked with Chautauqua arrows.
The following committees will handle the work:
Grounds, W. F. Sasser, M. R. Morton, R. M. Beach, L. P. Lumpee.
Nursery tent, Mrs. R. E. Weant, committee of one with Mothers' Club.
British tent and get attendant, A. C. Means has offered the committee the use of Malheur Livestock & Land Co.'s tents for this purpose.
Advertising, C. M. Robinson, George Huntington Curry, Arthur Moody.
Tickets, J. P. Dunaway, A. E. McGilivray, Leo Schmidt, C. C. Mueller.
Reception, Mary Glenn, Fay Clark, H. C. Eastham, I. W. Hope, F. J. Brown.
Concessions, J. P. Houston, G. W. McKnight, A. W. Reed and B. R. Kester.
Booster Parade, P. J. Freeman, C. C. Burrow, and C. M. Crandall.

BUSINESS MEN'S LUNCH POPULAR

Nearly Fifty Men Meet at Weekly Lunch—Mr. Means next Chairman
Last Tuesday the weekly business men's luncheon at the Drexel grill proved even more popular than the one the week previous. Chairman C. C. Mueller called the men to the table a few minutes after twelve and assisted by the very efficient service provided by the management and waiters of the Drexel, the lunch was promptly served, and the participants adjourned on the dot at one o'clock.
A number of visitors from Ontario drove to Vale for the occasion, among whom were, P. J. Gallagher, W. H. Brooks, George A. Aiken and M. H. Douglas.
All of the guests spoke and praised the people of Vale for their splendid cooperative spirit and complimented them upon their ability to do things, all of which was highly approved, judging from the applause. T. W. Claggett of Ontario also was present and after giving a general crop survey in a few additional remarks spoke very pointedly about the condition of the streets in Vale and urged that especially the main roads leading into town be put in a possible condition. This also seemed to strike a general response of approval.
Robt. D. Lytle spoke of the coming Chautauqua. Frank Sasser told of a plan to revive some of the club features of the Chamber of Commerce. P. J. Dunaway reported the successful sale of Warm Springs bonds continuing. Dr. Frank J. Brown told of his plans for a town clean up period next Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Dr. Thos. W. Thurston, superintendent of the Vale Hot Springs Sanatorium, was called upon to tell about the splendid progress he is making in the development of that institution, and numerous other matters were discussed. Chairman C. C. Mueller said that plans were underway to provide a free auto camp ground for tourists, and after appointing Arthur G. Means as chairman in charge of next Tuesday's lunch, adjourned the meeting exactly at one o'clock.

168 PERCENT TO RED CROSS

CHAPTER 168 PERCENT
Vale Chapter Donates Big Over Subscription To Red Cross.
Malheur county is well over the top in the second War Fund Red Cross campaign. It is understood that the Ontario chapter, which put the 100 percent column but no figures are available at this time.
The Vale chapter has exceeded its quota by 68 percent and every district has more than measured up to its quota. Special mention is deserved by the McDermitt district where chairman Mrs. Bankofier raised $420.20. This is the first time McDermitt has reported as a separate precinct in any of the Oregon campaigns and their help is certainly to be appreciated. It is proper spirit that communities boarding the state line should contribute to the state and county in which their people live, and not let one state get all the benefit.
The campaign has been conducted along the plan of dividing the chapter territory into as many districts as possible in order that every section will receive individual credit for their own donations.
Chairman H. C. Eastham is to be congratulated on the successful manner in which he has directed the campaign, and especially in the high percentage of cash donations received. He wishes personally and in behalf of the chapter to thank the district chairman and their committees as well as the Chapter campaign committee for their faithful labors and constant cooperation. He also wishes to express his appreciation of the unqualified support given the Second War Fund by the people in every district within the chapter jurisdiction.

GIVES GOOD REPORT

Ontario Red Cross Secretary Speaks to Vale Workers Tuesday.
Mrs. E. M. Greig secretary of the Ontario Red Cross chapter journeyed to Vale in company with Mrs. Wilson of the Ontario chapter Tuesday and addressed the Vale ladies at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Mrs. Greig gave a detailed report of her trip to Seattle last month when she represented the Ontario chapter at the big county convention of Red Cross workers.
The folding and cutting of garments were two of the topics upon which the speaker gave detailed accounts for it is this work that the Vale chapter does the most of. It is but a matter of time according to opinion at the convention, when all garments will be cut and sent to the chapters for sewing up. A lesson was given in the folding and packing of garments. There are two women at Seattle, stated Mrs. Greig, "who do nothing but take out pins and fold garments shipped. If each chapter will teach workers the correct folding no packing at headquarters will be necessary." The main idea of the convention according to the secretary's report was the idea of service. Red Cross work is a privilege and not a sacrifice to those who enter it with the Red Cross spirit. Efficiency in the work rooms was another phase of work taken up. Each chapter is asked to get out the allotment called for each month before they undertake any special allotments.
A few general changes in work were noted and reported by Mrs. Greig many of these changes effect her cutting and making of hospital torments and supplies. A growing interest in the Junior department was noted and the speaker reported that his work will reach great proportions he coming year.
A good crowd of ladies attended the meeting and were greatly pleased to hear the reports of the convention. The speakers were invited to return often as the exchange of reports from chapter to chapter is most beneficial to workers who are trying to do their very best for the cause.

HEAR OF ECLIPSE

Professor of Astronomy Gives Lecture on "Eclipse" at Library Rooms.
Before an interested audience which filled all available chairs at the library rooms Thursday evening Professor A. M. Mattson of Albany college one of the astronomers who will give the eclipse in this section Saturday, lectured on "Eclipses." The Professor began by explaining what an eclipse was, the varieties and time of occurrence. He explained in detail lunar and solar eclipses, partial, annular and total. He explained the orbits of the earth and moon, the inclination of the orbits and why this effected the direction of the solar eclipse and gave it a slanting path south eastward across the continent.
Vale is about five miles out of the path of totality according to the maps and will get eclipse ends at 5:00 p. m. about fifteen or twenty miles north and a little east of the city. The use of a piece of smoked glass to view the eclipse was advised. The Professor stated that the shadow would appear in the sky very rapidly and darkness would come quickly. All the brighter stars in the heavens will be visible and the planets will be at their best for study. He advised that all look for the planet Mercury which will be visible but as this time will shine quite brightly about 12 degrees north of the sun and down toward the horizon. Also look for the Prominences which appear as the moon gets almost the same of the sun's brilliant scarlet flames of explosive gases and are beautiful to the naked eye.
After the lecture the speaker answered many questions regarding local conditions and places for the viewing of the eclipse. His large maps were also at the disposal of the audience.

Bean whose cooperation and work made the evening possible. The Professor came entirely without compensation and was glad to spend the evening with the people of Vale upon the subject with which he is so thoroughly familiar.
The time of the eclipse in this section is: Eclipse begins at 5:08, totality at 5:27, totality ends at 5:58 and the partial eclipse ends at 6:17. Professor Mattson passed through Baker Wednesday and inspected the apparatus of the scientists who will view the eclipse there, they are prepared to take thousands of photographs of the Sun's corona.
