THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD. THE MEAT COURSE. BRAISED BEEF OR POT ROAST.—Brown the meat on all surfaces, place in closely covered kettle or other receptacle with small quantity of water and favoring vegetables, such as onion, carrot, etc., and cook until tender. Browning the meat helps to keep in the juices. The slow cooking in water and steam makes for tenderness. Casserole Roast.—A casserole may be improvised by using a heavy earthenware dish covered with a plate. Brown round or rump of beef in fat from a slice of fried pork. Place in casserole with chopped carrot, turnip, onion, celery, etc., around it. Add two cups of water or stock, cover and cook in hot oven three hours, basting occasionally. Meat Pie.—Meat pies are made most satisfactorily by first cooking the meat and vegetables as for a stew. Line a pan, earthenware dish or casserole with biscuit dough rolled fairly thin. Put in the meat, vegetables and gravy, cover with dough and bake in a hot oven. Meat Turnovers.—Place any chopped cooked meat available in circles of biscuit dough about the size of a saucer. Fold the dough over the meat, crimp the edges and bake in a hot oven. Vegetables may be combined with the meat filling as desired, and the whole may be served with gravy. Veal or Beef Birds.—Cut very thin meat into roughly rectangular pieces of a sufficient size for individual servings. Place on each a stuffing of bread-crumbs, seasoned with chopped onions and other favoring vegetables and herbs. Fold or roll up the meat and skewer in place with toothpicks. Brown the rolls in fat, remove and make gravy from the fat, flour and stock if available. Place the rolls in the gravy and cook slowly until tender in a covered baking dish, a steamer or a fireless cooker.
